CO-EDS ORGANIZE TO PUT OUT SUFFRAGETTE SHEET

Women's Council Elects Birdie Wise Editor and Emma Waterman Manager

Immediately after the assembly this morning the women of the University met and, with President Laura Kennon, of the Women's Council, presiding, elected Birdie Wise editor in chief of the Women's Number of the Emerald and Emma Waterman manager. Carin Degermark was elected assistant editor and Emma Clifford assistant manager.

The Women's Number will probably be issued during Junior Week End. Last year it was published during Junior Week and the staff members complained that it loaded them with too much work at that busy time of the year, but Editor Wise favors publishing it at that time this year, and will arrange her staff so that the burden will not fall too heavily on any one person.

The regular staff of the Emerald has nothing to do with this issue. The women take charge of the paper and receive entire credit or blame for it. The editor and manager are enthusiastic and hope to put out a record breaking number.

"OUTSIDERS" CLUB WANTS INTO DOUGHNUT LEAGUE

The new club recently organized by those outside the clubs and fraternities has petitioned the directors of the Doughnut League for admission, and expects to come out as a strong competitor for spring baseball honors.

The petition will be acted upon by the board of directors of the Doughnut League, composed of representatives of the eleven clubs represented. Whether this board will consider the new club fall under the classification eligible for admission is not known. A two-thirds vote is required for admission.

Baker University is giving soccer a place on her athletic schedule this fall. The game has taken its place among "the leading branches of athletics."

JUNIORS TAKE CHARGE OF ASSEMBLY PERIOD

Program Presented Includes Numbers of Varying Range and Talent

Today's assembly was turned over to the Junior class for their second annual class hour exercises.

Owing to the new ruling which closes the Library at assembly hour a record crowd was present and filled Villard to its fullest capacity. The large audience seemed well pleased, and many comments were heard favorable to the class in general, and more particularly to those participating in the program and the committee, Wendell Barbour, Jessie Prosser, Jessie Bibee and Burns Powell.

President David Kloster McDaniels presided with characteristic urbanity and grace, and delivered a stirring address treating the Juniors both subjectively and objectively. Marjorie Holcomb, '12, followed with a well rendered and well received piano solo. Hazel Wightman, class Secretary, gave a reading, "The Coquette Conquered," and responding to the vociferous importunities of the audience gave as an encore Paul Dunbar's "Lil' Brown Baby." Alma Payton sang, "Could I?" As the final number of the glee program, Miss Alberta Campbell and Miss Nelle Murphy rendered a very impressive duo, "Dance of Micabre."

The last number, written on the program "Ensemble," and announced by President McDaniels as the "Junior Impromptu," consisted of a song and a few steps by the rougher element of the class, led by Lyle Brown. Although flatteringly received, and although slightly marred by a divergence in key and pitch, it was spoken of as comparing very favorably with the Sophomore Glee.

KARL ONTHANK SECURES EDITORSHIP OF ANNUAL

Karl Onthank was elected editor of the 1913 Oregonian yesterday, after one of the closest races for that position. Bert Strong was at the same time elected manager of next year's Junior Annual. The active campaigning among Sophomores during the last week had the effect of bringing out a record number to the class meeting.

So close, indeed, was the race between the three aspirants for the editorship that it was only by balloting a second time on the two highest, Waite and Onthank, and with Mitchell only a few points behind, that a final choice could be made.

Class Treasurer Karl Martzloff reported that the class was ahead financially on the Sophomore dance, but that bills amounting to over seventy dollars remain from last year's indebtedness.

"A partial editorial board will be appointed in a week or two," said the newly elected editor this morning, "and the complete staff will be named."

LAUREANS WOULD RETAIN SYSTEM NOW IN FORCE

The meeting of the Laureans on Saturday evening, inaugurating the new organization of a mock House of Representatives, was a glowing success. The forensic fireworks were expended on a resolution introduced by Spencer and Crockett, calling for an amendment to the constitution which would permit the election of senators by direct vote of the people. The leading opponents of the measure were Itaugen and Duntun. After these men had voiced their sentiments upon the subject, the whole house became involved in a spirited discussion on the relative merits and demerits of popular election of senators. The resolution was finally defeated by a narrow margin.
