

ACACIA AND AVAVA NINES PLAY SATURDAY

LAIR GREGORY OFFERS CUP TO BEST BATTER IN DOUGHNUT LEAGUE

Schedule Fixed and Rules Adopted at Meeting of Committee Last Night.

At a committee meeting of the Inter-Club Baseball League held in the Dormitory Tuesday evening lots were drawn by the club managers to determine the opposing teams for the preliminary series, and important details in the rules were discussed and agreed upon. The Acacia and the Avava fraternities, the two new entries in the league, will start the struggle for the much-coveted "Doughnut Cup" on next Saturday morning.

Additional interest will be added to the games this year by the award of an attractive silver cup to the batter making the highest average for the season. To be eligible for this trophy a player must come to bat at least twelve times. The winner this year will have his name engraved upon the cup and will have possession for one year. The cup will become the permanent property of any player winning it three years in succession. The donor is L. H. Gregory.

The question arose whether associate members at the Dormitory should be allowed to play on the team. As the Dormitory Club outnumbered the other clubs in membership it was considered unfair to allow it to recruit players by simply making them associate members. It was finally decided to allow the Dormitory to play any man who is now an associate member, but all who join during the remainder of the year are ineligible. It was also decided that all players must carry at least five hours of work in the University.

Some difficulty was experienced in determining who should be considered members of the varsity team. Rule one of the league regulations states that: "All resident members of a fraternity or club, including players who have made or are trying for the varsity team, are eligible to play in Inter-Fraternity games, provided, that no such player shall play in his regular position so long as he is trying for or playing in such position on the varsity, or during the same season in which he made the varsity. This rule, however, shall not be taken to apply to performances in past seasons, but only during the season of the present." The interpretation fixed upon this rule was that any player who turns out and practices in a position shall be considered as trying for that position, but as soon as the first squad is picked by the coach, all players not in this squad may play in any position on a club team.

By beginning at once and playing two games a week, Wednesday evening and Saturday morning, the committee hopes to be ready for the final game for Junior Week-End. If bad weather or varsity games do not interfere, the games, as decided by lot, will be played on the following dates:

MANY POINT WINNERS MISSED AT W. S. C.

Washington State College, March 15.—W. S. C. track dopsters are busy figuring on the outcome of the approaching season. Many of the old point winners are out of college this year. Putnam graduated last June; Mead, the intercollegiate champion in the discus throw is not in school this year; Johnson, the half-mile man is now on his homestead claim; and Cagle, the pole vaulter and weight man, did not return this semester.

The rest of last year's team will be out for practice as soon as the weather permits. Among the new material is Anderson, of Seattle, in the weights and javelin and Englehorn, of Spokane, in the discus and weights, and Monroe, of Spokane in the pole vault. Manager Jones expects to make arrangements for the team to meet all other conference teams this year.

FIVE DOLLARS FOR BEST TICKET SELLER

MANAGER STEELE WANTS BIG CROWD OUT AT DEBATE

A prize of five dollars to the person selling the most tickets for the coming inter-state debate is part of the plan adopted by Manager Steele to bring out a large crowd in support of the Varsity team.

Encouraged by the unusual interest taken in debating this year and especially at the Oregon-Utah debate last January, Manager Steele is making a strong effort to get 1000 people to attend the coming contest against Idaho. Several students will canvas the downtown business district and it will take a hustler to land the prize. Manager Steele will not make an effort to sell tickets himself, but will leave the field open to the competitors.

The conditions for entering the race are that the contestant must agree to sell at least five tickets. An additional stimulus will be added by offering complimentary tickets to all who dispose of ten or more.

The manager expects this method to be more effective than an equal amount spent on advertising. He also hopes to see the clubs and fraternities support him loyally as in the former debate. At that time, two of the houses, the Sigma Nu and the Beta Theta Pi, bought tickets through their house managers for every member.

Miss Emma Christman, of Portland, Miss Bess Hendricks, of Cascade Locks, and Miss Amanda Bringman, of Portland, are guests at Gamma Delta Gamma this week.

Mr. Sargent's lecture on higher criticism scheduled for last night was postponed on account of inability to secure a room. It will be announced later.

May 14th has been chosen as campus day at the University of Washington. On that day the students will perform the annual task of cleaning up the University grounds.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL FILLS NEED IN CO-ED AFFAIRS

WILL HOLD OPEN MEETING IN VILLARD HALL FRIDAY

Organization Formed to Represent Women of University Proves Usefulness.

At the meeting of the University women next Friday afternoon the constitution just adopted by the Women's Undergraduate Advisory Council will be read and discussed and the purpose of the organization explained. Every woman in the University is expected to come and take part.

The Women's Council was organized at the beginning of the present college year and is intended to be a permanent organization of representative senior women. Its functions are thus stated in Article II of the constitution: "The purpose of this organization is threefold: first, to promote clear, mutual understanding between the faculty and the women of the University; second, to act in conjunction with the Student Affairs Committee, and as a medium through which the sentiment of the women of the student body can be made known to that committee; and third, to act as a place of origin for policies and suggestions which especially concern the women of the University, and as an agent for carrying out such policies and suggestions."

For a long time before the organization of this council, a need was felt for some means of reaching, individually, the women of the student body. The Student Affairs Committee were often handicapped because they were unable to determine the current public opinion of the women of the student body. President Campbell realized this need more clearly than any one else, and conceived the idea of a council of senior girls which should meet it.

At his suggestion, the girls of the senior class met and elected representatives to compose such a council. These representatives organized themselves into a permanent body, "The Women's Undergraduate Advisory Council." This council meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month in Professor DeCou's room. The members are Ruth Hansen, Frances Oberteuffer, Bertha Dorris, Anne Bergman, Caroline Dunston, Essie Sechrist, Pearl Huff, Vera Horner, Pearl Hawthorne, Essie Haley, Ethel Barnard, May Sage, Edith Prescott, Bertha Cummings, Kate Henderson and Hazel Humphrey.

At the regular meetings of the Council questions are brought up and discussed which concern every girl in the University. Some of the more important of these questions will be discussed at the open meeting in Villard Hall at 4 p. m. Friday, March 18th. Every University woman is invited to be present.

Curtis Coleman of last year's baseball team arrived in Eugene yesterday afternoon and was out in a suit today. He will assist Coach Kelly in rounding out the team for about two weeks before joining the Tacoma Northwesters with whom he will play again this year.

STUDENT BODY DANCE EACH MONTH PROPOSED

An attempt is being made by the executive committee to inaugurate a series of informal student body dances, one to be held each month of the school year, the idea being to maintain the old spirit of democracy and friendship, among the Oregon students, which has characterized them in the past.

The committee in charge of the affair petitioned today for the adoption of such a system, the first dance to take place April 30th. Those who attend will be charged just enough to meet the expense of the dances.

This idea was proposed early in the year, but has been allowed to drag. It seems to be gaining friends, however, and will be taken up with energy if the petition is granted by the Student Affairs Committee. The many events that had been scheduled, such as the senior dance, stood in the way for some time.

BIRDIE WISE LEADS CO-ED DEBATING TEAM

ONCE DEBATED AGAINST LEADERS OF MEN'S TEAMS

Coach Buchen has arranged the speakers on the co-ed debating team in the following order: First speaker, Miss Fay Clark; second, Miss Corine Degemark; closer, Miss Birdie Wise.

Miss Wise, who holds the position analogous to captain of an athletic team has probably had more experience in practical debating than any other woman in College. In her senior year at high school she led her team into the final debate of the High School League which is held at the University of Oregon in the spring. In her junior high school year she was first colleague on the team. Rather curiously, this team debated a team from the Eugene High School, of which the leaders of this year's triangular teams were members. Should the men and women debate this year, as has been proposed, it would not be the first encounter for at least three of them.

The co-ed debate will be held in Seattle the first Friday in May. Oregon will uphold the negative of the question, which is the establishment of postal savings banks.

The team will not begin regular work together until after the triangular debates are over, as Coach Buchen will have no time until after then.

TONIGHT'S RECITAL SAID TO BE BEST OF YEAR

What is expected to be the best music recital of the year is scheduled for tonight in Villard hall at eight o'clock, when Miss Lila Prosser will appear before the footlights, assisted by Miss Edith Prescott, contralto.

Miss Prosser is one of the most accomplished artists on the piano in the University and her many friends have been looking forward to this occasion for some time. Miss Prescott has a voice of exceptional quality and will add much to the evening's entertainment.

RACKET WIELDERS GET CEMENT TENNIS COURT

EDITOR OF EMERALD TO BE ELECTED TWICE A YEAR

Associated Students Finish Un- completed Business After Long Session—Other Amendments.

That the Associated Students shall appropriate money and build a cement tennis court; this court to be under direct control of the Athletic Council, was the final action taken in regard to the much discussed tennis question, at the adjourned meeting held at Assembly hour this morning.

The proposition, which was brought up some time ago, was reconsidered and after much discussion was finally amended as above stated.

The amendment regarding the Oregon Emerald which was voted down at the last meeting was also reconsidered. It was amended and passed providing that the editor shall be elected in May to serve one semester—a second election to be held in January to elect the editor-in-chief for the second semester; a manager and an assistant manager to be elected in May to serve one year. The editor and manager shall determine what assistants they need and the same shall be appointed by the Executive committee in conjunction with the editor; these assistants to be chosen as far as possible by competitive tryouts.

Two amendments were read: One, to increase the appropriation to oratory and debate from five to ten per cent, by reducing the football appropriation from twenty to fifteen per cent; the other, to make the president of the Associated Students an ex-officio member of the Athletic Council without having the right to vote.

The Glee Club rendered several numbers before the opening of the student body meeting, the words of the first number having been written by Mrs. Professor Frink.

CENSORSHIP SCENTED IN FACULTY ACTION

EXTRA—At the Junior Class meeting this afternoon, emphatic resolutions were passed against what the members termed censorship, of this year's Oregon by the Faculty.

Some time ago the Faculty appointed a committee to look into the publication of the Junior book, with a view, as they said, of aiding in getting out the best book possible. The committee demanded that all matter pass through their hands before it went to the printer. This is what the Juniors characterize as censorship. The members of the committee are Professor Howe and Professor Thurber.

Ralph Cake, '13, was operated on for appendicitis Saturday in Portland. He is doing well and his fraternity brothers at the Beaver house expect him back in a few weeks.
