Y. M. C. A. Meets Thursday.

Because of the Glee Club concert which is scheduled for Friday evening, the Men's Meeting this week will be held at seven o'clock on Thursday evening in Deady Hall. Prof. De Cou will address the meeting on a subject of particular interest to University students.

Plans are all made for a semi-musical and social occasion for the meeting a week from Friday evening. An excellent musical program has been arranged which will be followed by a social hour. Light refreshments will be served. The place where this affair will be held will be announced Saturday.

Co-ed Debaters to Make Good.

Now that the co-eds have been allowed to debate, the Eutaxian Society is hard at work endeavoring to stir up interest among the women of the University. At the meeting tonight, every member is expected to be present and sign up for the tryouts.

Since the novelty has worn off, many say that interest has abated and it is to refute this charge that a rousing meeting is planned for tonight. The members feel that women's debating as well as the society is on trial, to meet which they will put forth their best efforts.

Dr. Carson Becomes President

Dr. Luella Carson, former Dean of Women and head of the English Department at the University of Oregon, and new President of Mills College, California, will be formally installed in her new position on Saturday afternoon, December 11th.

The event will be prominent in San Francisco and Oakland society, Mills College being a great favorite with the Bay Cities. Formal invitations have been sent out and elaborate preparations are being made to welcome the guests.

The Harvard Lampoon is constructing a building which will be devoted entirely to its own interests. This is the first time a humorous college paper has ever attempted any such proposition.

Grinnell College has received a gift of $1,000, the income of which is to be used for debating.

Pennsylvania has the largest number of alien students of any college in America.

The registration at Columbia shows a total of 5987 students.
