CORVALLIS TEAM FAST DECISION OF ORE. MEN

O. A. C. - WHITMAN GAME
GIVES U. O. LINE
ON RIVALS

Agrics Played Great Game Last
Saturday Against the Fast and Plucky Missionaries.

According to Warner, Taylor, Latourette and Walker, who witnessed the O. A. C.-Whitman game at Corvallis last Saturday, O. A. C. has the fastest team in the history of the school.

"The speed shown by the Agrics' back field is phenomenal. The ends and tackles follow the ball in an exceptional style." This was shown Saturday by the fact that one of the Corvallis tackles recovered a punt and ran for a touch-down. Behind the wonderful interference offered by Keck, the O. A. C. backs advanced the ball for consistent gain.

Keck's long spiral punts are difficult to handle on a slippery field.

The O. A. C. team lines up with the old style quarter position, instead of the direct pass to the backs. There were only four forward passes tried against Whitman. These were short and quick, and three of the four were successful.

The Corvallis football field is slow. It is newly graded, and all indications point to a quagmire, in which it will be necessary to play next Saturday. As shown by the rooters after the game with Whitman, O. A. C. seems confident of defeating Oregon. When the machine bearing the Oregon contingent left the grounds after last Saturday's game, such expressions were hurled at the Oregon men as, "We will get you Saturday," "Look out for Keck," "What do you think of us," etc. The O. A. C. rooters displayed none of the old time rowdiness with which they have formerly been accused. Between halves they generously placed new overcoats about the shoulders of the Whitman players. At intervals during the game, Whitman yells were given by the rooters.

Realizing the true strength of the Agrics from the exhibition of their playing in the Whitman game, the Oregon football authorities are unanimous in predicting a hard struggle next Saturday when the U. of O. and O. A. C. teams meet for their annual game.

FLOOR TO BE AGAIN
DRESSED IF NECESSARY

The University Regents are taking steps to put the new Gymnasium floor in better shape for dancing.

The floor always has been sticky, owing to improper dressing at first. An investigation is being made of its condition at the recent student dance, and if the authorities find the floor still bad, the matter will be reported to Judge R. S. Bean, head of the Board of Regents, and heroic measures adopted for putting it in the best possible condition. It is possible that an expert will be brought from Portland with special apparatus for redressing the hard wood.

In the interim, the fraternities will be allowed to hold their formals in the down town armory, but when the floor is remedied, all college dances must be in the gym, subject to the student affairs committee.

To show that they are no less patriotic than their friends at home, the Chinese students in the United States will contribute monthly toward the popular fund now being raised in China to enlarge the imperial Chinese navy.

BILL HARD MAN TO KILL

Back With Team Sound As a
Dollar, After Week In Hospital

Trainer Hayward is about the campus again, sound as a dollar after his recent unpleasant experience in the Eugene Hospital, where he was suffering from bronchitis with symptoms of diphtheria.

The attending doctors are lost in admiration of Bill's splendid constitution, which enabled him to throw off his malady and return to work after but a week's confinement. Bill has been badly missed by the football management in getting the men in shape for Saturday's big game. The men, however, have great respect for Bill's disciplinary system and not a single violation of training rules has been reported since the trainer's illness.

With a few last touches of Bill's "Big Medicine" the men will go into the O. A. C. game in perfect trim.

Robert Taft, son of President Taft, has quit Yale and gone to Harvard to study law.

LEAGUE WILL ORGANIZE

Will Play Interfrat and Interclass
Basketball

Two basketball leagues are to be organized next Monday. One for fraternity teams, and the other for class teams. Representative men from the classes will meet in the gymnasium at 4:00 o'clock to perfect an organization. The fraternity league will be organized at 4:30 o'clock, in the same building.

The leagues will begin their schedules after Thanksgiving. The hours in the gymnasium will be arranged so that all teams may have opportunity to practice, even if the building has to be kept open after supper.

Bill Hayward offers a cup to the winning fraternity team, and Laraway, the jeweler, offers one to the victorious class team.

A considerable amount of interest is being manifest about the campus over the two proposed leagues, and plans are already being formulated by several clubs to put out a winning team. The league is formed for two reasons: First, to increase the participation of the student body as a whole in athletics; and second, to develop material for the Varsity basketball team.

NO SALARIED PLAYERS AT U.O. FINDS FACULTY

COMMITTEE CLEARS MEN OF CHARGE OF INELIGIBILITY

One Other Charge Yet to be Investigated, Though it is Expected to be Rumor.

The faculty advisory committee, to which the charges against the football team were referred, met Monday afternoon.

President Campbell, when seen today, stated that the report that some of the players were receiving compensation, had been thoroughly investigated, and had been traced down to mere hearsay and rumor, and found to be altogether unfounded.

The second charge is now being investigated, but the prevailing opinion seems to be that it will prove equally vague and unfounded.

President Campbell said further: "From what I know of the character of the men on our football team, I was surprised that any charges of compensation should have been preferred, and we are satisfied that the reports, which were only the vaguest hearsays, originated in some player's joking remark about receiving a salary."

The committee will meet again on Thursday, and the remaining charge will be thoroughly sifted.

Rumors of a pending faculty investigation have been rife for some time, and there was naturally much speculation as to the nature of the charges and to the outcome of the investigation. The faculty, however, has considered the matter, to take action, or to vindicate the players. Just now the impression seems to be that the mysterious "charges" were mere rumors and without foundation.

U. W. WANTS '14 GAME

Ask For Freshman Game In Seattle November 18

The freshman team of the University of Washington would like to play the Oregon freshmen November 18.

At least that is the gist of a letter from Manager Watson received this morning from Manager McKay, of the Seattle freshmen. The letter inquired how much guarantee Oregon would demand for taking the freshmen to Seattle.

The freshmen have been through one hard game and Trainer Hayward is inclined to refuse Washington the game proposed at such a late date.

The management, including the coaches, is, however, considering the matter, and it is possible that the Oregon youngsters will get the trip after all.

In the event of accepting the challenge, Oregon will insist on playing freshmen, irrespective of whether they have participated in Varsity games. Otherwise Washington would have a hopeless handicap on Oregon, where the scarcity of material compels the use of freshmen on the Varsity team.

OREGON SPIRIT RAMPANT

Gigantic Rally Scheduled for Thursday Night

Plans for what promises to be the biggest rally in the history of Oregon are completed. Fireworks are on hand, noise apparatus of efficiency guaranteed to all but wake the dead is ready for distribution, and last, but by no means least, the freshmen laboring on a bonfire towering well above those of former years.

All Oregon men will meet at the Dormitory at 7:30 P. M. and form in line for the march to the business part of town and back to Kincaid Field. Each class president will marshal the men of his own class. Stringent measures to get every man of every class out will be adopted.

After the march through town to the light of green fire and Roman candles, the rally proper will be held in the light of the freshmen's big blaze.

Among the speakers are President Campbell, Hon. Sam Friendly, Coach Warner, Bill Hayward, Assistant Coach Gordon Moores, Capt. Chuck Taylor, Professor Glen and "Hippo" Gillis.

The University of Pennsylvania is practicing English Rugby as a side sport.

AT 174 OREGON HEAVIER THAN FAST AGRIC TEAM

REYNOLDS LOWERS O. A. C.
BAILEY RAISES U.
AVERAGE

As Last Year Keck Is O. A. C.'s
Mainstay and Is Kicking Better Than Ever.

While Oregon seems to have an advantage over O. A. C. in weight, the general run of the players is about even.

In "Fat" Bailey Oregon has a man who boosts the team average about two pounds per man. At O. A. C., Reynolds, the diminutive quarterback, lowers the team average by some four or five pounds. The average weight of the Oregon backs is 159, and the forward line 181. The average is 174.

O. A. C.'s line is lighter, but Coach Schumacher has developed a set of fast aggressive backs, that, with the exception of Reynolds, excels Oregon's for weight. Spectators at the recent O. A. C.-Whitman contest report that the Aggie back field works like a well adjusted waterbury. If such is the case, their superior weight will be a formidable factor that should give Oregon's defense a bunch of trouble.

The difference in weight this year is about the same as last year, yet it will be remembered that Keck repeatedly tore off twelve-yard gains through Oregon's line in the early part of the contest. The big Aggie fullback will be in better shape for the coming battle than he was at any time during last season, and great things may be expected in the punting department.

It is on the kicking end that O. A. C. has it over Oregon. Freshman Fenton is a distance punter, but not consistent, while Latourette is steady, but not strong on distance.

As a whole, the rival teams are undoubtedly the most evenly balanced that they have been in years, and Saturday's contest promises to be a battle royal.

Y. M. C. A. ANNOUNCES A FINE LECTURE COURSE

A series of addresses has been arranged for by Harold Quigley, chairman of the meetings committee of the Y. M. C. A., to begin on Friday evening and continue for five weeks.

The subject of the series is, "A College Man's Problems." The problems which will be discussed for the next five weeks are, "The College Man's Social Life," by Professor J. F. Bovard, Nov. 11; "College Ethics," Professor Bennett, Nov. 18; "The Sex Problem," Dr. A. J. Browning, of Portland, Nov. 23; "Choosing a Life Work," President Kerr, of O. A. C., Dec. 9; "Is Religion Practical," Dr. Hinson, of Portland.

This is the first of three series which will be given this year. The second one will begin about the first of February, in which six phases of the Bible will be presented, and the third one in April, the Life Work Series.

These series have been arranged after considerable thought and investigation by the committee, and the speakers secured for them are among the best in the state to discuss such subjects.

It is hoped that the men of the University will attend these meetings in large enough numbers to make it worth while to bring speakers from Portland and other cities in this section of the state. The meetings will begin promptly at seven and close at ten minutes to eight.

Yale used thirty men in the football game with Tufts. Six men were sent into the game the second time.
