

WEEK-END PROGRAMS ELABORATE, GLASSY

Sixteen Page Book Gives Complete
List of All Occurrences During
The Week-end.

The Juniors have issued elaborate programs of the Week-end festivities which are both "classy" in appearance and also comprehensive of all the "doings." These are of two styles—the most popular of which is the one which has a large "12" in gold and a white background. The other one has a smaller "1912" in gold on white.

On the second page is the program of the Junior Orations, and a lineup of the Oregon and Idaho Base Ball teams.

Page three contains the cast of characters for the Dramatic club play "At Yale."

On page four is the order of events of the Canoe Carnival with the names of the Queen, Committees in charge and donors of cups and trophies.

Page five has the officials for the Interscholastic track and field meet and the order of events.

Pages six to eleven inclusive have the entries for the Inter-Scholastic meet.

Pages twelve and thirteen give the program for University Day, the chairmen of the various committees, and officials of the Triangular meet. The entries for this meet are to be found on page thirteen. Page fourteen contains a score card while the Amateur records may be found on page fifteen. Page sixteen has the program for Saturday afternoon and evening.

HELEN BEACH LEADING LADY OF DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY

The leading lady of "At Yale," which was presented at the Eugene Theatre Thursday evening, was Miss Helen Beach, a prominent member of the Senior class and a favorite in all college circles.

She is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, of the Scroll and Script Honor society and president of the Dramatic club.

Her talent and charming personality were shown to an advantage on Thursday evening when she more than pleased her audience.

Miss Juliet Cross

Juliet Cross, who is to play the leading lady in the Senior play, is very capable and charming. She is a senior in the department of public speaking, where she also acts as assistant. Everyone who witnessed Miss Cross splendid work in last year's Dramatic Club play and Princess Chrysanthemum is expecting great things of her this year.

From now on the Freshmen at O. A. C. will wear green caps.

Columbia University expects to start work soon on a $1,000,000 athletic stadium.

Leon Ray, President Student Body

Leon Ray, who was elected president of the Student Body last Wednesday, is a popular Junior, majoring in economics. He has represented the varsity in debate for the last three years, leading the team that defeated Washington last year.

Mr. Ray possesses marked executive ability and will undoubtedly fill the office of president successfully.

Two hundred and forty-four men have signed up for dormitories next year at Pennsylvania.

A girl has been chosen for the debating team at Olivet college for the first time in years.

Stanford's Glee and Mandolin clubs begin their summer concert tour May 22. This is the first trip taken by the combined clubs since 1907.
