

WASHINGTON BASEBALL TEAM HERE FOR SERIES

WASHINGTON NOW LEADS IN RACE FOR THE PENNANT

Should Oregon Win Both Games This Week She Will Be at the Top of the List.

The final score of today's game was 3 to 2 in favor of Oregon.

STANDING OF COLLEGES

	Won	Lost	P. C.
* Washington	3	0	1.000
* O. A. C.	7	2	.778
* Oregon	7	4	.636
* Whitman	3	5	.375
* Pullman	1	3	.250
* Idaho	1	6	*.143

* O. A. C. and Idaho played one tie game.

With about half the games in the Northwest conference yet to be played, Oregon now stands in third place, with Washington first and O. A. C. second.

Should the local team win both games from Washington this week, it will relegate the Seattleites to third place and place Oregon well nigh the top.

DALZELL WILL SPEAK AT Y. M. C. A. FRIDAY

Harold A. Dalzell, the ex-president of the Student Y. M. C. A., will speak at the weekly men's meeting on Friday. Dalzell has not addressed any of the regular meetings this year, but those who have heard him talk know that he presents his theme forcibly. He has not yet announced his subject. Dalzell is one of the three seniors who will take up Y. M. C. A. work next year. He will have charge of the boys' work of Oregon and Idaho and will act as assistant to Ivan B. Rhodes in the college work.

This meeting will begin promptly at 7:00 and will be closed at 7:45, so as not to interfere with those who wish to attend the Musical Festival.

No Picnic or Pins

In a poorly attended class meeting Monday the seniors decided to have no

EUTAXIANS ENTERTAIN THE CO-ED DEBATERS

The Eutaxian Literary Society gave a party yesterday afternoon, at the Chi Omega house, in honor of the women's debating team of the University, which leaves Thursday for Seattle to debate with the women's team of the University of Washington.

The afternoon was a pleasant one and the debaters were made certain that they were warmly supported, and their success anxiously looked forward to, by the University.

Splendid musical numbers were given by Emma Job, Marjorie Holcomb, Lila Prosser and Lucile Abrams. Jessie Calkins, president of the society made a few good remarks expressing the loyalty of the Eutaxians towards the debating team. An answering speech was called for from Birdie Wise, leader of the team. In this she expressed her appreciation of the interest shown by the University, and said she hoped that it might not be caused to feel ashamed of its women debaters.

Light refreshments were served by Emma Belat, and Jessie Calkins.

OREGON CO-EDS MEET U. OF W. TEAM FRIDAY

Women Are Well Prepared to Win Victory For Oregon In Debate

The co-ed debating team, chaperoned by Dr. Stuart and accompanied by Coach Buchen, leave for Seattle tomorrow morning.

The co-ed team which will represent the University against the University of Washington, consists of: Fay Clark, '12; Birdie Wise, '12; and Corinne Degermark, '13. The girls have the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should establish a system of postal savings banks."

"The team has worked hard on the proposition," says Coach Buchen, "and have thoroughly mastered it. The members display true debating ability and will give a good account of themselves at Seattle. They may not win, but they will give the Washington team an 'awful rub.'"

The team that will represent the University of Washington is led by Miss Mary Mathieu, who is a senior and a member of the Sacajawea Women's Debating Society. The other two members, Miss Eva McDonald and Miss Lillian Hankins, are juniors. Miss McDonald is also a member of the Sacajawea Society, and Miss Hankins belongs to the Athenian Debatin Club. This is the first co-ed debate of the Northwest, and one of the first of the country. Dean R. Priest, of the College of Liberal Arts, is Washington's coach.

class pin and to do away with the senior picnic.

The pin first suggested by the committee was the seal pin, but by petition this was changed to the "Block O." While the matter was brought up Monday for final action it was decided to have no pins at all.

The usual senior picnic was likewise done away with.

COLLIER TO WIELD A. S. U. O. GAVEL NEXT YEAR

GILLES VICE PRESIDENT AND RALPH MOORES EDITOR

Edith Woodcock Wins Race for Secretary. Only 463 Out of 625 Students Show Interest Enough To Vote.

Only 463 of the 625 students enrolled showed interest enough in student body affairs to take part in the election yesterday in which Percy M. Collier, the Eugene man who lead two debating teams to victory this year, was elected president with 193 votes, a plurality of 34 over Calvin Sweek, his closest opponent. Cecil J. Espy, the third candidate received 110 votes.

For vice-president, Verner Gilles, of gridiron fame, won over George M. White by a vote of 260 to 191.

In the contest for secretary, the only office in which co-eds alone were entered, Miss Edith Woodcock, won over Miss Mary DeBar by a vote of 258 to 187.

For Executive Committee, in which two out of five were to be chosen, Raphael Geisler took the highest votes, receiving 251, while Philip Brownell came second with 160. The other three men who ran, Koyl, Davidson and Kestly, received 144, 144 and 146 votes respectively.

For the three places on the Athletic Council, Hawkins, Taylor, Henkel and Gabrielson ran a close race, all receiving over two hundred votes, while McDaniel and Cockerline were not far below. The men who made the places were Martin Hawkins, Oregon's star hurdler, with 228 votes; Charles Taylor, football captain for next year, with 271 votes, and Ferdinand Henkel, Oregon's great southpaw, with 219 votes.

For editor of the Emerald Ralph Moores defeated Wm. A. Lowell by a vote of 259 to 194.

By a vote of 274 to 178, C. A. Osterholm defeated L. J. Caulfield for the position of business manager of Emerald.

In a close and exciting race for the editorship of the Oregon Monthly Dean Collins won over Olive Donnell by a vote of 237 to 217. This is a position which a co-ed usually fills, but next year will show who can best edit a literary paper, a feminine or a masculine.

Although there were two men in the race for Associate Editor of the Monthly four co-eds secured the winning places. These were Birdie Wise, 279 votes; Willetta Wright, 204; Alma Payton, 208; and Lucile Abrams, 232. The others who ran were Clarence Walls, 166; and F. S. Waite, 141, and rea Allison, 190.

There was no competition for the places of Assistant Business Manager of the Emerald, and assistant manager of the Monthly, Philip Hammond, Ted Williams and Lee Huggins receiving 409, 411 and 405 votes respectively.

The Chinese students of the University of Pennsylvania have formed an economics club, with tri-weekly meetings.

SPEAKER TELLS OF HISTORY OF Y. W. C. A.

At the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. last Monday, Ruth Merrick led, and Miss Clarke sang a solo which was appropriate to the subject. Then Miss Kenworthy gave a splendid talk on the History of the Association. In her own companionable way she told the girls of how the work began in England and in America, and of how it speedily progressed. The need was first felt during the Crimean war. When the nurses came home to recruit strength for their arduous work, there was no place for them to rest, so several of London's titled women banded together and built a home. From this one little start, the Young Women's Christian Association has grown till now its branches of work and diversities of interest are many, such as the homes for girls, training in domestic science, gymnasium practice, Travellers' Aid Work, teaching and lecture courses.

Miss Kenworthy laid special emphasis on the fact that the work came into being and grew because there was need for it, and that need is still increasing. Few of the girls knew of the beginning of the work, and the talk was both instructive and entertaining.

SATURDAY LAST DAY FOR FOR TENNIS TRY-OUTS

Time Is Near for Tennis Tournament—But Few Tryouts Have Been Held

With the Varsity tennis team due to leave in two weeks for the conference meet, and only a small part of the tryout matches played, Manager Newland says that the men trying out will have to play off their rounds immediately or default them. Since last Saturday morning only two have been played one in which Farris won from Cash 6 to 2 and 6 to 4, one in which Gray won from Rothchild 6 to 2 and 6 to 4, and one this morning which spectators declare to be the best match yet played on the new court, in which R. Moores beat Gray 7 to 5 the first round and then Gray took the next two 6 to 3. Unless the tryout matches are played off in a very few days, those who do not have much chance of making the team will be dropped, so that the finals may be played off among the best men.

The handicap meet will also have to be hurried up, says Manager Newland. The finals are to be played Junior week, which means that the preliminaries will all have to be played off this week. If they are not all played off before Saturday, Manager Newland says he will assign dates that day for them to be played or be defaulted.

Charles G. Lathrop, treasurer and general manager of Leland Stanford, says that the University is just beginning to recover from the earthquake of 1906, and that it will cost $2,500,000 to repair the damage.

Secretary of State Philander C. Knox will deliver the commencement address this year at the University of Pennsylvania.

OREGON LOSES FIRST MEET IN FIVE YEARS

WILLIAMS, HAWKINS AND HENRY EACH BREAK RECORDS

Washington Wins With 78 Points Oregon Earns 39, Idaho Finishes Third With 23.

For the first time in five years, Oregon was defeated in a track meet last Saturday, when the University of Washington captured the Tri-State meet at Seattle by a score of 78 to 39 points. Idaho finished third with 23 points.

Every man on Washington's well-banded team was in perfect condition and they well deserve the victory which they recorded. The fact that Hayward's squad was not in the best of condition owing to the bad weather which has prevailed for the past few weeks probably affected the score to a considerable extent, but no amount of training could put the small squad which Hayward has at his disposal in shape to beat Seattle this year.

No blame can be attached to the men who entered the meet for Oregon; every man did his level best and deserves the highest praise.

Three records were broken by Oregon men. Williams, vaulting with an injured knee on which he could scarcely stand, broke the Northwest record held for seven years by Gilbert of Pacific University, by clearing the bar at 11 feet 8 inches. Hawkins clipped one fifth of a second off the Northwest 120 yard high hurdle record, and Henry lowered the coast record for the two mile event to 10 minutes and 13 seconds, finishing with a lead of ten feet entirely exhausted.

The detailed results were as follows: 100-yard dash—Gish, Washington, won; Montgomery, Idaho, second; Ridgway, Washington, third; time, :10 1-5.

220-yard dash—Montgomery, Idaho, won; McDaniel, Oregon, second; Campbell, Washington, third; time :23 flat.

440-yard dash—Gish, Washington, won; Campbell, Washington, second; McDaniel, Oregon, third; time, :51 2-5.

880-yard run—Stoll, Washington, won; McKay, Washington, second; McInturff, Idaho, third; time, 2:03 1-5.

1 Mile run—Pape, Washington, won; McKay, Washington, second; McClure, Oregon, third; time 4:32.

Two-mile run—Henry, Oregon, won; Hope, Washington, second; Redman, Washington, third; time, 10:13.

Broad jump—Gish, Washington, won; Brokaw, Washington, second; Strohecker, Idaho, third; distance 23 feet 2 inches.

Javelin throw—Evans, Washington, won; Driscoll, Idaho, second; Strohecker, Idaho, third; height, 5 feet 10 inches.

Shot-put—Kellogg, Oregon, won; Eakins, Washington, second; Gish, Washington, third; distance, 39 feet 6 inches.

120-yard hurdles—Hawkins, Oregon, won; Driscoll, Idaho, second; Brokaw, Washington, third; time, :15 4-5.

Discus throw—Kellogg, Oregon, won; Gish, Washington, second; Eakins,
