Society Brand Clothes are Different--Yet Dignified

Different—because their general lines are new and have a style never before brought out in ready-to-wear clothes.

Dignified—because of their refinement; their gentlemanly modesty but youthful style and young-mannish characteristics.

BAILEY IS FASTEST SPRINTER NOW HERE

Hayward and his crew of record-smashers will return to Eugene on the 2:08 train Sunday afternoon. At least six and probably ten of these men including Oliver Huston will leave for California Tuesday night.

Under the efficient coaching of Oliver Huston the men left behind are doing some phenomenal stunts. Friday evening Fat Bailey threw the hammer out of the lot and lost it. Explanation: Fat was on a "Coca Cola spree" the night before. Fat, probably under the influence of the same stimulant, took second place in a 100 yard dash in which Means finished first and Henderson third. Fat however was given a handicap of a foot for every pound he outweighed his lightest competitor which gave him about thirty-five yards start. The time for this race was 14 seconds flat.

OREGON GRADUATE DOES WELL IN PHILIPPINES

L. A. Henderson, '07, continues his phenomenal success in the Philippine Islands, where he has already been placed in entire charge of the surveying of government land. He has an article on the recent revision of the public land system in the Mindanao Herald for March 19th last.

The students of Kansas University are petitioning for a reinstatement of football.

The Japanese Universities use both the honor system and the self-government plan.

Every co-ed in the Varsity is invited, and expected to appear.

GAMMA PHI BETAS GIVE BRILLIANT RECEPTIONS

The Gamma Phi Beta sorority gave two brilliant receptions Friday. The afternoon reception was given to the ladies of Eugene, while the evening reception was for the University student body. Those in the receiving line were Mrs. Duff; Mrs. W. Y. Masters, of Portland; Mrs. Stafford; Mrs. P. K. Hammond; Mrs. Dixon, a Gamma Phi Beta of Wisconsin University; also the three seniors of the local chapter, namely, Ruth Duniway, Ruth Hansen, and Vivian Holmes.

The spacious hall and living room were beautifully decorated with ivy, roses and snowballs. The dining room was decorated with yellow wisteria. Here ices were served during the evening. Punch was served on the porch by Javina Stanfield and Irene Clifford.

The Daily Nebraskan is being put out under the supervision of the English club.

SENIORS WEAR CAPS AND GOWNS WEDNESDAY

The seniors will appear appear in their beloved caps and gowns next Wednesday, marching to assembly in a body and making themselves as conspicuous as possible. Word was received Thursday that the togs were here, and every senior hastened to get into one.

Rev. Luther R. Dyott, of Portland, has been selected by the committee to deliver the baccalaureate sermon for commencement this year. Mr. Dyott is a well known speaker and his choice is expected to prove popular.

There will be a special meeting of the senior class on Monday afternoon at 4:00 p. m., in Dr. Schmidt's room, for the purpose of settling once and for all time the question of senior class pins. Every senior should come and vote for his choice between a block "O," a seal, or no pin at all.

Collier Denies Rumor

A story was circulated on the campus yesterday that Percy M. Collier was making capital out of the fact that he was not a fraternity man, but that in fact intended to join such an organization as soon as the election was over.

When interviewed this afternoon in regard to this story, Collier denied it, saying that he neither expected nor intended to join a fraternity now or at any other time. "I do not wish to prejudice students for me by posing as an independent candidate, and have made no attempt to do so," said he, "but neither do I wish to have them prejudiced against me by stories that I am stooping to tactics that I would never tolerate."

BEAVERS DEFEAT THE DORMITORY 8 TO 1

In a well played game this afternoon, the Beaver baseball team put the Dorm Club out of the race for the Doughnut cup, by the score of 8 to 1. The game was interesting and closely contested up to the sixth inning. The features were the steady pitching of Gray for the Beavers, the batting of Word, of the same team, and Wentworth's timely ciout over short in the seventh canto, which scored Wattenburg and saved the Dorm from a shut-out.

SCORE

	R	H	E
Beavers	8	6	2
Dorm	1	5	4

Batteries—Beavers, Gray and Word; Dorm, Huntington and Wattenburg.

Struck out—By Gray 3; by Huntington 8. Bases on balls—Huntington 8.

THE O. A. C. HIGH BROW IS TO LOSE PRESTIGE

Corvallis, May 5.—The time honored custom of personifying the graduating class by means of a valedictorian and salutatorian has been abolished at O. A. C.

In order that a suitable reward may be given for a meritorious college career a certain number of the graduating class will be chosen as honor students. The method of selecting will be dependent upon a well rounded record instead of merely scholastic standing.

The University of Illinois has a married woman's club among her organizations.

Eight students of the Carnegie Technical Schools have succeeded in building an airship that will really fly.

RESOLUTION PASSES WITHOUT OPPOSITION

sume alarming proportions. There is a faculty resolution at Oregon which limits football to five match games in one season. It has never been necessary to place this limitation upon any other branch of intercollegiate sport, but it is the intention of the framers of the new resolution to make it broader in its aspect and inaugurate a general movement among the conference colleges to build up the standard of physical development of the many instead of a few who are endowed by nature with more than ordinary physical prowess.

The movement to be successful must be a general one according to Professor Young's resolution, "for it is recognized that the grip of the perverted practice of inordinate devotion to intercollegiate athletics is so strong that it is beyond the power of one institution to cope with it single-handed."

The following candidates for office in the student body election next Tuesday, wishing to have it understood that they are not desiring to obtain support under false pretenses; and remembering a certain unfortunate occurrence in a student body election a few years ago, wish it definitely understood that they are members of a newly organized club:

Raphael Geisler,
Clarence Walls,
Harold Cockerline,
Phil Hammond.

Yale and Harvard chess teams met in Cambridge recently to try for the third time to decide a tie, but after several hours of playing the score stood 2 to 2.
