NEW HANDBOOK READY NOW FOR DISTRIBUTION

After considerable delay, the handbooks, which are provided for the men of the University by the Y. M. C. A. are ready for distribution.

The book is neatly bound in green or black leather with the Oregon seal, the year and the letters "U. of O." in gold on the cover, and contains college records, songs, yells, names of student body officers and managers, besides a brief account of all organizations of the University. In it is also found a calendar of the year's events, and a schedule for the hours of the individuals to be filled in.

Many other little points, such as traditions of the school and hints along various lines are scattered through the book.

The book is arranged and printed by the Y. M. C. A. and is paid for by the business men through their advertisements. Any man may have a book by calling at the Y. M. C. A. office in the Dormitory.

COURSE IN JOURNALISM OFFERED—ONE CREDIT

Among the new courses offered by the University for the coming semester, is a one-hour course in journalism. The class will be conducted by Mr. Bert Prescott, and besides the good to the students enrolled, it is designed to help the publicity work of the University. An effort will be made to enroll at least one student from every county. Subjects will be assigned the students to work up, which will be corrected and sent to the students' home papers. The subjects will be selected so as to interest the "home folks" and will treat of the various departments of the University work. Thus an opportunity is offered for students to do very substantial work in journalism, and at the same time be of material aid to the Varsity.

Next year a more elaborate course in journalism is planned, which will permit of students majoring in this line.

GIRLS' GYM REMODELED—NOW EQUAL TO ANY

The remodelled girls' gymnasium is complete and modern in every detail. The interior is as attractive as the new men's gym and fully as convenient. The down-stairs and baths have been finished in white enamel, with thirty-six individual showers and individual dressing rooms.

With these improvements in accommodations, Dr. Stuart has been enabled to broaden the work of her department, and women will now be allowed to major in physical culture and hygiene. A one-hour course is now offered in personal hygiene, and several biological, physiological are also on the schedule. Four more additional tennis courts have been placed at the disposal of the women of the University, and it is planned to encourage co-ed tennis as long as the weather will permit outdoor exercise.

The Gamma Phi sorority are giving a tally-ho party tonight. The route extends to a farmer's house, where they are to partake of a dinner strictly a la rustic. A moonlight drive home is to close the evening's entertainment.

Carl Gabrielson and Ed. Fortmiller are spending a few days at the Beta Pi house.

The Gamma Phi Beta sorority entertained a few guests at a luncheon Wednesday afternoon.

Dean Goodman, '10, is back in the campus for a few days renewing memories of his college career.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

Ordinarily this effusion of spirit would hardly be recognized as pertaining to the summer school, but the last session of the University of Oregon Summer School ushered in a new era of school work. No more the haunt of flunkers and antiquated maiden lady school mistresses, but the habitat of real earnest students. The social side, which has hitherto been neglected, was this year in the hands of a student committee, which made a decided success of the venture. Receptions, picnics, dances, a tennis tournament, and even a successful rally were features of the program. The brazen throated masculine element paraded down the principal thoroughfare proclaiming the aforementioned Scandinavian whoop in resonant basso, and the fraternity and sorority houses were favored with a few choice selections from the Summer School impromptu glee club.

The attendance this year shows a forty per cent increase over any previous year, more than two hundred and fifty students and teachers were affiliated with summer school work in Eugene.

The registration was mainly from within the state and was a more representative bunch than in former years. About two-thirds of the enrollment consisted of teachers; the rest were candidates for the Bachelor's or Master's degree, who expect to finish in the University proper.

The lectures of Professors Rigler, Cooper and Gray were the star attractions.

The plans for next year include the introduction of several prominent Eastern men into the Summer School faculty and some additional departments from the University proper.

Miss Ruth Hansen, 1910, will be a member of the faculty of the Salem High School this year.

Miss Jessie Hurley, '09, a prominent alumna, is visiting the Gamma Phi Beta sorority a few days. Miss Hurley graduated from Baltimore Women's College last June.
