

FOOTBALL PRACTICE AT O.A.C.-HAWLEY CAPTAIN

CAPTAIN-ELECT WALLACE DID NOT RE-ENTER COLLEGE

First Game in Agric Season Will Come October 15, With Alumni Game.

By Special Correspondent
Corvallis, Sept. 29.—With a new coach, a new captain, new rules to play under, and practically a new team, the football season at the Oregon Agricultural College, just opened, bids fair to present some pretty problems for solution. G. H. Schildmiller, a Dartmouth man with an All-American reputation as an end, is the new head coach, and it is expected that he will repeat here his success of last season with the University of Maine team.

One of his difficulties at the outset is the fact that the captain-elect, E. W. Wallace, of Independence, has gone to Yale this year, and thus the team will be deprived of his experienced leadership. His place has just been filled by Bird N. Hawley, of Star, a senior student who was guard of the first team last year, and for two seasons before that did excellent work on the second team in pounding the regulars into shape. James Evenden, of Warrenton, last year's captain, is another of the old men who will not return this year, a serious loss to the line.

Walter Keck, of Hammond, a junior civil engineer, and Floyd Huntley, of Gold Beach, a sophomore in the agricultural course, both of whom made places in several selections of All-Northwest teams last year, are back in the moleskins again. With his speed, weight, and ability as a kicker, Keck will be most useful in the new game, and Huntley, though new to the game last year, should also be a powerful addition to the new line-up.

Clifford Dunn, of Cloverdale, a senior student in the mining school, and John Enberg, of Baker City, another miner, are both back again to add their strength and experience to the O. A. C. grid-iron material. Dunn was a good, consistent player at center last year, and Enberg, though somewhat slow, has weight and experience of several seasons to aid him in making good in the back field.

The first game scheduled is that with the alumni October 15, at Corvallis. The game for the 22nd of October has not yet been settled, but Corvallis will see the game with Washington State College October 29, and that with Whitman College November 5. Decision as to playing the Oregon University team in Portland or in Corvallis has not yet been made, though the date has been set for November 12. The season will close November 24 with the game between O. A. C. and the University of Washington, at Seattle.

Bill Williams and Jim Neill are working in the shops of the General Electric company at Schenectady, N. Y. Herman Witterberg plans to join them there November 1st. All three of these men graduated from the Electrical Engineering department last spring.

YOUNG STATESMEN MEET—PERFECT ORGANIZATION

Yaden of Klamath Secures Presidency—Flow of Eloquence

The freshmen held the first class meeting in their University career on Monday, September 27, at 4:00 o'clock, in Villard Hall. Officers were elected and committees appointed. Professor Straub called the fledglings to order and made a few interesting and timely remarks. Mr. Houck, of Portland, was made temporary chairman, and then the chief business of the day, the election of officers, was taken up. After all the nominations were in the various nominees for President spoke, giving their classmates a full account of their pedigrees, and promising great works for the future, in the event of their election.

Those elected were: President, Vincent Yaden, of Klamath Falls; Vice President, Alsea Hawley, of Salem; Secretary, Peter Crockett, of Pendleton; Treasurer, Oscar Haugen, of Portland; Sergeant at Arms, Harold Young, of Eugene.

After the ballots were counted and Mr. Yaden declared President, he made a short speech expressing his gratitude for the honor and his desire to be an efficient officer.

Arrangements were made for the appointment of committees on debate, football and track work among the freshmen, and for an executive meeting at Professor Straub's home on Saturday afternoon.

STINE CHOSEN MANAGER

Business Meeting of Glee Club Held Thursday

At the first meeting of the Glee Club, held in Villard Hall Thursday afternoon, Harry M. Stine was unanimously chosen to manage the club this year, in the place of Calvin Sweek, who was elected to the managership last spring but did not return to college. President Ogden, in a short speech, outlined the work for the year, and predicted a successful season for the club. He announced that regular rehearsals will commence next Monday at 4:00 o'clock. The management announces that the trip this year will include the Willamette Valley and Eastern Oregon towns.

603 STUDENTS ALREADY REGISTERED—TEN PER CENT GAIN

There were a total of 603 students registered in the University in the departments of Literature, Science and Arts, on Friday afternoon.

Total registration for this semester will easily reach 700, with good prospects of a larger number next semester. The freshman class numbers 250. Although the number of daily registrations is daily diminishing, it promises the gain of ten per cent. The increase over the count taken this time last year is from 40 to 50.

Mrs. E. T. Thrall is with the Chi Omega fraternity as house mother again this year.

CARLETON SPENCER WILL LEAD SOPHOMORE CLASS

MISS CLEVELAND SECRETARY, MARTZLOFF TREASURER

Pres. Spencer Has Announced His Committee Appointments For Coming Year.

At the sophomore class elections held Thursday at 4:00 P. M. Mr. Carlton Spencer, of Cottage Grove was elected class President; Miss Corinne Degermark, of Portland, Vice President; Miss Florence Cleveland, of Portland, Secretary; Mr. Carrl Martzloff, also of Portland, Treasurer; and Edward F. Bailey, of Eugene, Sergeant at Arms.

An interesting feature of the election was the reading of personal letters from Mr. Vawter and Mr. Kay, appealing in "all humility" for the right to vote by proxy. This right was granted.

President Campbell, in his address to the class, commended the class for its attitude towards hazing. "The sophomore class," he said, "have done nobly. Angels could do no more." The class showed an appreciation of these remarks by a scarcely perceptible flapping of angelic wings, creating a rustling, ethereal sound that pervaded the whole building during a lapse of several seconds.

The nominations for the office of Sergeant at Arms brought out most of the avoirdupois in the class, also quite a remarkable percentage of brains. On the nomination of Mr. Edward Bailey, the opinion was brought forward that physique need not be the only determining factor, and that, contrary to common belief, brainy men were needed for this office. The same plea was made for Mr. Wentworth.

President Spencer has announced the appointments of the following committees: Executive, Brosius, Collier and Briedwell; football, Mount, Walker, Waite, Wentworth and Morrison.

PAJAMA ROOTERS RALLY

Charles Robison Leads Cohorts Through Houses

Seventy-eight enthusiastic students in pajamas opened the rally season last night with a house to house campaign. The trouble started at the Avava club at 11:00 P. M., under the leadership of the redoubtable Charles Robison. Singing and cheering, the men in lock step marched to the different boys' fraternities and club houses. A cheer would be given in front, and then the serpentine would march through the house, annexing the pajama-clad inmates.

The serpentine was kept up through town, terminating at the St. Francis hotel, where speeches were called for from Coach Warner and Trainer Hayward. Though strictly informal, the affair was enjoyed by all and succeeded in arousing considerable pre-season enthusiasm.

Utah has but five old men back for the football squad.

TWO ASSISTANTS FOR HAYWARD IN MEN'S GYM

Professor Kurtz and Chuck Taylor Take Charge of Classes.

The new gym is a busy place these days, with men training for football, track, and besides the regular gym classes, and the classes in boxing and wrestling.

At this time of the year it is particularly true that a greater amount of work and supervision is needed. Trainer Hayward is kept busy registering the men and looking out for new material along all the lines in his department. There are now two assistants in the regular gymnasium work—Mr. Kurtz, a Cornell man, who is registered in the Engineering department, and has four hours a day in the gym; also "Chuck" Taylor, captain of the football team, who has two hours of regular class work.

Although college has only begun, there are already one hundred and fifty-eight men in regular gym work, sixty-eight in the boxing classes, and 34 in the wrestling classes. So there is opportunity for plenty of enthusiasm along all these lines.

In an interview with Mr. Hayward yesterday, in speaking of football, he said: "The football material is good, but there is not enough of it. We need the entire support of everyone on and off the field. It is up to the students to show the old time enthusiasm that existed when I took up work here at the Varsity. And it may be that some of the freshmen will make places on the team over the old men."

BILL STARTS CO-ED TEAM

Cornelia Pinkham Will Captain Girls' Eleven

Will the Varsity girls come through, and show their interest in football and incidentally the men, by attending football practice?

This is the question. And if they will, thus showing their loyalty and helping to increase the Oregon spirit, then Trainer Hayward has promised to give a banquet at the close of the football season to the eleven girls who have attended practice most regularly and shown the most interest and enthusiasm.

Mr. Hayward said yesterday: "I wish the girls would show their old time interest, and I hope this little proposition of mine will be taken up. The banquet will be a good one—the Osburn Hotel will be made to do its best."

Cornelia Pinkham, '11, will be temporary captain, and will keep a record of the attendance. Several of the alumnae who have been taken into the secret are very much interested in this new plan.

Rae Zimmerman, Fielda McClain, Ione Lambert and Ethel Clark, who have all been in Eugene for the week, returned to Portland Sunday.

O. A. C. is trying a new system of not help but feel that they are merely gell, who last year was general manager, has left the college and Malcolm Cox, '10, will be general graduate manager.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAM HELD OCT. 25-26

PROFS. STRAUB AND DUNN PRESIDE—COLLINS WILL ENTER

Oregon Already Has Two Graduates at Oxford, Cecil Lyans, '10, and Wistar Johnson, '06.

Examinations for the Rhodes Scholarship will be held in Eugene at the University campus October 25 and 26. These examinations will be in charge of Professors Dunn and Straub. All candidates are urgently requested to communicate immediately with these men. Examinations will include Latin, Greek and Mathematics.

The questions are sent out from Oxford College, and are also corrected there. The papers are marked either as passed or failed. Those marked passed are returned to the place where they were written and from the owners of these papers the successful candidate is chosen. The selection is made by a committee consisting of the presidents of the six universities and colleges in Oregon, Willamette University, Pacific University, Albany College, Dallas College, Oregon Agricultural College, and the University of Oregon.

The Rhodes Scholarship sends the holder to Oxford College, England, for three years, with a pearly allowance of about $1,500.00, enough to pay for the schooling expenses and a continental trip each summer.

Oregon now has two of its graduates in England on this scholarship: Cecil Lyans, '09, and Wistar Johnson, '06.

So far Dean Collins is the only local man who has announced himself as a contestant.

NEW ORATORICAL COURSE MODELED ON HARVARD'S

The department of public speaking is offering three new courses this semester. The most important is that of Public Discourse. This course is modeled after a similar one at Harvard. It includes the greater part of the work offered last year in the course in argumentation, with the addition of considerable work in the other forms of discourse.

A course in parliamentary law has also been added, as well as one in extemporaneous speaking for girls.

Lee James Caulfield, ex-'12 in Engineering, is running for county surveyor of Clackamas county. He has held the position of deputy since the close of college.

Lloyd H. Hamren, leader of Utah's debating team against Oregon last year, is now editor of the U. of U. Chronicle.

The Chi Omega fraternity was entertained by Miss Vivian Simms, from Northwestern, Saturday afternoon.

The Y. W. C. A. had a reception for the freshman girls at Mrs. P. L. Campbell's Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:00. Refreshments were served in the dining room.
