FILTER PLANT WILL BE COMPLETED IN FEW DAYS

City is Now Connecting Mains to Completed and Tested Filter Units

The proposition of pure water supply is now up to the city. Mr. C. W. Bagby, who has charge of the installation of the filter plant, says that his part of the work is now complete and that he is now waiting for water with which to operate.

Mr. Bagby has been employed by the New York Continental Jewel Filter Co. for approximately ten years, having installed the plant at Oregon City nine years ago.

The plant here is practically the same in design as the one at Oregon City, the only difference being that this is of one-third greater capacity and improved in the detail of operation.

The plant consists of four settling tanks of 50,000 gallons capacity each, into which the water is pumped from the river. After settling, it flows by gravity to the filter tanks. There are four of these, with a total capacity of three million gallons every twenty-four hours. Passing through the filters, the water drops into the storage reservoir which is beneath the tanks, and from here it is pumped into the city mains.

The filter tanks are built of wood and have a double wall. The top of the inner tank is about three feet below the top of the outer wall. The water enters between the walls and flows up over the inner wall into the tank. In this tank is placed thirty tons of sand, through which the water flows.

The sand is cleaned or washed twice every twentyfour hours, and oftener if necessary, twice being sufficient except when the water is very dirty. The cleansing process is accomplished by shutting off the supply, opening the sewer valve, reversing the direction of the flow of the water by means of pumps, and then starting the agitators. In this way the screens are flushed clean and the sand stirred and washed, the wash water flowing into the sewer.

When the water is again sent through in the proper direction, the sewer valve is left open for a few minutes until the sand has settled and become quiet. In the operation of cleaning, practically no sand is lost, so after the tanks are once filled there is no expense for new riety, it being of a cream color, fine, sand.

The sand used is of a peculiar v-smoth, clean and insoluble in the common acids. It is obtained from the Red Wing Sand Co., of Red Wing, Minn., where there seems to be an inexhaustible supply along the lake beach.

For the operation of the plant a single motor of seven and one-half horse power is used, which is operated intermittently. One man is required for operation of valves and general maintenance.

As soon as the city pumping plant and supply mains are completed the city can enjoy the purest water obtainable anywhere.

THREE CLASSES CHOOSE DELEGATES TO CONTEST

Delegates chosen by the several classes to represent the University in the annual meeting of the Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association are as follows: Seniors, Naomi Williamson and Charles Robison; Juniors, Birdie Wise and Leon Ray; Freshmen, Janet Young and Peter Crockett. The Sophomores have not yet elected their delegates.

Besides attending the business meeting of the Association, the delegates also represent Oregon at the banquet and one of their number responds to a toast.

The final tryout to choose the orator who will represent the University in the Inter-State Oratorical Contest between the Universities of Washington, Montana and Oregon, will be held in Villard Hall next Friday, evening at 7:15.

TO PLAY WHOLE WEEK'S STAND IN CALIFORNIA

Bill's Barn Stormers Booked for Week's Engagement at Berkeley

The track team will probably go to Berkeley for the All-Coast meet a week before it takes place, and train down there during that time.

As the meet is held on the 22nd of April, and Oregon's April vacation begins April 15th, the team will leave on Friday, the 15th, and arrive there Sunday, making it possible to train there from Monday until Friday. During the week the men will pay their own expenses, which will not be much greater than those incident to a week's training at home.

Hayward favors the plan because he expects it to get the men accustomed to the different new conditions which sometimes play an important part in the conditioning of the men.

Also the men would train to better advantage where Hayward could have them under his care at all times than here during a vacation where there are so many temptations to break strict rules.

MERGE LAUREAN SOCIETY INTO HOUSE CONGRESS

After much planning, discussing and meting of committees, the final action which makes of the Laurean Society a House of Representatives takes place Saturday night. At a committee meeting last night it was decided to leave this final and most important part of the scheme, the apportioning of the states, to Saturday night's meeting. A large and enthusiastic assembly of would-be representatives is expected. President Jones is anxious that every member be out if possible, in order that a complete apportionment may be made.

A part of the work Saturday night will be the appointment of a committee on committees. To each of these several committees will be referred, for consideration and presentation, the bills which come under its classification of work, just as is done in the National Congress.

SOPHOMORE CLASS WILL MEET NEXT TUESDAY

An important meeting of the Sophomore class will be held in Professor Dunn's room at 4:00 o'clock on Tuesday, March 7. At this time a manager and an editor for next year's Oregonian will be elected, a financial report will be made, and delegates will be chosen to the meeting of the Oratorical Association.
