

COACH WILL TRAIN MEN ON FIRST PRINCIPLES

PROSPECTS OF VICTORY NOT VERY BRIGHT AT PRESENT

Coach Warner Confronted With Taste of Developing a Team From Raw Material, Largely.

Forty men drilling for two hours on the rudiments of football in the spectacle presented every night on Kincaid field. Already some advance is shown for the old men have learned that they know practically nothing, while the freshmen are beginning to learn that they know less than nothing. All are showing a willingness for work that presages well for the future of the 1910 team.

Coach Warner, in speaking of the squad, said: "I was never before in charge of a squad of men composed to such a large extent of entirely green men; men who have had no prep. school training whatever. The men, however, are willing to work and they show the right fighting spirit. It is this fighting spirit that must win the games. The first part of the season must be devoted almost entirely to teaching the fundamentals of the game to the raw recruits.

It will be impossible to get any definite line on Oregon's chances until after the game with the Alumni which takes place a week from Saturday. The Alumni team will be composed entirely of all northwest men. The result of a game between these stars and Warner's recruits will be watched with anxiety by those who hope for Oregon's success.

The Beth Reah girls gave an informal party at their new house to their guests and some of their men friends Saturday evening.

"Kid" Reid, '08, has charge of the construction of a large power plant in Brazil. He is employed by the General Electric Company.

586 TOTAL REGISTRATION —10 PER CENT INCREASE

The total number of students registered in the University this year will undoubtedly reach 1150. The records of registration from the colleges of Law and Medicine have not yet been received but already 586 students have registered in the Colleges of Literature, Science and Arts. Seventy students registered in two days, Monday and Tuesday. The freshman class this year will be larger than ever before and is expected to exceed 300.

Altogether there will be an increase of about ten per cent over last year's total.

Ben H. Williams, '10, ex-president of the student body and star pole vaulter, now teaching at Oakland High School was around shaking hands with old friends Saturday.

Fred Fowler, '12, has secured a position in an architect's office in Portland and will not return to college this fall.

PLACE OF O. A. C. GAME STILL UNSETTLED HOWEVER

Three Games On the Local Gridiron With Complete Schedule for Scrubs and Freshmen.

October 15—Alumni at Eugene.
October 22—Willamette at Eugene.
October 29—Idaho at Moscow.
November 12—O. A. C. at Portland or Corvallis.
November 19—Whitworth at Eugene.
November 25—M. A. A. C. at Portland.

Beside the place for the O. A. C. Oregon game, the football schedule for the Varsity team has been definitely settled. The schedule, as it stands, includes but three games to be played in Eugene, those with the Alumni, Willamette and Whitworth. There will be several good second and freshman team games, however, to be played on the local gridiron. The freshmen eleven will meet the Eugene High School as a preliminary to the Alumni game, and on November 5th the baby team will have a game with some Portland High School. A date is also being arranged for them with the O. A. C. freshmen team. The University second team will also have several games this season. A game has been secured with the Chemawa Indians and arrangements are being made to have the second eleven meet Albany College and Pacific University.

The selection of the place for the Oregon-O. A. C. game lies with O. A. C. this year, and word has not yet been received from them in regard to where it will be held. The game will be played either at Corvallis or Portland, however, and Manager Watson promises either to secure reduced rates from the railroad company or to run an excursion train. If the student band is organized early in the season it will be taken with the team.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY WILL GET ACQUAINTED

The annual reception to the students Christian Associations will begin Friday evening in the Men's gymnasium. This event has come to be traditional at Oregon, occurring each year on the second Friday of the Fall semester and is usually one of the best attended functions of the year, giving as it does, an opportunity for old acquaintances to be renewed and new acquaintances to be formed a feature especially appreciated by the freshmen.

A program will be given during the evening, consisting of vocal and instrumental music by some of the best known artists of the University. Refreshments will also be served on the balcony of the gymnasium.

Every student is urgently invited to attend this reception as it is the only general social gathering of this sort which will occur for some time to come.

Mrs. Fuller is house mother at the Gamma Phi Beta house this year. Mrs. Hellen Duff who has been with the girls for three years past is traveling in Europe.

EMERALD GIVES FIRST LIST OF GLEE CLUB MEN

For the first time in the history of the University, the Glee Club will contain more than the customary sixteen or seventeen men. Professor Glen has selected a list of twenty-four men from the fifty or sixty who tried out and will use twenty and perhaps all of them in the final club. "Depending," as he said, "upon the showing made by the individual men and by the club as a whole."

Ten of the old men are back and are included in this year's list. Of the new men, seven are freshmen, six are sophomores and one is a junior. Prof. Glen is immensely pleased with the material he will have to work with. The first tenor section contains four men who have real first tenor voices—a quality of voice hard to find. One tenor is reputed to have the best of all tenor voices in the history of Oregon Glee Clubs. The other sections are filled with material said to surpass any section of past history.

The following is the trial list chosen:
First tenor—Burke, Storie, Morrison, Dobie, Matschbacher, Lai.

Second tenors—Curtiss, Powell, Rolfe, Quigley, Clark, Bratager.

First Bass—Geisler, Frazer, Lamm, Fortmiller, Brosius, Maris.

Second Bass—Barzee, Vawter, Standard, Ding, Ogden.
Melvin Ogden, accompanist.

Effort is being made to secure a bunch of first class songs and stunts—introducing something new in the way of a program this year if possible.

FIRST GLEE CLUB REHEARSAL THURSDAY—FOUR O'CLOCK

Full attendance is absolutely necessary. Mandolin club is requested to be present for a few minutes if possible a manager is to be elected.

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES FIRST ASSEMBLY TODAY

Before an audience which crowded Villard hall to overflowing, President Campbell this morning delivered an address to the students and faculty assembled which was inspiring and full of good advice. His subject was "Making Good," and was designed to help students, especially freshmen, to enter upon their year's work in the right way and with the proper spirit.

President Campbell began by expressing his appreciation of the large assembly and pleading for good attendance at assembly throughout the year.

His address in part was as follows: "The University owes an obligation to the state. The state as a whole expects the University as a whole to make good. The returns from our great resources must depend upon the human element; the state expects the University to develop citizens and productive workers; the latent possibilities of the individual are immeasurable, and society recognizes his right to every means for development.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY AT OREGON TO BE FEATURE

MONTHLY TO HAVE SEVERAL LIVE FEATURES THIS YEAR

Dean Collins Promises Some Yellow Journalism for Readers of the Monthly

The staff and business managers of the Oregon Monthly met at the Kappa Alpha Theta house last night and outlined their plans for the coming year. It is the expectation to devote each issue to some branch of student activity or phase of college life. Special numbers on football, forensics, co-eds, music, track, the mill race, baseball and basketball are all promised.

An entirely new feature and one which bids fair to double the subscription list is that of "Who's Who at Oregon, and Why?" It is not divulged which of the editors will handle this particular feature, but Dean Collins, editor in chief, smiles when he says, "We intend to feature the 'Who's who' department strongly. No one will be slandered or ill treated, if it can be avoided, but just the same this section is going to be interesting reading."

The fiction department will be in charge of Willetta Wright. Karl Onthank will handle the Engineering section. Alma Payton will edit the poetry and Lucile Abrams will have charge of the illustrations. A large corps of student artists have promised to aid in the illustration of the paper this year. Lloyd Barzee, Dan Mitchell and Birdie wise are assistants in the special departments.

The Freshman's number, the first to appear this fall will go into the hands of the printer October 6, and will be in the hands of the subscribers by the middle of the month. Only enough copies to fill subscriptions will be printed, so subscribe early if you can, to know "Who's who and what he did," said Collins. Ted Williams and Lee Huggins and several of the assistant editors are taking subscriptions.

KIL AND BEN ARE NOW RUNNING HIGH SCHOOL

The Emerald is in receipt of a letter from Oakland, Oregon, containing Mr. Earl Kilpatrick's subscription and enclosing a neatly gotten up program containing the courses of study at his high school. For be it known, Mr. Kilpatrick, '09, is now principal of the Oakland High School and has as assistant principal Mr. Ben H. Williams, '10. The schedule enumerates a complete list of the 22 courses taught and bears on the margin such invigorating subscriptions as "Debate and Oratory are especially encouraged;" "Our year is 36 weeks of earnest work;" "Athletic teams coached by a Northwest champion track man." Needless to say "Kil" and "Ben" will make good at teaching or any other line, and will be followed by the best wishes of all Varsity people.

James Carrol Cecil, of Harney, better known around the campus at "Pat" returned this morning to re-enter college.
