

INCREASED INTEREST POINTS TO SUCCESS

TIME APPROACHING FOR PRESENTATION OF SENIOR PLAY

Good Talent and Splendid Features Promised—Will Be Great Society Event.

As the time draws near for the presentation of "Captain Letterblair," the great comedy which the seniors have so carefully prepared, interest in the event is widening and there is every assurance that it will be a great financial as well as a splendid dramatic success. Orders for seats from out of town people, the elite of the town and University society people are aranging for the boxes and a general eagerness is becoming manifest to see how the dignitaries of the upper class will behave before the footlights.

Sundry hints about the incidents of the play are largely responsible for this interest. Aspiring freshmen are anxious to learn just how Dudley Clarke will make love, and incidentally wade through the dilemma of having kissed the wrong woman. Timid seniors are wondering if the sheriff will interfere when, right in the center of dry old Eugene, four of their classmates so far forget their dignified station as to worship at the shrine of Bacchus. And then, will it not be worth while to see Roy Heats Terry get real tipsy, throw a man off the stage and make it generally manifest that his blood is dancing through his veins like wine?

And furthermore, the play will not be lacking in interest to the critical among the audience. The cast is all of a high grade. All but two are members of the dramatic club and have appeared before local audiences in the past. They have practiced faithfully for the last month under the direction of Professor I. M. Glen, who has coached all the senior plays ever produced at the University, and has never had a failure.

Jennie Lilly, as Hyacinth, and Harold Bates, as the Dean, a saucy old maid and a crusty old bachelor, are said to form as delightful an old couple as one would care to see. The final love scene goes off with a snap and vigor which does credit to the long experience of the participants.

Dress rehearsals will take place at the theatre on Thursday and Friday. The stage scenery ordered by Manager Terry which is said to be very beautiful, has arrived and will be in readiness. Owing to the excellence of the play and the untiring efforts of Manager Terry, the debts of the senior class can probably all be paid with the proceeds from the play. As the indications point to a "standing room only" house, those who desire seats had best engage them early.

The law departments of the University of Oregon and the University of Washington will meet in debate on May 13, the same date as the co-ed debate.

The University of California has found it impossible to send her rowing crew against the University of Washington this spring.

JACKSON COUNTY MEN WILL BOOST AT HOME

"Rah! Rah! Rah! Jackson County!" issuing from Villard Hall last Monday afternoon announced the formation of the Jackson County Club at the University. The officers elected were Fred Strang, a Medford sophomore, president; Miss Elizabeth Wagner and Everette Smith, of Ashland, vice president and secretary respectively.

Although no constitution was drawn up at this meeting, definite plans were laid for the future. Meetings will be held once every month at the University, and one or two will take place during the summer. The club will do everything it can toward boosting the interests of the University in the home county. The main purpose of the club, however, is to bring its members in closer association with each other. The plans are to make the organization a basis for a future Southern Oregon Alumni Association.

The members of the club are: Fred Strang, president, Glen Conwall, Miss McNeal, Miss Ruth Merrick, Earnest Smith, Everette Smith, secretary, Miss Elizabeth Wagner, vice president, Arthur M. Geary, R. V. Thomas, Miss Mary DeBar, Miss Clara Wines, Miss Armour, and Vernon Vawter.

OREGON NOW HAS PAN-HELLENIC ASSOCIATION

Three National Women's Fraternities Form Local Protective Union

The Pan-Hellenic Association, an organization of the national sororities and women's fraternities for the purpose of regulating "rushing," and other matters concerning sorority life, was organized by the three local chapters at the University of Oregon yesterday afternoon.

The members in the order of their installation are the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, the Chi Omega fraternity, and the Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity. A president, secretary and treasurer were elected yesterday, one from each member of the association. They are respectively Ruth Hansen, Bertha Dorris, and Frances Oberteuffer.

The Pan-Hellenic Association is an established order in most of the large universities of the United States. It makes rules as to when and how pledges are to be secured, and enforces strict penalties for their violation, at times compelling all new members to be forfeited.

Some time before college opens next fall, the local association will meet and formulate rules. It is probable that no "rushing" will be allowed until a certain specified date after college opens.

Unless the University of Wisconsin cancels her crew race with the University of Washington this spring, the former institution will not be permitted to enter a crew in the regatta at Poughkeepsie in June. It is believed that the stewards of the big regatta will refuse entrance to the Badger crew because they will meet a crew which is not a member of a college rowing association.

INDOOR MEET GOES TO SOPHOMORE CLASS

ARE NINE POINTS AHEAD OF THEIR CLOSEST RIVALS

Seniors Second, Freshmen Third and Juniors Last—Wrestling Matches are Features.

Before a small crowd last night in the new gymnasium, the sophomores again showed their superiority on track by winning the meet with a total score of 35 points. The seniors were second juniors 2.

The feature of the evening was the wrestling match between Kelly and Huston, which was won by Kelly in two out of three falls.

The pole vault was won at eleven feet by Ben Williams, with Sweaney second. 1000-yard run: Garrabrandt first, McClure second, McGuire third.

Broad jump: Bristow first, Sweaney second, and Neill third. Distance 19 feet 4 inches.

25-yard dash: Briedwell first, Bristow second, and Eaton third.

100-yard dash: Bristow first, Briedwell second.

Shot put: Henderson first, 41 feet 7 inches; Neill second, 40 feet 8 inches, 300-yard run: Barzee first, Briedwell second.

600-yard run: McClure first, Garrabrandt second, and McGuire third.

In the 135-pound wrestling match, Huggins threw Murphy two straight falls. In the 158-pound class, Hawkins threw Olson two straight falls. In the heavyweight class, Neill threw Grout two out of three falls.

BASKETBALL MEN TO BE GIVEN BANQUET

A banquet will be given to the basketball players tonight at the Smeede Hotel, when a captain for next year's team will be elected and the work of the season talked over.

The banquet marks the culmination of a successful financial year in basketball. Those who will attend are Captain Stine, Homer Jamison, W. M. Ruth, Dean Walker, Lloyd Cockerline, John Moore, W. T. Elliott, Jim Neill, Bill Hayward and Manager Terry.

McAlister to Address Y. M. C. A.

A mistake was made in announcing the speaker for the men's meeting on Friday evening. The address on "Law" will come a week later, and Professor McAlister will speak on "The Work of the Engineer" next Friday.

Prof. Schafer Speaks

"Carlyle's Teaching of Faith," is the subject on which Professor Joseph Schafer will speak at the weekly social conference of the local Unitarian church tomorrow afternoon. Edith Prescott will sing.

Miss Cecile Wilcox returned from Portland Tuesday.

THIRD DOUGHNUT GAME WON BY BETA THETA PI

In a weird exhibition of baseball Monday evening, the Beta Theta Pi team defeated the Kappa Sigma cup defenders of the Doughnut League by the score of 12 to 6.

Aided by a series of wild pitches, walks, hits, and stolen bases, the Betas obtained a safe lead of five runs in the first inning. During the remainder of the contest both teams settled down to a more consistent game, but the lead was maintained by Beta throughout.

The Kappa Sigma team showed a woeful lack of practice and team work, while the Beta Theta Pi jugglers showed the better form throughout.

The game was well attended by enthusiastic admirers of both teams. Darkness again put an end to the exhibition in the seventh inning.

Archie E. Leech was the successful orator in the oratorical tryout at the University of Montana on March 30th, and will represent that institution in the interstate contest to be held in Eugene. Mr. Leech has been very prominent in student activities, and has had considerable experience in oratory.

OREGON PLAYS IDAHO TEAM NEXT TUESDAY

Good Chance to Leave Home With One Thousand Per Cent

* * * * * Pictures of the baseball teams in * action will be on the slides at the * Shell theater Friday and Saturday. * These pictures have been taken of * the men on the field and will give a * good idea to the, as yet, uninitiated * wherein lies Oregon's hopes for the * Northwest championship. * * * * *

Next Monday and Tuesday the Oregon baseball tossers will play the University of Idaho nine at Midway Park. All the dope seems to be that Oregon should win both games, and if she does it will give her a grasp on the pennant that the other Northwestern conference colleges will find it hard to loosen. The importance of leaving town for the long trip through the Inland Empire with a percentage of 1000 to her credit can not be over-estimated, and every effort will be made to make this a reality.

With the exception of McKenzie, who has left town, the team is in fine trim and every man on the squad is bubbling over with confidence. Henkle, Rhinehart and Tom Word will compose the pitching staff for these two games, while Gabrielson and Chuck Taylor will be at the receiving end.

Season tickets are now $1.75, and will remain at that figure until after these two games.

It is hardly possible that the University of Washington will participate in more than one regatta this spring. Stanford and California have found it impossible to arrange for a date, thus leaving only the race with Wisconsin.

WARNER OF CORNELL TO COACH FOOTBALL

OREGON GETS MAN WITH SEVEN YEARS EXPERI- ENCE FOR $1200

Has Coached Sherman Indians, University of North Carolina, And Colgate University.

William J. Warner, graduate of Cornell in 1902, who has been coaching continuously for the past seven years without ever having turned out a losing team, is to coach Oregon next fall for a salary of $1200 and expenses.

While in Cornell, Warner made the football team for four years straight, and was captain during his junior and senior years. He was three times chosen for the All-American team by Walter Camp.

After taking his B. A. and LL. D. degrees, Warner took up the practice of law in Buffalo, New York, with football coaching as a side issue. He first coached his alma mater in 1903, and since then has coached the Sherman Indians, the University of North Carolina, and Colgate University, turning out winning teams for all these schools.

He had finally decided to quit coaching, and had already turned down several offers from Eastern schools which would have paid a larger salary than he will receive here, but a desire to locate in the West has caused him to change his mind.

Warner is a brother of the great Glenn S. Warner, who has been for so many years the coach of the successful Carlisle Indians, and the two will work together next fall as they have done in the past; each keeping the other informed of the latest plays in his section of the country.

The choice of Warner for next fall is regarded as a good omen for Oregon, for with the radical changes that are being adopted in football rules it will be practically every coach for himself next fall, and a man of such long and varied experience will have a tremendous advantage.

GERMAN CLUB MEETS WITH PROF. SCHMIDT

The German Club spent a very enjoyable evening at the residence of Professor F. G. Schmidt last night.

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the music produced on the high class phonograph loaned the club by Mr. W. J. Hill, of Hill's gun store. German songs were played and selections from the best German operas from records made by Madame Schuman-Heink and other famous singers. At the close of the impromptu concert, the club passed a resolution thanking Mr. Hill for his kindness in loaning the instrument and records.

Orders for commencement announcements must be in the hands of the senior committee on or before one week from today. Caroline Dunstan, Grace LaBrie and C. A. Steele will receive orders.
