GERMAN CLUB MEETS FIRST WITH ACACIAS

Mr. Lusky Speaks, German Club
Quartet Sings, Vacation

The German Club of the University held the initial meeting of the year last Tuesday evening, October 18th, at the Acacia fraternity house. The first part of the evening's program was presided over by the president, Billy Reuter, who gave an interesting talk on the club and its work. Mr. Lusky, the new assistant in the German Department, also talked to the members, telling of the organization and work of various similar societies all over the country. During the evening musical numbers were given by Francis Curtis, Jerry Martin and the newly organized German Club Quartette, consisting of Jerry Martin, Vernon Matschenbacher, Francis Curtis, and Homer Maris. The remainder of the evening was spent in telling stories and singing songs, various interesting summer experiences being related.

Twenty new names have already been submitted for membership. The club expects to do a great deal of valuable work this winter. Following the plan adopted last year, meetings will be held every two weeks, at the various club and fraternity houses.

A circular letter started by the Whitman class of '08 has now gone three rounds and has reached such proportions as to require sixteen cents for postage.

Susan Hayes, '09, is teaching in Fossil, Oregon, again this year.

DRAMATIC CLUB TRYOUT BEST ONE IN HISTORY

More than Twenty-Five Students
Try For Places

A larger number of students entered the Dramatic Club tryout Thursday evening than ever before in the history of that organization. The judges, Miss Beach, Mrs. Beals, Miss Cross, Mr. Buchen and Professor Glen, found it difficult to choose from the thirty-five or forty contestants only enough members to fill the limited number of vacancies. The successful contestants are: Jean Miller, Alma Noon, Margaret Egan, Janet Young, Mr. McConnell, Mr. Lamb, Mr. Curtis, Mr. Warner and Mr. Martin.

COLLEGE MEN WANTED FOR TEACHERS PLACES

Last year the University of Oregon placed thirty-two of its ninety-six graduates in the schools of Oregon as teachers, and fully sixty applications for teachers filed with the Registrar went unfilled on account of the limited supply of University graduates who will teach.

The greatest demand was for graduates who can be principals or instructors in high schools. Many applications ask for men, and offer good salaries for such instructors, but the University has been able to satisfy this demand least, for it seems that the college men are ex-

Dr. Sheldon, head of the Education Department, thinks that the demand for teachers who are University graduates will be greater this year than last. He is tremendously loath to enter the teaching profession.

LONG LINE OF DOPE FROM AGRIC FRIENDS

Corvallis, Oct. 21.—C. E. Fisher, physical director at Grinnell College, Iowa, has arrived in Corvallis, and will temporarily assume the duties of physical director at Oregon Agricultural College. Mr. Fisher is on a six months' leave of absence, and will be here until January 1, when he will resume his duties at Grinnell College.

Miss Mabel Woodbury, of Chicago, has been elected to an instructorship in the school of music at Oregon Agricultural College. Miss Woodbury was a pupil of Sercik, Prague, for five years, and for two years assisted William Eylan, of Berlin. Since her return to America she has spent a year at an institution at Lindsborg, Kansas, at the head of the violin department.

F. W. Grove Jr. has been secured by the Oregon Agricultural College as instructor in Chemical Engineering. Mr. Grove is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and has been associated with the International Pump Company at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

F. E. Dobel, graduate of Depaw University and University of Illinois, has been appointed to the position of instructor in art. Mr. Dobel has been in active practice with Westinghouse, Church, Kerr and Company, New York, supervising architectural offices, Washington, D. C., and Spencer and Powers, architects, Chicago.

V. I. Safro, graduate of Cornell, is the new research assistant of Etomology at Oregon Agricultural College. He will carry on the Adams investigations relating to the effect of lime and sulphur spray upon fruit. For the past year Mr. Safro has been located at Dallas, Texas, in charge of the Boll Weevil investigations of the bureau of Etomology and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Clifton L. Flint, graduate of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, has been secured to succeed Professor A.
