The first intercollegiate co-ed debate between the Oregon and Washington girls was held Friday evening, May 13, in the auditorium on the University of Washington campus. The team consisting of Birdie Wise, Fay Clark, and Corin Deggermark, with Dr. Stuart, as chaperone, and accompanied by Mr. Buchen and Mr. Steele, arrived in Seattle Thursday evening. Friday morning the party visited the various buildings on the campus. The building devoted to Journalism, where all the University publications are printed, was of special interest. After a quiet afternoon spent at their hotel, the party arrived at the auditorium about 8 o'clock in the evening.

When the taxicab stopped at the auditorium entrance and the six suit cases belonging to the visiting team were deposited on the steps, the Washington coach and the debaters were panic stricken. The personal belongings contained in the bag and baggage were mistaken for negative evidence. After Oregon's manager assured them that the "Report of the Comptroller of the Currency" was all the evidence his team contemplated taking into the debate, the speakers were introduced. The judges gave a two to one decision in favor of the Washington girls, but the Oregon team was strongly supported by an enthusiastic audience.

After the debate a reception was given in honor of the two teams in the Women's building.

Saturday was "Campus Day" at Washington, and the Oregon girls saw the Washington students at work and play. The program was much like that carried out on our own "University Day."

In the evening the visitors enjoyed an informal dance held in the big gymnasium. Owing to the approaching train time, the Oregon party bade farewell to the University of Washington and its students before the evening was spent, and turned their faces toward Eugene.

MAY FESTIVAL IS A FINANCIAL FAILURE

Prof. Glen Discouraged—Probably No Festival Next Year

In the financial report of the May Festival, the results are not encouraging. In such an undertaking, there is a great expense attached, which includes the advertising and printing, the hire of orchestra players and soloists. A large number of tickets sold is necessary to make the festival pay but this year it was not supported heartily enough by either students or faculty. The deficit was about three hundred dollars, but this amount is paid by different organizations and individuals so that the members of the Choral Club will not be held responsible for it as they had expected. Professor Glen worked hard for the success of this and the concerts merited a much larger patronage than they received. There will probably be no May Festival next year.

MANY NEW CLUB HOUSES

Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Sigma, and Lambda Rhos to Have New Homes

The construction of several sorority and fraternity houses is under way. It is expected that they will be finished in the fall ready for occupancy the beginning of the first semester. The Kappa Alpha Theta and the Lambda Rho houses are already started. The Kappa Sigmas expect to begin building soon on the corner of Eleventh and Alder streets.

Three Hundred Women to Take Part in the Fern and Flower Procession

The Fern and Flower Procession is to be made a big event in Commencement Week this year. The Woman's Council has appointed a committee of juniors, Cecile Wilcox chairman, Edith Woodcock and Mabel Hill, to take all executive responsibility. On Saturday morning, June the 18th, there will be a mass meeting of women in Villard Hall to perfect all arrangements. Every alumna, as well as the undergraduates, is urged to be present at this meeting. The committee expects three hundred women in line in the procession. The representatives from the oldest class present will lead, and the rest will follow in order. All the women will wear white, and the seniors will appear in cap and gown. Each class in the University should meet and decide on its color scheme, reporting their decision to the committee in charge. It is rumored, and indeed the Council confirms the report, that the procession will end by forming an immense U. of O. with the flowers, on the grass between the library and Deady Hall.

In endeavoring to make college life more interesting, the seniors of the Colorado State College have started the custom of taking a holiday without the knowledge or permission of anyone. This holiday has been named "Sneak Day."

The Lambda Rho house on the corner of Fourteenth and Alder streets is to be a three-story, Southern colonial house, and the Kappa Alpha Theta house on Twelfth and Hilyard, is also to be of the colonial style of architecture.

Several other clubs are contemplating new houses, but their plans are not yet complete.

DRESSER OF WHITMAN HOLDS JAVELIN RECORD

Walla Walla, May 14.—By a close decision, the Athenaeum debate team won from the Phrenokosmian team on the question of the ship subsidy, the Athenaeum having the negative. There is considerable interest in the debate, since from the two teams were chosen the team which is to debate W. S. C. next year. They are as follows: Crumbaker, '11, Otto Johnson, '11, and Chester Maxey, '12. At the same time, the man showing the best ability as a debater was chosen to whom is given by the class of '12 a prize of thirteen dollars worth books. This was won by Calvin Crumbaker.

Last Wednesday the baseball team played the Walla Walla team. The playing was loose and ragged. The town team won 7 to 4. Belt and Applegate were the battery for the college team.

Last Friday the people of the city were given an opportunity to hear Haydn's magnificent Creation rendered by the Walla Walla Choral Union, under the leadership of Mr. Elias Blum, of the Whitman Conservatory of Music. The chorus consisted of 40 voices, including the five solo parts.

Dresser, of Whitman, holds the Northwest record in the javelin throw which he established in the intercollegiate contest with Idaho, April 12. He threw it 146 feet and 7 inches. The nearest out side throw was made by White of U. of W. in the Coast meet at California May 14, when he threw it 145 feet 9 inches.

Mrs. F. P. Hyde, of Portland, spent the week with her daughter, Miss Hattie Hyde, at the Kloshe Tillacum Lodge.

Mrs. F. P. Kendall, of Portland, was hostess to a few friends at dinner Friday evening at the Osburn Hotel.

BAN ON RAPID SHOOTING

Example of Experts Dangerous To Novices According to Faculty Resolution

Fearing a fatality might result, the faculty has passed a resolution against shooting the rapids in the river in canoes.

A number of University students have recently shown their skill and dexterity in handling a canoe under circumstances requiring great presence of mind, accuracy of vision, strength of muscle and luck, to the extent of shooting the rapids successfully at the head of the island.

The danger, according to the faculty, is that other students, less competent and experienced, though equally daring and courageous might make the attempt with disastrous results.

"There is a moral responsibility," says President Campbell, "resting upon the expert for the amateur which is not a light nor trivial responsibility."

Mrs. F. P. Kendall, of Portland, is visiting with her daughter and Miss Ruby Hammerstrom at the Mary Spiller house.

MUSIC CHARMS HEARERS

May Festival Friday and Saturday Proves Great Musical Success

The May Music Festival held in Villard Hall Friday and Saturday evenings, May 13th and 14th, was musically a huge success. Professor Glen as director was assisted in "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," Coleridge-Taylor, on Friday evening by Mr. Belcher, of Portland. Mrs. Gaskins, of O. A. C., rendered "Schubert's Serenade" most artistically, and Professor Glen sang "Cacile," by Brahms. A special feature of the evening was the Klingenberg-Bettman-Konrad trio.

On Saturday evening "Stabat Mater," Rosini, was given with Miss Eve Stinson, Miss Louise Yoran, Miss Edith Prescott, Mr. Gaskins, and Mr. Belcher as soloists. The chorus was composed of local singers, but part of the orchestra were Portland musicians. They both showed excellent training.

Mrs. Osburn and daughter Edna, of Corvallis, are visiting University friends during the week end.
