PORTUGUESE PROF. BALKS AT USE OF ENGLISH

President Campbell is in receipt of a letter from Barcelona, Portugal, asking for copies of the University catalogue. It is interesting to note a foreigner's conception of the correct use of the English language.

Barcelona, 18 September, 1911.
Hon. President of the University of Oregon, Eugene (Oregon).

Sir: Wishing to enrich our "American and Cultural Museum" with the news on the great Universities of America, we have the honour to play you—whom guide as well now this—send us a little historical sketch of the same, branches of study, pedagogical criterion, national textbooks,—any one, if you please—number of students (officials and unofficials), professors and photographs of the building.

Our wish should, Sir, that in the successive when the intellectual entail or others motives may be cause of a superior harmony between us, be the "Casa de America" one of the most faithful depositories of your sympathy and confidence.

Awaiting your hon. letter, I remain, Sir, yours truly,

RAFAEL VITUS,
General Secretary.

OREGON MONTHLY TO APPEAR SATURDAY

Contributions by Gifted Writers Will Make Year's First Issue Great Success.

The first issue of the Oregon Monthly will be out Saturday. This issue has been devoted principally to Commencement and Alumni news. One of the features is to be Mrs. Ellen Condon McCornack's article on Oregon's first commencement, when she with two others graduated.

Hal Bean has written an interesting account of Friday Harbor—the spirit of the life and the essence of what the students accomplished there. A cut of the place has been inserted as a frontispiece.

A "breezy" account about Summer School will also appear. The authorship, however, is unknown. The statistical articles concerning what each class has left to the University, together with the alumnae notes, will be of great interest.

Professor Dunn has also contributed to this issue of the Monthly. His contribution came in the form of a classical and polished poem.

An anonymous writer sent in a good German poem. Among the stories is one by Esther Grisson, which deserves special commendation. It is alive with local color and is a clever portrayal of humanity in general. Earl Stannard has written a satire on "The Modern Method of Teaching Poetry," which shows good literary ability. Dean Collins has contributed another of his humorous "Martin Miggs" stories.

Every article is of interest, and the first issue of the Oregon Monthly promises to be a success.

INITIAL STUDENT BODY DANCE DECIDED SUCCESS

Graduate Manager Geary reports the first informal student body dance, held last Saturday night in the men's gym a success in every way. In spite of the fact that the football men were not allowed to attend, more than one hundred and twenty couples assembled on the floor. The following statement is an itemized financial account made:

Total receipts	$61.50
Expenditures—
Music (five-piece orchestra)	20.00
Autos (for patronesses)	3.00
Programs (Coe's stationery store)	2.00
Programs (Yoran's printing house)	3.75
Punch (Eugene Ice & Storage Co.)	8.00
Berry's, services and table cloth	1.75
Total expenditures	$38.50
Balance over expenditures	23.00

At present the Student Body is planning to give at least three Informals during the course of the school year. The success of the last dance, however, has so pleased Mr. Geary that he strongly urges that this number be extended, if possible.

LAUREANS PLAN SERIES OF ADDRESSES BY EX-MEMBERS

At the weekly meeting of the Laurean Society, Saturday evening, plans were laid for series of speeches by prominent ex-Laureans, both alumni and under-grads, on subjects, with which they are intimately connected. Chairman Haugen expects to have two or three speakers at each meeting, in addition to the regular program.

The debate, "Resolved, that Senior Students should not be required to take examinations," was warmly contested. Crockett and Jones winning from Herder and Davis by a two-to-one decision.

The question for next Saturday will be the preferential rate of tolls on American shipping passing through the Panama canal.

The Laurean Society now consists of thirty-two active and about twelve associate members.
