

A. A. U. OUT OF BOUNDS RULE GOVERNS GAMES

BY CLEVER COMPROMISE
HAYWARD SECURES
REVISION

Basketball and Baseball Schedules
Also Drawn Up at Early Seattle College Conference.

Bill Hayward returned this morning from Seattle, where, as Oregon's representative, he attended the Pacific Northwest basketball and baseball conference.

Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Pullman and Whitman were represented. Corvallis declined to enter the race for the basketball championship, but will participate in the baseball series.

Trainer Hayward was successful in securing the adoption of the outside rules he preferred. The northern colleges locked horns over which of the two rules, intercollegiate or A. A. U., out of bounds rule.

The agreements entered into supplementing the regulations of last year were: That the inter-collegiate rules shall govern all basketball games, except that the A. A. U. out of bounds rule be substituted for the inter-collegiate out of bounds rule.

That the guarantee for each game shall be seventy-five ($75) dollars.

That officials must be chosen from men in the home town, except in case of a mutual agreement by the managers of both teams.

That all substitutes, coaches and trainers be required to remain seated during the progress of the game.

That the championship shall be determined on a percentage basis.

The following is Oregon's basketball schedule: Whitman, at Walla Walla, February 6 and 7; Idaho, at Moscow, February 8 and 9; Washington State College, at Pullman, February 10 and 11; Washington, at Eugene, February 17 and 18; Pullman, at Eugene, February 27 and 28; Washington, at Seattle, Mar. 3 and 4.

The baseball schedule was arranged as follows: Whitman, at Eugene, April 14 and 15; Washington, at Seattle, April 17 and 18; Pullman, at Pullman, April 19 and 20; Idaho, at Moscow, April 21 and 22; Pullman, at Eugene, May 3 and 4; Idaho, at Eugene, May 12 and 13.

SIX ADVISED TO STAY HOME AFTER HOLIDAYS

Although the exact number is not definitely known, there will probably be six students in the University advised not to return after the holidays, because of the hopeless condition of their work. The names of the students are not known, but it is given out that one Glee Club man will fall under the class of hopeless "drags," and consequently will not be allowed to make the Glee Club trip into Eastern Oregon, scheduled for the near future. Every effort will be made by the members of the faculty to bring the poor students to realize the seriousness of their condition. Those who are advised not to return after the holidays will be considered utterly hopeless.

Art Exhibit to be Here

If the matter of expense is settled satisfactorily, the Elton art exhibit will be displayed in the University library Friday, December 9. There are about two hundred reproductions of great masterpieces in the collection, and it is considered one of the best in the country.

"PREP" EDITORS TO RELAY EMERALD READERS NEWS

In accordance with its policy of enlarging the paper's scope, the Emerald is instituting a department of high school correspondence.

Student correspondents are being appointed in twenty-five Oregon high schools, who will send the Emerald weekly news letters. In return, their school will receive five subscriptions to the Emerald.

The State University is the logical head of the educational system and it is hoped by this means to bring the "U" and the high schools into closer relations with each other.

Y. W. C. A. TO HOLD BAZAAR

For Sweet Charity, Winsome Cooks Will Make and Sell Dainties

The girls of the Y. W. C. A. are busy preparing for the bazaar which they are planning to hold at the Presbyterian church Friday, December 10. Many novel things are promised to be put up for sale, as well as the standard fancy work dainties and home made candy. Alice Stoddard will have charge of the art booth. Jessie Bibee will preside at the fancy work booth, and Helen Beach at the candy booth. A real Japanese tea room, presided over by Ermel Miller, is one of the novel features of the bazaar.

The bazaar begins Friday afternoon at one o'clock, and will close at ten o'clock of the same evening. "The girls have many pretty things and a great deal of good candy," said one of them this afternoon, "and they hope the University people will patronize them."

Beta Theta Pi celebrated the first anniversary of its chapter at Oregon by holding an initiation at its chapter house Friday night.

LAUREANS HOLD TRIAL

R. M. Hyder Will Answer to Serious Charge

The central feature of the Laorean program for next Saturday will be a mock court, in which the case charging R. M. Hyder with the crime of accepting bribes from the Philos to keep men off of the Laorean program, with the purpose of killing the society, will be tried.

The attorneys for the prosecution are C. E. Spencer and Demosthenes K. Zimmerman. Attorneys P. M. Collier and Earl Jones will plead the case for the defendant. Hon. F. E. Dunton will preside as judge.

The prosecution has gathered quite a complete chain of evidence, and numerous witnesses will testify as to the guilt of the defendant.

"We will stop at nothing short of conviction," said Attorney Spencer today.

After the trial, officers for the next quarter will be elected. Visitors will be admitted.

"An Innocent Villain" is the sketch which will be put on by the Dramatic Club Thursday evening of next week. Mr. William Beals will play the title role. The other members of the cast are Madge Hamble, Alma Noon, Janet Young, Rachel Applegate and Lila Clark.

MANUEL TAKES STOMACH FOR A CHEMISTRY LAB

SIGMA CHI COOK MIXES
ACID AND PERMANGAN-
ATE OF POTASH

Tired of World, Manuel Francisco
Tries to End Life, but is Discovered and Saved.

The Sigma Chi cook, Manuel Francisco, sprung a new sensation in college life when he tried to shuffle off this mortal coil by way of a mild blend of carbolic acid and permanganate of potash.

Manuel, who, by the way, is a Porto Rican and an ex-vaudevillist, had been sulky for several days, and Monday Ralph Newland found the following note:

Edward Bailey, '13, Elected Unanimously for All-Northwest Team.

"Ralph Newland—You wont see me. Go baseball field grandstand. Good bye boys, forever.

"Manuel Francisco.

"I kill myself." After leaving the house he went to the grandstand, where he swallowed enough carbolic acid to kill twelve men, and then an equally powerful dose of potassium permanganate. But instead of killing him in a few minutes, the two chemicals precipitated and merely made him terribly sick, so sick that he was rendered unconscious.

With the note telling where he could be found, was another addressed to a Senor Juan Mateo, in Porto Rico, written in bad Spanish, which partially explains his attempt at suicide. Translated it reads something as follows: "Am sending you a picture of myself. It does not look as I used to, not because I was hungry or work too hard, but because of women. I divorce my wife I married at Boise at Portland. I quarreled today with my woman at Eugene."

Those who attended the Sophomore dance will remember him as the waiter who served refreshments. He was by no means an ordinary cook, and is said to have previously led a checkered career as soldier of fortune on some vaudeville circuit.

FEW TAKE ADVANTAGE OF SPECTATOR PRIZE

There have been, to date, but few contributions entered in the prize contest recently inaugurated by the "Spectator," of Portland, for the students of the University, and it appears that its terms are not generally understood. Prizes of $4.00 and $2.00 are offered for the best and second best contributions which may be either articles, news stories, editorials or verse. No restrictions are placed on subject matter or length. Papers are to be handed to Secretary Prescott, Villard Hall, before Saturday noon of each week.

SELECT COLLINS SKETCH

Dramatic Club Will Produce
"Playing the Game"
In January

Dean Collins' sketch, "Playing the Game," was selected by the Dramatic Club committee yesterday for the club's second production, the latter part of January.

The playlet is a three-scene sketch of college and fraternity life, done with the author's characteristic cleverness. The action centers about an imaginary Oregon-Idaho football game, with the inevitable love affair thrown in. No women are required in the lineup, however, as the girl figures only in a telephone conversation. The play has a rollicking, "College Widow" swing to it, that is certain to insure its popularity as a college production.

A tentative selection of the cast was also made by the committee from the small list of masculine club members. The football hero will be impersonated by Sap Latourette. The other leads are, Forrest Dunton, Charles Robison, "Bo-Peep" Lamm, Ralph Moores, Cass Kennedy, Raphael Geisler, Francis Curtis and Edward McConnell.

GLEE STARTS THURSDAY

Albany, Salem, Vancouver and Portland to Be Played

The Glee Club will leave on its initial tour Thursday noon. The program is as follows: Thursday night at Albany, Friday night at Vancouver, Saturday night the big night at the Heilig in Portland. Salem will be played Monday evening.

In this way there will be little interference with the studies of the men and they are anticipating an enjoyable trip. Manager Stine hopes to make the trip a financial success in order to offset the expenses of the trip to Eastern Oregon later in the year, which will be expensive because of the refusal of the O. R. & N. to grant reduced rates.

Reports from Albany and Salem indicate capacity houses. The boys will sing in the high schools of all the towns visited, and aside from this they have been invited to fill the assembly hour at Willamette.

Fritz Dean, last year president of the Junior class, spent the week end at the Alpha Tau Omega house, helping his frat brothers put their Freshmen through their initiation stunts.

Mr. Horace Hornstein, who lately entered Oregon from the University of Vienna, is mourning the death of his father. The news was received only this morning.

A LA CARTE MEALS AT DORMITORY CAFETERIA

FOURTH FLOOR WILL BE ADDED TO STRUC-TURE ALSO

In Accord With Decreased Living Movement, Radical Changes to be Made in Dorm.

In connection with the general movement to reduce the cost of living for Oregon students, it is planned to entirely remodel the men's dormitory.

Another entire floor will be added above the present third floor, making the Dorm a four story structure, which will add sixteen or eighteen rooms. This will provide accommodations for twenty or thirty more students.

By this change, and with the increasing number of club houses, it is hoped to provide club accommodations for all out of town students.

In addition to the enlargement of the Dormitory, the eating room will be completely rearranged. The present kitchen and pantries will be torn out to make room for a large, airy "cafeteria," capable of accommodating a large number. The present dining room will be run as usual. Thus the students will have the option of "table de hote" or "a la carte" meals, and may at the cafeteria secure food to satisfy all tastes and pocket-books.

These eating places will be run without any profit whatever, as part of the movement to provide wholesome, nourishing foods at minimum cost. Professor Sweetser is now testing various foods for nutritive qualities. By this means it is planned to provide food equal in nourishment to that now served, at a 20 to 40 per cent reduction of cost.

A cold storage plant will be erected between the Gym and Dorm, and the year's supplies purchased at wholesale and stored. A considerable item will thus be eliminated from the cost of students "eats."

MRS. PENNELL SPEAKS ON PICTURE SERMONS

The Y. W. C. A. program Monday afternoon consisted of a talk by Mrs. Brown, a solo by Edna Miller, and a talk by Mrs. Pennell on "The Ministry of a Picture."

Mrs. Pennell illustrated her point, that a picture may reveal something or elevate one's ideals, by citing as examples of pictures that have performed missions, Raphael's "Sistine Madonna," and one of Carot's landscapes. She gave an account of the life of each artist, and then indicated the inspiration, beauty and power of each of these two canvases, so different, and yet producing related effects.

At this meeting, also, it was voted to send a note of cheer and some flowers to the girls who are ill.

Vernon Sparks and Tom Hawthorne, son of Prof. Hawthorne, both ex-'04 students, have formed partnership in the engineering and contracting business and are located at Ontario, Oregon. These men have been in the government service and are familiar with the irrigation work as contractors as well as engineers.

Applications for manager of football and assistant manager of baseball for the season of 1911 will be received by the undersigned up to December 15, 1910. W. L. Hayward.
