

GEARY MAKES MONEY ON GLEE CLUB TRIP

SUCCESS CROWNS EFFORTS OF CLUB PERFORMERS ON NORTHERN TRIP

Burns Powell and Francis Curtis Were the Star Performers— Fire in Frat Curtain Raiser.

For the first time in the history of the University, the Glee Club has made money for the Associated Students. The Southern Oregon trip that has always failed before, was made a success and the Portland concert has left a balance of about six hundred dollars to the credit of Manager Geary.

From the critic's standpoint, too, the trip was a brilliant success. Beginning with a rousing send off in the return concert in Eugene, the boys took Salem by surprise, singing before a record house, and then found a capacity house waiting for them in Portland.

The metropolis papers were lavish in praise of their work and the audience showed more enthusiasm than has greeted the clubs in all the other cities combined.

Probably the greatest success was Burns Powell with his trombone solo "stunt." Everywhere, he was the favorite of the evening, being encored six times in Portland, Ogden, Geisler, Welch and Vawter also made themselves famous as his "accompanists."

And then Francis Curtiss as Madam Yelba was a "bright and shining" star. It is said that a crowd was waiting for him at the stage door entrance larger than ever gathered to meet comic opera chorus girls, but then Curtiss hasn't been heard from yet, so the report is only a rumor.

"The Fire in a Frat" that caused so much worry on the part of friends of the Club proved its merit beyond the hopes of its most ardent supporters. The action introduced since its first presentation has made a real "curtain raiser" of this burlesque, and Tom Burke and Kenneth Frazier showed their ability as grand opera singers in a way that cannot be questioned. When it is said that the sketch got a curtain call from the Portland audience although it is the last number on the program, there is nothing necessary to add to convince anyone how it took with the college people of the Rose City.

The return concert in Eugene was not the success that the first one was, but this was no surprise considering that it came during examinations and most everyone had heard it before. If anyone went expecting to find a lukewarm crowd or a tiresome repetition of the first performance, however, they were mistaken; for the program had a snap and dash and newness to it that caused everyone to forget that it had been given before.

Manager Geary has not yet returned so his full report cannot be given until next Saturday. He will give a banquet to the members of the clubs on the 27th or 28th of this month.

Miss Smith, of Portland, was a visitor at the Gamma Delta Gamma house during the past week.

ORATORS TRYOUT FOR PLACES NEXT FRIDAY

The preliminary tryout for choosing Oregon's representative in the Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest will be held in Vilard Hall Friday, February 18, at 1:30 p. m. This association is now composed of the Universities of Oregon, Washington and Montana, the latter having taken the place made vacant by Idaho's withdrawal.

The contest will be held in Eugene this year. Oregon will be represented by one of the five who will qualify in the coming tryout, the final tryout being scheduled for the second Friday in March.

Competition for the honor of representing the varsity in this contest is exceptionally keen. B. H. Williams, last year's interstate orator, and H. J. Rounds, who will represent Oregon in the intercollegiate contest this year, are both trying out. Dudley Clarke, who showed great ability in the junior orations last year, has also entered.

The full list of entries is as follows: B. H. Williams, '10; H. J. Rounds, '10; W. C. Nicholas, '10; Dudley Clarke, '10; L. L. Ray, '12; E. O. Smith, '13; C. W. Robison, '10; H. L. Coke, '13; J. B. Lader, '13; Walter Huntington, '12 and Howard Jones.

The judges will be Professor Glen, Professor DeCon, Professor Thurber, Professor Howe, and Coach Buchen.

HAYWARD'S DISTANCE MEN TO MEET O. A. C

Oregon and O. A. C. will meet Tuesday of next week in a four-mile cross country race which will take the place of the five mile relay of last year.

O. A. C. has developed several new men this year and expects to regain her lost honors. Oregon, however, with such men as Riddell, Garrabrandt, McClure, Platts, Schumaker, O'Neill, Henry and Walls to pick from will have a team which promises to uphold the supremacy of last season.

At the same time as the cross country race, a class meet will be held. Oregon is somewhat shy on track material this year, with only five or six of last year's team returning and among them no sprinter, so Trainer Hayward is trying to get an early start.

The javelins have arrived and those who go to the meet will have a chance to see them in action.

Gish, who participated in the game at Seattle under the colors of S. A. A. C. last summer is reported to have entered Washington and will be a big winner for them in the weights, providing he has amateur standing and can participate in the conference meets.

Bertha Cummings entertained in honor of Ruth Balderree Saturday afternoon. Many delightful pastimes, suggestive of St. Valentine were enjoyed. The hostess served delicious refreshments. The girls invited were: Eva Frasier, Ellen Frink, Daryl Belat, Lilah Clark, Maude Beals, Minnie Murphy, Ruth Balderree, Hazel Humphrey, Ethel Barnard, Frances Young, Alice Stoddard, Mae Sage, Nellie McNeil, Vera Anderson, Ethel Johnson, Jessie Calkins and Fay Clark.

BASKET BALL GAMES FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

MANAGER TERRY PLAYS PRELIMINARY WITH ALL CONTESTS

Inter-scholastic Championship May be Decided in High School Game Friday Night.

The Eugene basketball enthusiasts will have a chance to see two first-class games next Friday night in the new Gymnasium. Willamette University will meet the Oregon team and Lincoln High School, of Portland, will clash with the local High School.

Willamette has one of the strongest teams in the state this year, and will give Oregon a hard fight. They were defeated by O. A. C. after a desperate fight, so the result next Friday will give a line on how the two state colleges ought to play.

Manager Terry has adopted a policy of holding preliminary contests between High School teams along with all the conference games. The object being to stimulate interest in the University among the preparatory schools of the state, and to add interest to the contests. Lincoln and Eugene high schools are by far the best preparatory teams in the state and their contest will be a championship affair. The management is under heavy expense in bringing the Portland team to Eugene and 250 paid admissions are necessary. The University of Idaho basketball team will meet the Oregon quintet in two games at Eugene on February 23d and 24th.

At a meeting held last night Harry Stine was elected to captain the team for this season.

CLARENCE GORE DIES AT HOME IN MEDFORD

The death of Clarence Gore, '13, of Medford, announced during examination week, was sad news to the many friends he had made during his short stay at the University.

Through the desire of some newspaper reporter to get a sensational story, the misfortune was attributed to hazing last fall. Friends of the young man at the University and from Medford declare that the statement should not be attributed to him or his parents for they would never have resorted to such means of arousing bitterness over a thing that is a source of the most sincere sympathy. Gore was a splendid man and will always be remembered as such.

Edith Prescott and Clarence Walls, who are looking after the advance sale for the Schuman Heink concert, announce that all of the $2 seats have been sold. There are still some 200 seats at $2.50 and it is expected that the students will make the most of the three days left to look after their reservations.

PRACTICE, NOT THEORY MAKES A JOURNALIST

John C. Carroll, editor of the Evening Telegram, of Portland, spoke in Assembly this morning on newspaper work and the teaching of journalism in college.

Newspaper men in the past, he said, have discredited the college graduate, but they are coming more to favor them as the educational system progresses. For proof of this he pointed to the fact that Joseph Pulitzer, editor of the New York World, the greatest newspaperman in the world, recently donated one million dollars to a school of journalism.

In any case, however, he said one must begin at the bottom and dig. He must have an individuality about him and not base his ideas solely on the opinion of others.

About three men out of one hundred make successful reporters; about three or four men out of one thousand make first class journalists; while only one in 10,000 makes an exceptional leader in the profession.

Mr. Carroll spoke on the advisability of a college giving an extensive course in journalism and said that this depends upon how such a course is conducted. It should be in the hands of practical newspapermen, not theorists. And it should teach by giving practical work in reporting.

OREGON LOSES TWO GAMES--BASKET BALL

In a hard fought game of basketball at the new gymnasium Saturday night, Oregon was defeated by the Washington State College team by the score of 22 to 7. Oregon played a defensive game throughout, owing to lack of practice and poor condition.

The speedy Washington quintet excelled in team work, and it was only by a terrific fight that the varsity team held the difference in score as low as 15 points. Oregon's points were scored by Jamison, Stine, Moore, and Neil. For W. S. C. Englehorn, Lowry and Dalquist were stars. The attendance was good—one hundred and seventy paid admissions.

In a preliminary game the Eugene High School defeated the Varsity second team by the score of 34 to 25. The game was hotly contested and the Eugene team deserved to win. The line up of the big game was:

W. S. C.—Center, Englehorn; right forward, Dalquist; left forward, Lowry; right guard, DeWitt; left guard, Anderson.

Trainer Hayward expressed himself as well satisfied with the showing made by the Oregon team in the game with the strong W. S. C. team, and he announces that the team will be in much better condition when it meets Willamette here, next Friday.

Mabel and Olive Zimmerman are back in college after an absence of one semester. Since September they have been touring the United States with their parents.

REGENTS TO DECIDE NAME OF GYMNASIUM

STUDENTS FAVOR NAMING NEW BUILDING AFTER HAYWARD

Geo. Hug Tells How Trainer Designed the Finest Gymnasium in the West.

Now that the new gymnasium is ready for use, increased attention is being paid to the coming meeting of the Board of Regents who are to pass on the student body petition that it be christened Hayward Gymnasium.

Throughout the University there is probably not a single student who is not in favor of the name. Words cannot convey the enthusiasm they show whenever the subject is mentioned. The opinions of a number of the most prominent and representative students have been taken and are given below.

B. H. WILLIAMS
B. H. Williams, president of the A. S. U. O., says, "By all means name the new building Hayward Gymnasium. It is only just that such an honor should be given to the man who has made the University invincible in track athletics. I know of no other man connected with the University so pre-eminent in his department and at the same time, so popular on the campus. The student body is behind it as a unit."

GEO. W. HUG
Geo. W. Hug, former president of the student body, captain of the track team, and at present a member of the Athletic Council, expressed his opinion as follows:

"Hayward has done more for athletics at Oregon than any other one man. The gymnasium, the building which stands for athletics should be named after him. There is still another reason. This building is the creation largely of Oregon's trainer. He planned it and saw that every detail was perfect and up to date. A thing that is thus the work of one man should be credited to him just as the work of an artist would be."

OLIVER B. HUSTON
Oliver Huston, Oregon's great sprinter, developed by Hayward, and president of the senior class, was enthusiastic over the idea. He said, "Bill has made Oregon what she is in athletics. Since he came here we have never lost a track meet. I am most certainly in favor of it."

CALVIN SWEET
Cal. Sweet was another who strongly favored it. "No man could be more worthy of the honor," he said. "It will be a fitting tribute to the man who made the 'Oregon Spirit' famous."

Chi Omegas Entertain Seniors

The Chi Omega fraternity gave a delightful house party to the senior class last Friday evening.

Dancing furnished entertainment and refreshments of salad and coffee were served by the junior girls in the house.

Helen Higbee of the University of Washington, is at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. She is a member of that fraternity at Washington.
