

TRACK MEN MAKE GOOD WITH A VENGEANCE

PILE UP OVERWHELMING SCORE OF 81 TO 59 AGAINST W. S. C.

Break Three Coast Records and Tie World's Time in the High Hurdles.

Oregon 81; Pullman 59. One world's record tied and three Coast records broken in the history of yesterday's meet, the most stubbornly contested and spectacular event ever held on the Kincaid oval.

Martin Hawkins clipped two-fifths of a second off his own Northwest record in the high hurdles, smashing the Coast record and equaling the world's best time of 15 1-5 seconds. Four watches caught this time, and another caught between 15 1-5 and 15 2-5.

Nelson, of Pullman, and McGuire and Neill, of Oregon, were the other record smachers. Nelson, after winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes, took the pole at the start of the 440 yard dash and tore around the oval in 49 3-5 seconds, lowering the Coast record one-fifth of a second. He was crowded close all the way by McDaniels and Johns, but pulled away from them on the home stretch, finishing with a lead of ten feet.

Henry set a killing pace for seven laps of the two mile contest, but was passed first by Stookey and then by McGuire, who tore loose with a wonderful reserve of speed, passing both his competitors on the back stretch and finishing with a lead of fifty yards over Stookey, who was crowded close by Henry. The time was 10 minutes and five seconds, another Coast record.

Neill showed beautiful form in the javelin throw, and at his third try he threw the spear 148 feet 6 inches, breaking the Northwest record formerly held by Dresser of Whitman.

The mile race was a gruelling contest, through which McClure and Cooil alternately led. McClure finally wore his man out and in the last hundred yards forged ahead of his game competitor, finishing first in 4:34 4-5. This lowered the Varsity record and is within three seconds of Cooil's Northwest record.

Ben Williams, vaulting on an injured knee, won first in the pole vault at 11 feet 10 1-4 inches.

Dalquist, of Pullman, barely failed to clear the bar at this height, and Williams did not get over until his third trial.

Bailey took first in the hammer throw with a heave of 136 feet 2 1-2 inches.

Nelson was the biggest point winner of the meet, with 15 points. Kellogg was second with 14 points gathered from the weights. He took first in the shot and discus, second in the hammer and third in the javelin throw.

The summary:

100 yard dash—Nelson, Pullman, first; Bristow, Oregon, second; Lowry, Pullman, third. Time 10 seconds.

220 yard dash—Nelson, Pullman, first; Kay, Oregon, second; McDaniels, Oregon third. Time 0:22 3-5.

120 yard hurdles—Hawkins, Oregon.

PROMINENT MEN MADE HONORARY MEMBERS

Accacia Fraternity Initiates the Leading Master Masons of the State

Last night the Acacia fraternity initiated as honorary members some of the leading Master Masons of the state. Mr. Malcolm, 33rd degree Mason and head of the Scottish Rite, Mr. Robinson, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge, Mr. Pittock, a 33rd degree Mason and owner of the Oregonian, Mr. Clark, a 33rd degree Mason, and head of many Masonic bodies in the state.

General Beadle was initiated as an Acacia by request of Alpha chapter, of the University of Michigan.

After the initiation ceremonies were over with at the fraternity house, the fraternity attended a lecture given by Mr. Malcolm at the local Masonic Lodge. Mr. Malcolm spoke on the symbolism of Masonry. Mr. Malcolm has the reputation of being one of the best versed Masons in the country. His lecture was very instructive and interesting. After the lecture the Masonic Lodge invited the brethren present to a most delicious banquet.

OREGON WINS IN TWO GAMES WITH W. S. C.

Jamison Pitches Good Ball in Second Game of Series

In one of the best games of baseball seen on the local diamond this year, the University of Oregon nine defeated the strong W. S. C. aggregation in a ten-inning game, Wednesday afternoon, by the score of 4 to 3. The game was filled with sensational batting on the part of both teams. Henkel, the big Oregon southpaw, was hit freely, but managed to pull the game out of the fire by the aid of consistent support at critical times.

The feature of the game was the batting of Captain Clarke of Oregon, who secured five hits, including one home run and two two-baggers out of five times at bat.

Pullman tied the score in the fifth inning by Bradley's home run. In the tenth Gabrielson was hit by a pitched ball, and scored on Clarke's hit over second, winning the game.

Second Game

In the second game with the W. S. C. baseball team, at Midway this afternoon, the Oregon nine won a hard fought victory by the score of 2 to 0. The pitching of Jamison, Coach Kelly's latest find in the pitching department, was mainly responsible for Oregon's success, letting the W. S. C. club down with but two hits, and retiring ten of their sluggers by the strike out route.

In the first inning Oregon obtained two runs and cinched the game by three timely hits contributed by Chandler, Van Marter and Taylor. In the sixth inning Pullman threatened to score by getting two bases on balls and an error in the Oregon infield filled the bases. But Jamison settled down and retired the visitors without difficulty. The game was called in the eighth inning to enable W. S. C. to catch the north bound train.

THIRTEEN TRACK MEN WILL RECEIVE "O"

KELLOGG LEADS LIST IN NUMBER OF POINTS

Oregon Teams Wins Two Hundred and Eleven Points During the Season.

Of nineteen men entered in conference meets this year, thirteen have made nine points or taken the one first place requisite for their "O."

The Columbia meet not being a conference meet, the points won there do not count toward the coveted emblem. In the other four meets, the Washington, the California, the O. A. C. and the W. S. C. meet, the University won a total of 211 points. Exactly the same number were taken in the O. A. C. and the W. S. C. meets, while thirty-eight were taken at Seattle and thirteen in California.

Bob Kellogg holds the record for the largest number of points taken by a single man. Bob has pulled down a total of forty-two this season, as against eighteen by Hawkins and seventeen by Latourette.

This unusually large lead is due in part, it is said, to the lack of competition in the weight events as keen as it has been in the sprints.

The thirteen men who will be awarded an "O" at the next student body meeting are Ben Williams, captain of the team, Hawkins, Kay, Johns, McDaniels, Henry, McClure, Kellogg, Latourette, Bristow, McGuire, Bill Neill and Bailey. Three of the men are seniors, and the other ten are divided between the sophomores and the freshmen, with the sophomores in the lead in points won.

OWL CLUB GIVES PICNIC AS FINAL EVENT

The Owl Club had a picnic up the race on Tuesday evening. It was the last meeting of the year.

The club comprises the Washington High School graduates who entered the University last fall, and has eleven members in all. Its purpose is social, but it also tries to help the University by gaining students from the Washington High School.

LION HAS BEEN ADDED TO COLLEGE JUNGLE

The lion was recently adopted as the official mascot of Columbia by the student board. The king of beasts now has for companions the Princeton tiger, the Yale bulldog, the wolverine of Michigan and the O.A.C. beaver, all members of the college jungle.

OPEN AIR CLASSES NEW STUNT AT WISCONSIN

Classes in Wisconsin meet out on the campus on hot spring days, and the instructors find that they have better attention and can do more successful work than if they keep them in close classrooms.

Y. M. C. A. CLOSING YEAR WITH LARGE MEETING

Lecture by A. J. Browning Is Listened to by Fifty Students

Some startling facts, supported by the best medical authorities concerning the social conditions of today were presented by Dr. A. J. Browning of Portland at the weekly Men's meeting last night in Deady Hall. Fifty men heard the address.

At the close of the address each man received a pamphlet dealing with this subject which is gotten out especially for college students by the American Society of Sanitary and Moral Prophylaxis of New York. There are a number of copies of this book at the Book Exchange which may be obtained by any one who will ask for one.

This meeting closes the meetings of the Y. M. C. A. for this year. This has been the strongest series of meetings which the Y. M. C. A. has ever held, and the attendance of the men of the school has been considerably higher than in any former years.

SENIOR HONOR SOCIETY ORGANIZED AT OREGON

Prominence in Student Activities Is Requirement for Membership

Announcement was made today of the organization of the Skull and Chain Society, an honor organization for the senior men of the University. The new organization is composed of nine of the most prominent seniors in college, and it is their intention to make it a permanent honor society such as exist in other colleges throughout the United States.

The society is modeled, in part, after the Skull and Key and the Wolf's Head societies of Yale and the Fir Tree of the University of Washington.

Membership in any one year is limited to fifteen. Prominence in student body activities is the principal requirement for membership, and any male senior in the University is eligible.

The membership is as follows: William Kiltz, Glen Briedwell, Dean Goodman, Ormond Rankin, Ralph Dodson, Dudley Clarke, Oliver Huston, Harper Jamison and William Cake. The first five are charter members.

Announcement will be made in a few days of the Juniors elected to membership for next year.

INTERNATIONAL TRACK MEET BEING PLANNED

Prospects for an international track meet between Oxford-Cambridge and Yale Harvard track teams appear bright. The officials on both sides of the water are working enthusiastically for this end.

Gerald Eastham and Leslie Dobie went to Portland last night on Oregon business.

In the most interesting forensic contest of the year, Glen Hoover, a junior in the law department of the University of Washington, won first place in the interstate oratorical contest, thus winning the $75 prize awarded by the King County, Washington, Bar Association.

Harold J. Rounds, of the University of Oregon, won a close second, thus taking the second prize of $25 offered by the same Association.

It was probably the closest interstate oratorical contest ever held, and the judges were put to it to decide first place. Hoover secured the decision by only one point.

The program opened with a piano solo, "Murmuring Zephyrs," Niemann, by Mr. Raphael Geisler.

Harold J. Rounds opened the contest with his oration entitled, "The Call to Public Service." Mr. Rounds took up the subject by showing that, at present, the main occupation of our nation is the pursuit of wealth. The history of America and the world has denoted a westward movement. The development of our great West has been in the main a material one, a search for wealth.

The speaker further showed that ability to make money has become the standard by which a man is measured, and that this intense devotion to money making is fatal to the higher interests of the state. Gifted men go into the commercial life, instead of political, because of the superior advantages for money making.

Mr. Rounds closed by giving a clear and forceful picture of the "square deal" man who is needed in America today.

Following this Mr. Kenneth Frazer rendered, in a pleasing manner, Bullard's "Sword of Ferrara."

Mr. Hoover, in his oration entitled, "America's Opportunity," compared the nations of the world to actors upon the stage. Each nation, to win a place in the world's history, must do some one thing better than any other nation has a will to do it.

The greatest failure of the nations in the past has been their inability to cope with the problems of poverty. "The solution of the problem," said Mr. Hoover, "is America's Opportunity."

He further indicated how America had disregarded this opportunity by placing no restrictions on immigration, and he pointed out how, as a result, the poor of America were suffering.

Mr. Hoover ended in a forceful way by showing that in America's great struggle for self-preservation, her first
