CUPID WORKS OVER TIME DURING THE SUMMER

Usual Crop of Benedicts Springs Up With Many Well Known Victims.

Many weddings of great interest to the students of the University have taken place between Commencement time and the opening of college this fall.

Those occurring the earlier part of the summer were: Grace Magladry, '10, Chi Omega, to Dr. R. M. Emerson, of Portland; Pauline Davis, '11, Chi Omega, to Reuben Steelequist, '10, of Eugene; Miss Cline to Harry Hobbs, '10, of Eugene; Adele Goff, '09, Kappa Alpha Theta, to Ralph McEwen, '09, Sigma Nu, of Athena; Florence Williamson to Clarence Steele, '09, of Portland; Vera Patterson to Roy Getz, '12, Beaver, of Portland.

The more recent weddings are those of Luella McKean, of Walla Walla, to Everette Skirk, '10, Sigma Nu, of Eugene; Miss Loyd, of Baker City, to Earl Halley, '10, Alpha Tau Omega, of Baker City; Ella Dobie, '06, Kappa Alpha Theta, to Dick Hathaway, '06, Kappa Sigma, of Portland; and Cornelia Pinkham, '11, Kappa Alpha Theta, to Joe Knapp, Sigma Nu, of Portland.

SEVERAL NEW MEMBERS IN OREGON'S FACULTY

Departments of Public Speaking and Psychology Endowed With New Heads.

Several new members are found in the faculty this year.

Archibald Ferguson Reddie, the new head of the department of Public Speaking, was born in Philadelphia. He attended the grammar and high schools there; later entering Emerson College, Boston, to take up voice work. After graduation he taught in Emerson and also Bradford Academy near Boston. He next took the chair of Public Speaking in Valparaiso University, Indiana, which he held four years, coming from there to Oregon. Prof. Reddie has decided to have Prof. Johnson, also a new member of the faculty, coach the debaters this year, but he will handle the voice training of the team.

Edmund S. Conklin, Ph. D., is the new head of the department of psychology. Mr. Conklin was born in New Britain, Connecticut, and attended grammar and high school there. He then entered Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts, the alma mater of Dr. Sheldon. Here he gained the degree of Ph. D. Clark University is considered one of the best, if not the best, institution in America to specialize in Psychology and Education work. Prof. Conklin majored for four years under the famous psychologist and educator, G. Stanley Hall. Prof. Conklin became acquainted with two former students of Oregon at Clark, Misses Miriam Van Waters and Elizabeth Woods, both of whom are doing excellent work there.

On account of the absence of Miss Hastings, assistant to Dr. Bennett, from the city, no information of her work previous to coming to "Oregon" could be obtained.

Mr. Le Roy Johnson, the new assistant in the department of Public Speaking, is a young man, who is assuming a very difficult position. Mr. Johnson will coach the 'varsity debating teams and with such a record as his predecessor, Mr. Buchen, left, it will be no child's play. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, June, 1911, and he therefore has the same training as Mr. Buchen. Besides handling the debating teams, Mr. Johnson will also instruct a class in Public Speaking and one in Parliamentary Procedure.

DAVID CAMPBELL ADDED TO OREGON'S TEACHING FORCE

The University School of Music has been strengthened by the addition to its staff of Mr. David B. Campbell, a brother of President Campbell, who has spent the past two years studying the piano in Germany. Much of his studio practice was under Herr Rudolph Ganz, the famous composer. He also studied harmony for a time with Prof. Stillman-Kelly and Herr Wappenschmitt.

He returned to America about a month ago, after a tour of Western and Southern Europe.

Owing to the present cramped condition of the School of Music, Mr. Campbell will, for a time, share the studio of Miss Morgan, head of the piano department.

Plans are being made for a piano concert by Mr. Campbell, to be given in Villard Hall some time in November. His repertoire includes many of the recent compositions of European masters.

James Canfield, ex '12, is assistant county surveyor of Clackamas county.

LIGHT PRACTICE ROUNDS CANDIDATES INTO FORM

Scrimmage May Start Next Week. Parsons, Prep. Star, Unable to Turn Out.

The varsity football squad is slowly rounding into more encouraging form under the system of early season light practice inaugurated by Coach Warner at the beginning of the year. The squad Thursday and Friday night was the largest which has appeared this season, numbering approximately forty men. Today the first actual scrimmage work is scheduled to take place, when it is probable that the coach will put his pupils through a few minutes of stiff "bucking."

The candidates are still practicing passing and falling on the ball and the defenseless "tackling dummy" is coming in for its share of abuse. The backs are kept busy handling kicks and signal practice is beginning to occupy a more prominent place in the daily routine. Fenton, Latourette, and Kaiser, the blonde Freshman from California, are punting in good form.

The bleachers still remain practically deserted, but it is expected that with the election of a permanent yell leader, new interest will be aroused along the lines of encouraging the candidates for the team. The total absence of freshmen on the side lines is especially noticeable.

The enthusiasm over the arrival of "Johnny" Parsons, for three successive years the star of Salem High School, Lincoln High School of Seattle, and Washington High School of Portland, has been dampened by the knowledge that he will be unable to play this season.

While in Alaska this summer, Parsons contracted typhoid fever and his sickness has left him too weak to get into the game. Whenever he returns to his old-time form, however, Parsons is looked upon as a promising man for Oregon's eleven.
