12 GIRLS LEARN HOW TO TEACH GYMNASTICS

New Major Course to Dr. Stuart
Is Proving Quite Popular
With Co-Eds

With the beginning of this semester, the scope of the University was further extended by the addition of an entirely new and novel course, namely, the women's course in Teaching of Gymnastics, with Dr. Stuart as major professor.

A student who majors in this department, after four years' work, receives the regular B. A. degree, with an additional recommendation for teaching the gymnastic branches. Anyone who has taken the entire work is also prepared to teach several of the sciences, such as Physiology, Botany and Zoology.

The course includes almost all of the scientific work done in the preparatory medical work, as well as several courses in Hygiene, Theory of Gymnastics and Corrective Gymnastics.

Twelve enthusiastic girls have already enrolled as majors in this department, and thus shown their appreciation of the fact that this course opens up to them an unusually wide range in the field of teaching.

Dr. Stuart herself teaches several in Personal Hygiene, Osteology, etc., besides the regular gymnastic classes.

In freshman and sophomore gymnasium work this year are enrolled about two hundred and twelve girls, one hundred more than last year. There is also the class in fancy dancing, and about twenty girls are taking Corrective Gymnastics, to cure weak hearts, weak lungs, spinal curvature, and other defects.

At Worcester the college paper is sent to every student and member of the faculty, and notice must be sent if it is not wanted. Every student is considered a subscriber until notice to the contrary is received.

U. OFFERS WIDE RANGE OF LECTURE COURSES

Professors Prepare Topics of
Live and General
Interest

Prominent members of the University faculty have prepared a series of lectures to be given before the different high schools and clubs of the state. The list of subjects offers a wide range for selection and the lectures are to be given free. The only expenses incurred are the travelling expenses of the speaker. The professors will be usually most available for the week ends. Any of the following lectures may be secured by communicating with the lecturer himself or with the administration office of the University:

Prof. Irving M. Glen—Four lectures on Early English Poetry; "The Beowulf," "Cynewulf's Christ," "St. Juliana," "St. Guthlac."

Dr. F. G. G. Schmidt—"Faust," illustrated; "German Universities," illustrated; "Schiller," illustrated; "Weimar, The Athens of Germany," illustrated.

Prof. A. R. Sweetser—"The Gospel of Purity," "Swat the Fly," "Microscopic Friends and Foes of Every Day Life," "Toadstool Talk," "Oregon Trees."

Prof. Frederic Dunn—"Virgil's Aeneid," illustrated; "The Acropolis," illustrated; "The Passing of Rome," illustrated; "The Pharaohs of Exodus," illustrated; "Caesar and Cicero;" "Benjamin Franklin Before the Revolution."

Dr. James Gilbert—Twelve lectures on economic subjects, including studies in Immigration, the Tariff, Currency, Panics and Commercial Crises, the Railways, Trusts and Socialism.

Prof. Arthur C. Collier—Three lectures in Geology.

Prof. H. C. Howe—Three lectures on Shakespeare (popular); "The Education of a Free People."

Prof. E. E. DeCou—"The World's Peace Movement;" "The Solar System," illustrated; "Mathematical Recreations," Geometric and Algebraic Fallacies, Magic Squares, etc.

Dr. Joseph Schafer—"Some Conditions of Leadership."

Prof. Franklin Barker—"The Geography of the Willamette Valley;" "The Development of Oregon's Geography."

Prof. John Bovard—"The Animals of the Past," "Epochs in the History of Zoology;" "Hereditry and Environment;" "The Problem of Age, Growth and Death."

Dr. Henry D. Sheldon—Educational and institute lectures.

Prof. L. R. Alderman—Educational and institute lectures.

Dr. H. B. Leonard—"Practical Value of the Study of Mathematics," "Special Methods of Teaching Problems and the Handling of Condition Equations," "The Fourth Dimension."

DANCE BOTH FINANCIAL AND SOCIAL SUCCESS

Manager Barbour has balanced his books for the first student informal, and finds that 111 students attended, and that he has a net balance of $29.55 on hand.

The management is considerably encouraged over the outcome of the affair, and especially pleased to find that what is conceded to be the most successful one of the series left a surplus. This surplus will be devoted to making an even bigger success of the next one, which will be sandwiched in some time between the sophomore and freshman class hops.

Because of the incorrect dressing the gymnasium floor received last winter, Foreman Fisher plans to have the floor completely recovered, to obviate the sticky oiliness, which at present interferes with dancing so seriously.

Football at Harvard last year netted the athletic association a profit of $57,308. Other sports that showed a profit during the fiscal year ending July 31, 1910, were baseball and lawn tennis. The total income for the year was $130,562, and the expenses $127,945, leaving a balance of $2,616.

Freshmen at the University of Montana are compelled to wear gray caps decorated with a small maroon button.

O.A.C. WISHES TO RUN CROSS COUNTRY IN FEB.

Meet Will Be in Corvallis—Relay
Meet Will Be in Eugene.

Track Manager Barbour is in receipt of a letter from Manager Cox, of O. A. C., definitely declining the date of November 12 for the cross country meet.

O. A. C. believes it too early in the year for cross country, and also does not wish to mix running and football. They suggest February 22 for a cross country meet at Corvallis, Eugene to have the relay meet in return.

It is probable that the relay meet here may be combined with a spring interclass track meet.

O. A. C. speaks for the cross country run because they have recently laid out a new four-mile course for this event. Their track has been transferred to new ground, and is not expected to be in condition until early in the spring, precluding the relay meet there.

Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Will Serve
Meals at Corvallis

Word has been received from Corvallis that the Christian Associations will endeavor to serve meals to the crowds that will be in town for the big game. The hotels and restaurants are, of course, unable to cope with such a rush as is expected, and so meals can be served to as many as a thousand at Shepherd Hall, on the college campus, very close to the football field. All Eugene people will find it very convenient to get their meals so close to the game. Go directly to the college campus, and anyone can direct you to the hall.

COLLEGE FUNCTIONS ARE DATED BY COMMITTEE

The student affairs committee is concerned chiefly these days with fixing the schedule of dates for University functions. The committee meets the first and third Wednesdays of every month, and at that time passes upon the dates that have been petitioned for. Last Wednesday the following dates were passed upon: December 4, Beta Theta Pi dance also Lambda Rho open house; December 11, Y. W. C. A. bazaar. The dates for the Glee Club trip were also accepted.

Manager Stine, of the Glee Club, has received a letter from Halfway, a town twelve miles from Baker City, guaranteeing $150, free transportation from the railroad, free advertising, and hotel rates for a glee concert there on the Eastern Oregon trip. The date will probably be booked.
