

CHARLES ROBISON WINS TRI STATE ORATORICALS

OREGON GETS UNANIMOUS DECISION OVER UNIVERSITIES WASH. AND MONT.

ORATION WAS LAND AND THE IMMIGRANT

Closes Forensic Season for Oregon With Five Victories and One Defeat

Oregon's 1911 forensic season closed in a blaze of glory last night, when Charles W. Robison, with his oration, entitled "Land and the Immigrant," by a unanimous decision, won the tri-state oratorical contest.

The contest was held in Seattle, at the University of Washington assembly hall, and was participated in by representatives of the State Universities of Oregon, Washington and Montana. The rating was made on the basis of one-half for composition and one-half for delivery, and it is considered as a strong recommendation of Robison's effort that it should have impressed all three judges so favorably.

The oration treats of the immigration question, showing the evils of the present methods of dealing with the new-comers. It then tells of the steadying influence land ownership exerts and advocates a comprehensive and systematic policy of settling the immigrants on the unoccupied public domain.

When interviewed today, Gustave W. Buchen, coach of debate and oratory, said:

"No, I am not surprised at the victory, though I am pleased at the unanimous decision, which is seldom obtained in contests of this nature. Robison had a splendid oration."

Last night's contest finishes the season with a record of five victories and one defeat.

Last night's was the final intercollegiate contest that either Charles Robison or Mr. Buchen will figure in for Oregon. Both have accomplished much for forensics at Oregon, and their loss will be keenly felt.

Mr. Buchen has accepted a position in the University of Wisconsin similar to the one he occupies here, and will be followed by the best wishes of scores of appreciative friends here at Oregon.

MRS. CLARK MAY SUCCEED TO POSITION OF Y. W. SECRETARY

As a consequence of Mrs. Brown's resignation the Y. W. C. A. is endeavoring at present to secure a secretary to fill the vacancy next fall. At present there are several upon the list of which Mrs. Clark probably holds first place.

Mrs. Clarke has been a social member of the advisory board and has done some very effective work for the local Y. W. She is extremely interested in the association and is an energetic worker.

The chief thing of interest at present before the Y. W. girls is the Northwest Conference at the Breakers beginning June 23 and lasting until July 3. Oregon will be represented by ten girls, Ermel Miller, Mildred Bagley, Lena Newton, Ruth Merrick, Carrie Bechen, Mabel Zimmerman, Olive Zimmerman, and Nellie Hemmenway.

ANOTHER OREGON ENGINEER IS MAKING GOOD IN SEATTLE

Sabro Ozosa, a Japanese student who attended Oregon from '04 to '08, has just received a commission to prepare the plans for a new $190,000 hotel in Tokio, Japan.

Mr. Ozosa is now a well established architect in the sound city, and also does considerable work in his own work. His offices are in the Occidental Trade Building.

IS STANDARD INSTITUTION

National Bureau of Education Ranks University of Oregon With the Best

That the University of Oregon is ranked as a "standard institution" is the news conveyed in a telegram received by Superintendent Alderman today from Washington, D. C. The telegram reads: "Bureau of Education ranks the University as 'standard institution' according to specifications adopted by the conference of Chief State School Officers of the North Central and West Central States at Salt Lake City in 1910."

Provision is made in the new certification law of Oregon that the graduates of all educational institutions, which the Bureau of Education shall rank as standard shall receive certificates to teach in high schools of Oregon without further examination.

NOT JUST YET SAYS BILL

Denies Washington's Weird Story About Coaching Another Team for 1912.

Bill Hayward has no intention of quitting Oregon and gives the lie to a weird story in the Washington Daily of May 23, in which Stoll, the Washington track man, announces that "Bill" would next year be with some other Northwest institution, trying his hardest to defeat Oregon.

"No, my present intention is to stay at Oregon. When I was talking to Stoll, it was just after it became certain that the referendum petition would be filed and the appropriation held up. I heard that there would be some changes in the faculty and some cuts in salaries. I supposed that I was just as liable to removal as any man on the faculty, and in case I left I would probably accept another position in the Northwest. And in case I was training some other college team, I certainly would try as hard to win against Oregon as I did to win for Oregon when I was at Eugene. It is a trainer's business to win, no matter where he is coaching."

"However, I found out later that everything would go on as before and that there would be no changes or cuts; consequently, as far as I am concerned, I will remain at Oregon."

The paper also made various charges against Hayward of unfairness in the recent meet, to which Bill said: "I trained their own men for the A. Y. P. Exposition, and they know a crooked trainer can not stay in the business. I merely took advantage of their misjudgment in entering men, though it would not have made any real difference. Kay is a 52 second man in the quarter, and when I found Montgomery was out of it I put him in for third place."

BOB KELLOGG ELECTED CAPTAIN '12 TRACK TEAM

BIG WEIGHT MAN HAS MADE MOST POINTS LAST TWO YEARS

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR WINNING TEAM

At Annual Banquet Track Men Make Merry and Choose New Captain

Twenty men, constituting Oregon's champion track team, met around the banquet board at the Osburn last night and formally closed the season by electing Bob Kellogg captain of the 1912 team.

Kellogg's election comes as just recognition of three years' consistent work on the team as premier weight man. Both last season and this he was high man in the number of points scored, with 30 to his credit this past season. He is registered from Baker City in the engineering department and is a popular member of the class

BOB KELLOGG, Chosen Captain of 1912 Track Team of 1912.

Kellogg's events are the hammer, shot and discus, and it is rarely that he does not pull down at least two firsts. Last night's balloting was secret, without nominations, and none but the officials knew exactly how the vote stood. It is understood, however, that "Kell" had a substantial majority.

The banquet was presided over by President Campbell, and as toastmaster he called on Trainer Hayward, Manager Barbour, Captain Hawkins and Captain-elect Kellogg. The tenor of the speeches was unanimously optimistic, and everyone was sure that with the same team back, Oregon would win the championship again in 1912. It was pointed out that all of this year's "O" men would return, and that besides this there is always considerable talent among the Freshmen.

PAUL BOND SPENDS HONEY-MOON AT NEWPORT BEACH

Paul G. Bond, '08, who so lately forsook a bachelor's career and stole away immediately after the marriage has finally been located at Newport. It appears that Paul was wise that his friends were planning a surprise and took effective means to forestall them. After taking a machine to Irving, the bride and groom boarded the local and were soon enjoying a secluded honeymoon beside the sounding sea waves. They are expected to return in a few days to take up permanent residence in Eugene.

SENIORS MUST PAY FOR THEIR BIDS IN ADVANCE

Morris Starbuck, chairman of the Senior invitation committee, announced that the graduation bids will be shipped C. O. D., and that Seniors are requested to pay immediately so that they—the invitations—may be redeemed.

The money is payable either to Morris Starbuck, Mary DeBar or Naomi Williamson.

LEAVES FOR WEST POINT

Harold Dabney, '14, Quits College Preparatory for Entering Famous Training School

Harold Dabney, '14, left Eugene yesterday preparatory to entering West Point. He has secured Senator Chamberlain's appointment and will start east immediately in order to reach the Point in June for the entrance examinations.

Although he has been at Oregon but a short time, he was widely popular and had many friends both among his own class and in the student body at large. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity and majored in civil engineering. His home is in Portland and during his preparatory career he acquired considerable of a reputation in football, having been selected as one of the best ends P. H. S. has ever turned out.

Dabney's career at the military school will be watched with interest by his many friends here.

ELIMINATE THREE TEAMS

Dorm, Acacias and Beavers Are Now Out of Race for the Doughnut Mug

Two games of the "Doughnut League" were played this week, eliminating the Acacias and the Dormitory Club from the finals.

The Avavas defeated the Acacias Friday afternoon 7 to 2, in a pitcher's battle between Van Marter, of the Avavas, and Cousins, of the Acacias. Van Marter fanned fourteen men and Cousins nineteen.

The A. T. O.-Dormitory Game was a batting fest, with the A. T. O. doing the slugging. When the dust cleared off after the engagement the A. T. O.'s had 13 scores and the "Dorm" end was a blank.

There are now three teams eliminated, the Beavers, the Acacias and the "Dorm."

The committee, composed of a member of each organization, will meet tomorrow morning to arrange for the remainder of the Doughnut games for next week.

Dr. and Mrs. Boynton and Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Read were dinner guests at the Delta Sigma house Wednesday evening.

Students at the University of Wisconsin are taking a vote on the honor system, and it may be adopted at the institution.

Miss Marie Zimmerman and Miss Edith Sheehy are in Portland for the week end.

"Sap" Latourette is spending a few days in Portland.

and campaigns in which favoritism, prejudice and popularity will influence many."

OREGON SHOULD HAVE GRAD MANAGER SYSTEM

SUCH IS CONCENSUS OF OPINION HELD BY SEVEN PROMINENT STUDENTS

MEN INTERVIEWED UNANIMOUSLY IN FAVOR

Various Managers Point Out Where One Man Could Improve System

If the student body activities are to be managed with economy, efficiency and co-ordination, the University of Oregon must have a graduate-student manager. Such is the unanimous answer of a number of prominent students to the question, "What do you think of graduate managership?"

"We've got to have it," was Prexy Collier's answer to the question. "Every other school of any size in the Northwest has it. O. A. C., Washington, Pullman, Berkeley, and Stanford, all have graduate managers. As it is here now, no one is responsible."

Martin Hawkins, track captain, said: "I am very much in favor of it. A graduate manager of all activities could stop a great many leaks. The athletic managers say that such a man could save his salary. Another thing, the same man continually in charge can profit by his own experience."

"It's the only thing," said Harold Cockerline, who managed this year's basketball affairs. "The University would save money by it in the long run, because one manager could buy all supplies at one time. He could also get better athletic arrangements with the other schools than we are getting now."

Says Jack Luckey, manager of baseball: "It's the best system. It concentrates authority. As it is now, there is no system. Football lost money when it ought to have made money. The same with baseball and the interscholastic track meet. Glee and basketball about broke even. I believe in graduate managership."

"There is no question about our needing a graduate manager," says Track Manager Wendell Barbour. "The question is as to the method of appointment. In other schools the student body elects the manager. If he is to manage student body activities and handle their money, then he should be responsible only to the student body. That would make him free from outside influence and personal dominance."

"Why, I'm in favor of it," orated 'Hippo' Gillis, as though any other opinion were absurd. "The present system of student management grows worse each year. A graduate manager would save money in numerous ways. Furthermore, he would have the student body as a whole at interest. The present managers fight each other like cats and dogs for the most advantageous dates. It would be a matter of business and self interest for graduate manager to cut down on bills, be independent of dominance, and serve the student body as a whole."

Also, he would be chosen by the athletic council and the executive committee. These are composed of three faculty members, three alumni and eight students. To them will be presented all bills. Being on the inside, they will know exactly whether the manager is economical and efficient and worthy of being retained. This will also prevent mud-slinging