

NEW ISSUE OF MONTHLY REDEEMS ALL PROMISES

FRESHMAN ISSUE CONTAINS MANY INTERESTING FEATURES

Paper Is Being Distributed Today and Is Devoted to 1914—Football Will Star In Next.

What is probably the best and liveliest Monthly ever published, is being distributed this afternoon and abundantly justifies Editor Collins' enthusiastic predictions as to its excellence.

The cover is from the pen of the versatile editor, and is a shadow view of Deady Hall from the west approach. It is printed on pale yellow in green ink, making a very effective combination of the college colors. The issue is devoted to the class of 1914, and contains advice, warning and admonition to the freshmen on college matters.

President Campbell has contributed a foreword to the newcomers, outlining the pace set by 1913 and showing what is expected of 1914. Miss Dunham, '14, writes on the "Promise of '14," and pays some compliments and abilities of the various noted freshmen, predicting, of course, brilliant careers. Charles Robison has a clever Kiplingesque poem entitled "Everyman—Freshman." This warns the youngsters what not to do to become successful.

Among the other interesting articles is a contribution by Miss Williamson on Professor Hawthorne's work for Oregon.

The literary section contains stories from the versatile pens of Willetta Wright, Evans Huston, Dan Mitchell and others. Though the real sensation of the issue is the Monthly's first essay into the field of "yellowness," the Who's Who and Since When articles on "Prexy" Collier and his colleagues of the executive committee. The "funny" part is grouped under the "Rescued From the Waste Basket," and contain a "Freshman Primer in Words of Only One Syllable."

The Engineering section contains timely articles of local interest, in which the extremely technical side is not developed. They are good reading for even art students.

On top of all this, the editor promises an even larger and better issue, which will be devoted to football and gridiron heroes.

PROFESSIONAL PAPERS SENT TO PROF. FRINK

Dr. J. A. L. Waddell, to whom the College of Engineering is indebted for the valuable lectures delivered here recently, has sent to Professor Frink a complimentary copy of his professional papers. This is a volume of about one thousand pages, containing selections from the author's writings during the past thirty years. The book may be seen at any time on Professor Frink's desk.

INTERFRAT. BASKETBALL LEAGUE TO ORGANIZE

Varsity Practice Will Begin Soon—Practice Hours Will Be Four to Five

"Basketball practice will begin next week, and all aspirants for Varsity honors will be given an even chance," was Trainer Hayward's statement. The hour will be from four to five on week days, and later when the squad is picked, evening practice will be held.

Beside the regular interclass games, it is Mr. Hayward's intention to hold an interclub and interfraternity tournament. The idea, as yet, is in its infancy, but if enough teams enter and sufficient skill is developed, a trophy will be put up for the winner. Regular hours will be assigned to the different teams to avoid conflicts in practicing.

There appear to be enough basketball men in college to make a success of such a league, but interest in the indoor game evidently has waned since members of the Varsity basketball teams were denied "O's"

SENATOR BOOTH WILL SPEAK TO YOUNG MEN

Senator R. A. Booth, well known in Eugene and throughout the state in the political arena, has been scheduled to speak at the men's meeting Friday evening. Mr. Booth's subject, "Making a Living or a Life," is a theme that has been carefully considered in his own career, and in both lines he has been eminently successful. There are few speakers in the state more forcible and eloquent than Senator Booth, and his address on Friday evening will undoubtedly be of unusual interest and worth to all who hear him.

As usual, the meeting will begin at 7:00 and will be dismissed promptly at 7:50.

GAME WILL BE FIERCE

Class Pip to be In Evidence at Annual Gridiron Battle

The Sophomore-Freshman game Friday promises to be a warm one. Word has just leaked out from Sophomore headquarters that they are going to give an only and original substitute for the ancient and revered custom of "hazing." "The Frosh are altogether too elated at the entire immunity they have enjoyed this year," is the tone of the quiet message being passed from Soph to Soph, "so expect something good when we get them out where we can rough them a little without getting up on the carpet for hazing."

Nothing definite can be learned of just what the Freshmen are to be put through, but the fact that every Sophomore on the campus has sworn to be there to see the fun, is pretty good evidence that something out of the ordinary is to be sprung on the unsuspecting Freshies. If the Frosh get wise and turn out in equal numbers, the ten cent admission fee charged should put the treasury of the winning class in a very healthy condition.

PUGET SOUND U. PLAYS ON KINCAID SATURDAY

METHODIST COLLEGE TO MAKE ITS DEBUT IN EUGENE

Though Light, The Visitors Are Fast and Might Spring a Surprise On Warner's Men

Oregon will line up a crippled team against the Puget Sound University eleven here next Saturday afternoon. Main will be unable to play because of an injured shoulder. Mitchell is suffering from a wrenched knee, which will probably keep him out of football for the remainder of the season. Latourrette will also be kept out of the game as a result of injuries.

The Puget Sound team is light and fast, and although they were overwhelmingly defeated by Washington last Saturday, they will invade the Oregon territory prepared to give the best they have. Washington won Saturday's game by the score of 51 to 0. According to the Tacoma paper, the P. U. team, although outweighed twenty pounds to man, fought a game contest.

Coach Warner will give orders to his men to run a large score against Puget Sound. The Oregon team has perfected its team work since the alumni game, and the weak places demonstrated by Saturday's contest have been strengthened.

Manager Watson voices a plea for more liberal student support at the games, as in the alumni contest but two hundred and eighty-five students, out of six hundred, were on the grounds.

There will be another preliminary game between the Eugene High School and the Oregon Freshmen. The first game will be called at 2:30 o'clock. Puget Sound University will line up as follows: Max, L. E., Webb, L. T., Mitchell, L. G., Benbow, C., Nickolsen, R. G., Bend, R. T., Smith, R. E., Beardsley, Q., Servis, L. H., Decker, R. H., Nelson, F. B.

Coach Warner is not yet prepared to reveal the Varsity lineup, but will work in a large number of players to give all the promising ones a chance.

WENDELL BARBOUR WILL MANAGE STUDENT DANCES

At a meeting of the executive committee with Professor Glen last night, provisional arrangements were made for the first student body dance, which will take place on the evening of November 5th, provided that date is granted. Pending the decision of the committee on the date, general arrangements have been made and committees appointed. Wendell Barbour has been made general manager of the whole affair. As patronesses, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Penneil, Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Prescott have been selected. Following the policy inaugurated early last spring, these student body dances will be strictly informal. They will be held in the gym as usual, and a general admission of fifty cents a couple will be charged.

INTERESTING SPEAKERS BOOKED FOR ASSEMBLY

Next Attraction Will be Miss Brehm's Talk On Temperance

In line with its motto of "everything for Oregon," the University is to have the best line of speakers obtainable for assembly hour for the next two months. A large percentage of these speakers are members of the faculty, and all are men of rare ability.

Next Wednesday Miss Brehm, the noted temperance worker, will lecture on temperance from a scientific standpoint. This lecture will be non-partisan, and will be very interesting. Miss Brehm is a deep thinker, and is one of the few women orators in Oregon.

On November 2 Dr. Schaefer will deliver a lecture on "Some Conditions of Leadership." This is from American political history, and with a capable historian, as is Dr. Schaefer, handling this subject, it should be one of the best hours of the year.

This lecture was delivered before the Oregon chapter of the Sons of American Revolution, which met in Portland last January. It was greatly admired, and several periodicals reprinted it without alteration.

For November 16, as yet no arrangement has been made, but there are several capable men in view, and without doubt one will shortly be announced.

The first Wednesday after the Thanksgiving recess, Dr. Sheldon will speak on "Wm. James—An Appreciation." Dr. Sheldon is ever a deep thinker and an interesting speaker, and as a lecturer he has a state reputation.

With an address on a psychological subject entitled "The Land of the Magnolia," Dr. Bennett closes the present prepared list of speakers. Dr. Bennett is a new man here, but judging from the popularity of his classes, this lecture should prove even more so.

SOCCER CANDIDATES FEW

Soccer Field Being Prepared Back of Library

It may be another year before the University of Oregon can boast a soccer team. So far, only five or six men show up for practice, and it takes eleven men to compose a team.

Those who have not found their place in athletics may see their opportunity for distinction here, since only two, Mr. Crockett and Mr. Rigler, have ever played the game before. The essential qualities required are speed and wind, as the game is a continual running affair, much like basketball, with forty-five minute halves.

The merits and characteristics of the game will be set forth in an article in the Monthly, by Peter Crockett, who played the game for many years in Scotland before coming to this country.

A soccer field is being prepared west of the library, and when that is completed, prospective soccer players will have a field all to themselves to practice on. The soccer season usually ends at Easter.

REDUCTION TO STUDENTS FOR YAW CONCERT

Manager Smith, of the Eugene Theater, has made a reduction to all University students for the concert of Ellen Beach Yaw. Miss Yaw will appear in Eugene next Wednesday, October 19. Many students will undoubtedly take advantage of this offer, as Miss Yaw comes with an unexcelled record as a singer of note. The reduction amounts to fifty cents on any one dollar or one dollar and a half seat in the house.
