FOOTBALL MEN STRIVE FOR VARSITY POSITIONS

Warner's Pupils All Show Metal In Daily Scrim.—Managers Start Publicity Work.

With the early season soreness out of their joints, the football squad has settled down to daily bucking practice, and the college wiseacres are given a chance to pick a tentative line-up. Three weeks, however, has not been sufficient time to get a line on the new men to fill the vacancies on the team. During the past week the team has been lining up with Kellogg at centre, Fenton and Fariss, guards, Groat and Bailey, tackles, Chandler and Bradshaw, ends, Latourette, quarter, Kaiser and Main, halves, and Dean Walker, fullback. From the way the scrubs are holding the varsity in their nightly tangles, it is not at all improbable that some of them will be holding down a varsity berth before many days. The coaches are neither optimistic nor pessimistic, merely non-committal, and are doing the best they can with the material at hand.

Graduate Manager Geary and Student Manager Johns are in Portland today making arrangements for the big game, Nov. 18th. This game will be one of the most widely advertised games ever pulled off in the Northwest. The early season interest shown in the big game indicate that the biggest crowd in Northwest football annals will make its pilgrimage to Multnomah Field on Nov. 18th. A big delegation is coming from the Sound and another from Spokane and the inland empire to augment the horde of Willamette Valley and Portland football bugs.

VARSITY CHEER-LEADER MAKES PLANS FOR NOISE

Bush Brown Will Start Song and Yell Writing Contest For Prizes.

Yell Leader Brown has perfected his pip producing plans for the present football season and already the increased efficiency of the Oregon rooters is distinctly noticeable. Rallies will be conducted in much the same manner as those of last year, although additional features are promised in the smokier smokers.

Brown wishes, if possible, to improve the quality of the cheers, as well as of the cheering. A special contest, which will close October 28, is now open to college rhymesters for the best original songs and yells. As first prize a round trip ticket to Portland, and admission to the Washington game will be given, while for the second best production, a round trip only will be secured. All contributions will be tried out on the bleachers, where a student judging committee will pass on them.

Rooting practice will be held every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday up to October 28, the date of the Pullman game.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB MEETS

Old and New Members Alike Must Compete In Monday's Tryout Is Club's Decision.

In a meeting of the Girl's Choral Club, which was called to order by Miss Maude Beals last Tuesday afternoon in Villard, it was decided that the club membership should be limited to twenty-four. It was also suggested to form a chorus of over a hundred voices in connection with the club proper.

The girls have already outlined plans for gaining the interest of the townspeople and if all goes well, a concert and recital will be given during the winter.

The tryout, in which all old members of the club must compete, will be held Monday, at 4 o'clock, in Villard Hall, and is open to all women in the Varsity.

PROF. WADE, NEW VOCALIST, PLANS LARGE SCALE CHOIR

In connection with the musical department of the University this year is Mr. G. Rawson Wade, a vocal instructor, late of the University of Illinois, who for years has had much to do with the training of choral societies.

Professor Wade was educated in England, and has given many oratorical concerts in that country as well as in America. For the past five years he has been at the head of the Voice Department of the University of Illinois and also choir director of the Trinity Episcopal church of the University town of Urbana. Six weeks ago illness compelled Mr. Wade to give up his work in the East and come West to recuperate. After his arrival in Oregon he at once found intense interest in the State University.

Since the beginning of the semester, Mr. Wade has put forth every effort to form a University Choral Society of about 150 voices, in order to stimulate a general interest in choral work. With it he will hold two concerts a year, one at Christmas, and the other sometime in May. The May concert will be a musical festival lasting about two days.

The society will be composed of Eugene people as well as Varsity students, in order that the business men of the town may assist in financial matters. Tryouts for men for the society will be held next Monday afternoon in the music room of the Dormitory.

Following the abolition of the preparatory department at the University Idaho, the school board of Moscow voted $65,000 for the erection of a new High school building.

WOMEN OUTDONE IN MATTERS OF HEAD GEAR

Seniors Resolve to Hold Budding Classmen to Conservative Head Gear

Hitherto the feminine students population of Eugene has held an unquestionable reputation in regard to the adoption of freakish apparel, but this fall it would seem as if the stronger sex were determined to wrest this notoriety from them. Weird and strange indeed are the costumes with which piggery are adorning their masculine beauty.

When "Windy" Barzee and his ardent admirer, Orator Warner, first appeared in their lop sided brain protectors, it was regarded merely as the doing of over-developed minds, but now that Bob Kellogg, president of the senior class has donned a Paris creation, patterned after the sombrero of the far Southwest, the craze for notoriety is duly recognized as such.

And to cap the climax, two modish young creatures, Jamison and Homer by name, have blossomed forth with "dickeys" and canes. Feminine eyes follow longingly these amateur Beau Brummels as they stroll leisurely across the campus, and the fierce flame of jealousy burns in many a coed's heart.

Where the quest for gorgeous raiment will cease is an open question, but in this case, as in many others, the solution will perhaps be found in an empty pocketbook.

HARRY BULGER IN "THE FLIRTING PRINCESS"

The latest singer success comes to the Eugene Theatre, Friday, Oct. 13th, and is Harry Bulger in "The Flirting Princess," by Adams, Hough, and Howard, authors of many of the Princess Theatre musical shows. "The Flirting Princess" is styled a 'nonsense farce' by the authors. Anything the range of a three act piece, with a little of everything in it, is called almost any other name nowadays, but to him who wants to see a 'show' a musical comedy is just as sweet. "The Flirting Princess" is a disguised American girl, with just enough of an adventurous spirit to enjoy the flirtations of her would-be wooers, while she is seeking for the man she would care to kiss for the second time. Her experience prove the first kiss is disastrous to any further enchantment. She surrounds herself with an atmosphere of mystery and find enjoyable recreation among the guests at the hotel Claremont, where the authors see fit to let everything happen. Several things do happen and all between 6 o'clock on a summer's evening, until the wee small hours of the same night.
