

OREGON WINS SECOND GAME OF SEASON

PULLMAN LOSES IN HARD GAME BY SCORE OF 6-0

TOUCHDOWN MADE BY CAPTAIN MAIN AFTER 75 YARD END RUN

NO OREGON MEN HURT IN THE CONTEST

Latourette, Nolan and Main Said to Have Been Stars of the Oregon Team.

In one of the fiercest battles in Northwest football annals, decided by a sensational run of seventy yards by Capt. Main, Oregon grabbed the long end of a 6 to 0 encounter with the Washington Agricultural College at Pullman, Friday afternoon.

Captain Main's run will go down as one of the greatest plays in Northwest history, as his remarkable performance did not come as a result of fluke, fumble, blocked kick or intercepted pass, but merely on an old fashioned end run which netted the necessary touchdown to bring victory to the lemon-yellow. The Oregon captain showed his versatility by kicking the goal a moment later.

Oregon scored her touchdown in the third quarter and up to that time was given credit of being outplayed by her heavier opponent.

The Oregon goal was threatened twice during the game, once in the first quarter, when Noland saved Oregon by blocking a place kick, and again in the third quarter, when Oregon held on the twenty yard line and Latourette booted the ball out of danger.

The game was devoid of any sensations in the line of forward passes and trick plays, the defence of both teams breaking up all attempts with discouraging regularity. The greater amount of the play was in midfield, with a punting duel between Latourette and Coulter, in which the Oregon quarterback outkicked his opponent. Coulter, however, kicked high and short, making it impossible for Latourette to run in the kicks.

The victory practically eliminates Pullman, and there is little doubt that Washington will trim Idaho and Oregon will put Whitman out of the way before the big encounter on Nov. 18th. It looks as if the championship of the Northwest will be decided then. However, too much confidence cannot be placed in Oregon's chances in the big game, as Washington has ten men who have won their W's in previous year's fighting on the team. Washington is always dangerous and always will be as long as Gil Dobie directs the interests of the purple and gold. Just what Washington has or can do will never be demonstrated until they line up against Oregon. Man to man they are as strong as Oregon and on the ends, where we fall shy, they have Warren, Grimm, Pete Husby and Wayne Sutton, all of whom are stellar performers on offense and handle the forward pass better than any men in the conference.

The teams line up at Pullman was as follows:

NEUBAUER ASKS AID OF GLEE TO INSPIRE OREGON SPIRIT

Ferdinand J. Neubauer, '10, who taught in the La Grande High School last year and converted nine of his students to the Oregon way of thinking, is this year teaching in Oakland. He has five in his graduating class this year, all of whom he thinks he could send to Eugene next year with a little help and is asking that a quartette or double quartette of Glee Club men stop in Oakland and sing a few songs for the students and citizens and in general aid him in inspiring Oregon Spirit.

This could easily be arranged for by the management, as Oakland is only fifteen miles north of Roseburg and the men could stop off and give a matinee concert and go on the Roseburg in time for the evening performance, either by automobile or rail.

IRISH MOBILIZE FORCES

Leaders Hold Meeting and Plan to Spring New Sensation On March 17th.

The Shamrock Club, which was organized by the Sons of Erin in the Student Body last semester, has been revived and promises to be a factor in college activities this year.

A quiet meeting, attended by seven-degree initiates, was held in Deady Hall Friday night, but only a small portion of the business transacted by the Celts would be given out for publication.

Jim O. Roberts, whose forefather's blood ran green at Bannockburn, was chosen to fill the solemn office of "High Banshee." "Brick" McMarter was entrusted with the office of "Keeper of the Shillalah."

The principle of social activity for the year, as outlined, will be a "First Ward Ball" on Patron's Saint's Day, the glorious 17th of March. Plans for the celebration on that date will be taken up at once. If possible, an Irish band will be imported to play the "Wearin' of the Green," which will be both waltzed and two-stepped. Any true son of Erin desiring to obtain admittance into the Irish Club may be considered by application and the presentation of the proper credentials.

The list of membership of the club will not be given out until a later date. An effort to organize a woman's auxiliary may be taken up and considered.

PROF. DUNN WILL ADDRESS ASSEMBLY

The speaker for the next Assembly will be Prof. F. S. Dunn of the department of Latin in the University. The subject to be treated is Virgil's Aeneid, with stereotyped illustrations. Professor Dunn is an interesting speaker, and one of the best authorities on the subject of Latin in the Northwest.

BROWN MEETS OBSTACLES IN SOLICITING FUNDS

STUDENTS ASKED TO TRADE WITH MERCHANTS WHO SUPPORT ACTIVITIES

ROOTER FUND IN GREATEST DANGER

M. P. A. Threatens to Fine Merchants Who Help Finance Student Football Rallies.

In soliciting funds for Rooters' rallies, Yell Leader Brown is experiencing rather troublesome difficulties. At present the chief obstacle in the way of raising cash for the "smokeless smokers," seems to be the local Merchants' Protective Association, which has refused to allow Brown to ask financial aid from the Eugene tradesmen.

Brown's wrath has been raised over this antagonistic attitude of the association toward the University, and he has suggested that the students inaugurate a campaign to bring the association to a realization of what the University means to the merchants.

In speaking of the situation, Brown gave vent to the following sentiments: "The Merchants' Protective Association does not seem to realize the amount of business which the University brings to its doors. A good third of the Eugene merchants would find their business in a somewhat precarious situation if the University were to be removed. The students ought to rise up and bring more forceably to the mind of the University support the merchants. If every student would ask a merchant, once in a while, when purchasing an article, if he supports student activities and how much he supports them, the merchants themselves would be surprised at the size of the University trade."

A week's extension of time has been given, in which contributions of new songs or yells may be handed in. Any original production of this kind submitted to the committee in charge, will give its originator a chance for one of the two prizes which have been provided. As first prize, transportation and admission to the Washington game, will be given, while second choice will receive transportation. As yet only two such contributions have appeared, so that the chance for any tardy competitors to win is still good.

IF YOUR POST IS BLACK LAUGH—IT'S HUMOROUS

Did your last "post" have on it the seal of the administration office stamped in red? If not, disregard it, for it was not official. In order to forestall the "posting" of "low grades" by practical jokers in the future, every official "post" from the office will bear an office seal in red.

Jessup Strang is expected back from Salem, Oct. 30. He has been absent from college since last Monday, on account of blood poisoning.

JOHNS OBTAINS LOW RATE TO PORTLAND WITH STOPOVER

Student manager of football, Jim Johns, has come to final terms with the Southern Pacific Company regarding the adjustment of rates for the Eugene excursionists to the big Oregon-Washington game, November 18th.

There will be a rate of $3.75 round trip, going to Portland on the special train, and returning after the game on the same day, or permitting a stopover in Portland Saturday night, and a return on any train Sunday. The regular week-end excursion rate of $5.00 round trip will be altered so as to be good on Friday, returning Monday.

Tickets for the big game will be on sale in Eugene for the benefit of the Oregon students.

POLICE FOR O. A. C. GIRLS

Young Women in O. A. C. Dormitory Elect Policemen to Relieve Dean of Women.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 27.—Self-government committees after the manner of the Stanford University girls have been established at Waldo Hall, the girls' dormitory of the Oregon Agricultural College. A "chairman" and two "directors" have been chosen for the corridor on each of the three floors, the directors to be responsible to the chairmen and they to the dean for the proper conduct of their corridors.

According to the rules of the hall, the girls must have special permission to leave the building after 6 P. M., or to leave the campus during the day for any purpose other than a short trip to the business section of the city for shopping. They must register at the hall desk before leaving the campus for any purpose, and cancel the registration on their return. Special permission must be gained for remaining away from the refectory at meal times, and the dishes, furniture, or equipment of the hall can not be removed from one room to another without permission.

One very strict ruling, which the new officers will keep an eye to, is that no young woman may go canoeing without having a written permission from her parents or guardian filed first with the dean. The observance of the quiet of the study hours, suppression of running, screaming, or other disturbance in the halls, the registration of intended guests for meals or at night, the immediate report of illness to the dean or her assistant,—all these matters to be watched by the corridor chairmen for the dean. In this way the dean is relieved her free to devote that time to the more important functions of her office.

Ether U'Ren, ex-'13, June Gray and Grace Hobbs, both '11, are attending O. A. C., where they are taking the Domestic Science course. They are kept constantly busy defending the 'varsity in the orange and black camp. Miss Gray and Miss Hobbs are spending the week-end at their homes in Eugene.

Professor and Mrs. Straub entertained the Beth Rhea and A. T. O.'s at their home last Saturday evening.
