GERMAN BOYS SLUGGISH
AMERICAN BOYS LIVELY

So Says Herr Horace Hornstein,
Late of Austria, Now
of U. S. A.

A new student at the University is Horace Hornstein, a young man who comes with an unusually bright record from the University of Vienna. Mr. Hornstein is of German parentage, and when he came to America only five weeks ago he did not know a word of English. He now speaks English fluently and correctly. At present he is registered in the English department; later he will take up pre-medic work. Although he has been here only a short time, he expresses himself as "Delighted with America and Americans." Remarkable about the difference between his own people and the Americans, he said, "German boys are sluggish and lazy; American boys are full of life and always doing something." Mr. R. C. French, director of the Educational Department of the Portland Y. M. C. A., came up to Eugene with Mr. Hornstein to assist him in starting his courses.

The Kloshe Tillacum girls have a number of their old members back for the installation to take place this week, among whom are Harriet Lane, Olivia Risley, Agnes Stevenson and Annie Bergman. Two Tri Deltas, Alice Porterfield and Murell Trull, are here from Berkeley to conduct the installation.

Edith Woodcock will spend the week end at her home in Portland.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP
EXAM NOW BEING HELD

Five Candidates from Oregon,
Pacific and McMinnville Universities

The examinations for the Rhodes scholarship are being held the Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. There are five applicants this year, two of whom are from Oregon, Dean Collins and William St. John. The others taking the examinations are A. C. Robinson, from Pacific, Mr. Bowlin and Mr. Woody, from McMinnville.

The examination papers are sent direct to Oxford, where they are corrected and then returned. A committee of the Presidents of the University of Oregon, Willamette University, McMinnville College, Pacific University and Albany College select from those who passed the examinations successfully, the one who is to attend Oxford. Tuesday morning, examinations in the translation of Latin into English were held. In the afternoon the examinations in Latin prose and Arithmetic. Today those of Greek translation into English in the morning, Latin and Greek Grammar and Algebra or Geometry in the afternoon.

The scholarship consists of three hundred pounds a year for three years, which is supposed to be enough for a student to live comfortably on throughout the three years.

E. M. BROWN WILL SPEAK TO MEN MONDAY EVE'NG

"The Man Worth While" will be the subject of the talk that will be given at men's meeting on Friday evening by E. M. Brown, General Secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. Mr. Brown's talks are generally full of enthusiasm, and he has a plain, direct way of saying things. He will undoubtedly have several points of practical value to bring out.

The quartet that pleased the men last Friday evening will sing again at this meeting.

The meetings thus far this year have been of rather a miscellaneous character, but Harold Quigley, chairman of the committee that provides for the meetings and speakers, is planning a series of five or six meetings on "A College Man's Problems," that will begin in about two weeks and will fill the remaining Friday evenings till Christmas.

WILLIAMS AND HAMBLE
EXHORT THE LAUREANS

Speeches by Ben Williams and Bolton Hamble lent interest to the Laurean meeting last Friday night. Ben and "Bo" were in town for the U. P. S. game, and while here treated the freshmen of the society to a little of the old time Laurean oratory. Both urged the men to get behind the literary societies and make them go.

Among other things, Mr. Hamble said: "The Laurean Society has come to be a tradition at Oregon. Prominent men of the state, were they called upon to address Wednesday morning assemblies, would open their remarks by saying that they had once been Laureans. This tradition must be perpetuated by the students, and especially by the underclassmen. To keep the Laureans active, the Philologists must be equally strong, and it is for you to see that they are."

The Gamma Phi Betas will hold a reception for their house mother on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Kendall, of Portland, will spend the week end at the Gamma Phi Beta house with her daughter Ada.
