DR. SCHMIDT SPENDS SUMMER IN TRAVELING

He Inspects Perman Departments In American and European Universities.

Dr. A. G. G. Schmidt, who has recently returned from a summer in Germany, reports a pleasant and profitable summer. On his way East, he visited at the Universities of Washington, Minnesota, Chicago, Northwestern, Johns Hopkins, and Columbia, inspecting the German and language departments.

While in Germany he divided his time between Hamburg, Munich and Wurzburg. He attended lectures at several of the noted Universities and spent much time in the libraries at Leipzig and Munich, gathering material for his latest book, "Germany of Today," which is soon to be published by Ginn and Company.

Altogether, Dr. Schmidt considers his summer as being most enjoyable and profitable. Mrs. Schmidt accompanied Dr. Schmidt, visiting friends and relatives in Leipzig.

MRS. PRESCOTT WALKS TO COAST AND BACK

"Mother" Prescott, of the Boy's Dormitory, and Mrs. Idaho Campbell, of Eugene, took rather an unusual outing this fall. These two ladies, starting on September 2, walked to the coast at Florence, stopped a day in that city, and returned to Eugene the 12th. They walked from seven to 20 miles a day and were not afraid even though the way was beset with deer, chipmunks and brown bear. Mrs. Prescott said she enjoyed the trip very much, except for trivial annoyances from certain species of mountain flea, which were everywhere prevalent and active.

Ferdinand Henkel, Oregon's old baseball star, and at present pitcher for the Portland team in the Northwest League, will be in Eugene during the week end for the Phi Gamma Delta installation ceremonies.

Martin Hawkins is registered in the U. of O. law school and will not return to Eugene.

THE MANDOLIN CALLETH ALL MUSICALLY INCLINED

R. D. Moores and Jack Shattuck Are Furthering Interests of the Mandolin Club.

Something new in the line of "fighting the beef trust" and high frenzied promotion has been launched in the University campus by R. D. Moores, ex-editor of the Emerald and father of the erstwhile canoe carnival, and John Randolph Shattuck, beau brummel of Gresham.

These two prominent agitators have planned to organize a mandolin club, the object of which is to cater especially to new and rare melodies, and incidentally to chaperon the Glee club on its extended tours, this year. The idea seems to be to enlist an aggregation of guitar and mandolin players of such rare merit that the club management will be unable to refuse the "head line" roll.

Any ambitious young man with ordinary skill along the line of stringed instruments and desire to get in on a sure thing, is requested to hand in his name to Jack Shattuck at once.

PHI GAMMA DELTA FRAT ENTERS OREGON FRIDAY

A week-end event of more than usual interest is found in the approaching installation of the local Beaver club as Epsilon Omicron chapter of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. There will be present for the installation about fifty Phi Gams from the University of Washington, Berkeley and Stanford, and Alumni members throughout the state, besides active and alumni Beavers.

The event will occupy two days, beginning Friday, September 29, and ending with a banquet at the Osborne hotel on the following evening.

Ted Williams, '12, and Este Brosius, '13, spent a few days at the A. T. O. house last week before leaving to spend the winter touring Europe.

Gladys Farrar, '09, who taught in the Eugene High school during the past year, will be at her home in Salem throughout the coming winter.

PRES. CAMPBELL SPEAKS AT TODAY'S ASSEMBLY

Short Student Body Meeting Follows Assembly—Prof. Wade Sang Two Songs.

An excellent attendance characterized the first regular assembly of the school year, which was held this morning in Villard Hall. Following the customary chapel exercises, Prof. Wade rendered two solos, "The Two Grenadiers," and a nameless love song.

The main event of the morning, however, was the address given by President Campbell. He treated principally of the influence which higher education exercises in solving the many social, economic, and political problems of the present day. He showed most conclusively that international strife, as well as more petty forms of crime are a direct drain on the people at large, and might be almost entirely obviated in the individual, and hence in the nation, by a system of education which inculcates right habits of living and thinking.

The matter of making the right start in the college year was then brought home to the assembled students. President Campbell urged vigorously the establishment of a system of study and exercise, which would effectively abolish the habit of procrastination, which he said was one of the worst enemies of good work in college. Pessimism also, he scored, and advised the cultivation of an optimism and a faith in the future, which confidently looks forward to the accomplishment of big things.

In conclusion, President Campbell asked for an equally large attendance at similar meetings in the future, and promised excellent speakers as an inducement for such attendance.

The assembly was followed by a short student body meeting, in which the assembled collegians voted to allow graduate manager Geary to put in his leisure hours this semester in University publicity work.

Miss Bertha Dorris, '10, has been visiting at the Chi Omega House for the past week.
