

OREGON MANAGERS GIVE PARTICULARS CONCERNING GAME

JOHNS OBTAINS GENEROUS RATES FROM SOUTHERN PACIFIC

TICKETS GO ON SALE MONDAY AT TEN

Big Game Will Be Boosted Through
State by Posters and Press.—
Corvallis Remembered.

Manager Jim Johns has secured an extension of time permitted by the excursion rates to Portland for the big game next Saturday. The three dollar and seventy-five cents rate will allow the excursionists a stop over in Portland until any returning train Monday.

A student's special seventy-five cents general admission ticket to the game will be placed on sale at the Registrar's office in Villard Hall, at 10 o'clock Monday, and the sale will continue throughout the whole week. There will also be an opportunity for those who desire, to procure tickets on the train going down.

There will be a limited number of reserved seat tickets for the benefit of varsity students, but the sale of these will last but until Wednesday. The price of reserved seats will be $1.50. Tickets may be placed on sale with Obak, down town, for the benefit of the Eugene people.

A committee of seniors, composed of Leon Ray, Ralph Moores, and Ralph Newlands, will boost the game about the campus all this coming week. These men will be armed with tickets and will attempt to approach everyone with the idea of talking up the representation of Oregon rooters. The Oregon manager will start the ticket sale in Portland Monday at the same time that the sale begins here. He will also assist Graduate Manager Geary in a wholesale boosting of the big contest throughout the state.

Every press in the state will be reached with advertising material through the University journalism class. Big consignments of posters have been distributed in all the towns of Southern Oregon and the Willamette Valley. Corvallis especially was accorded a generous supply which is expected to generate tons of enthusiasm and support for Oregon. Individual pictures of players will be displayed in various towns. In a word, every effort is being expended to make the football history of the Northwest begin to date from next Saturday, November 18th.

ELECTRIC ENGINEERS WILL HOLD MEETING TUESDAY

The University of Oregon Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will hold the first regular meeting of the year next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Engineering Building. A consideration of the advantages of membership will be taken up and an outline of the plans for the coming year will be made. Following this, Prof. Dearborn will read a paper on the large electrical systems of the state.

During the year, papers presented at the National Body and distributed among the local branches, will be discussed; and out of town speakers on subjects of interest to prospective electrical engineers of the Northwest will be secured.

Mildred Bagley announces a meeting of the Scroll and Script Society for Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock in the Rest Room of the Women's Gymnasium.

FRESHMEN HOLD MEETING TO DISCUSS BONFIRE

The freshman class met Nov. 3, for the purpose of formulating plans for the annual freshman bonfire, which will be set off on Thursday night previous to the Washington game.

The frosh are going to expend every effort to surpass the 1914 production, and already the rubbish about town is beginning to start towards Kincaid Field. Besides this source of supply, the class expects to obtain a large quantity of old boards from one of the local lumber companies.

Another meeting of the class of '15 will be held Monday, when final arrangements for the fire will be made.

STUDENT MEETING TO BE OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

Important Matters to be Discussed in Student Body Meeting Next Wednesday.

An important meeting of the Student Body will be held in Villard Hall next Wednesday, at 10 o'clock. A number of amendments to the constitution, a list of which has been posted on the Bulletin Board in Villard Hall for some time, will be discussed and decided. Besides these amendments, speeches concerning the arrangements for the game in Portland and the conduct of the attending students will be made by Manager Jim Johns, Capt. Main, Busher Brown, and President Campbell. The Girl's Glee Club, which at this time will make its first appearance, will sing several new pieces. And before adjourning, the "Oregon Toast" will be sung, as it is planned to include this song in the rooting at the Oregon-Washington game. Leon Ray, president of the Student Body, announces a meeting of the executive council next Tuesday and also desires a large attendance as possible at the assembly next Wednesday, as it is one of the most important to be held this year.

EUTAXIANS WILL DISCUSS "SOCIAL PROBLEM" NOV. 14

The Eutaxian Literary Society promises an unusually interesting program for Tuesday, November 14. Miss Birdie Wise and Lena Newton will talk on Social Problems in their connection with women. This is the third of the discussions along this line, and the unfolding of problems with their remedies is made exceedingly interesting by able speakers. Miss Eleanor McClaine will give a review of current events, and Miss Margaret Egan will give a recitation, the nature of which is to be a surprise. The program as usual will be concluded with parliamentary drill by the president.

James Hill, a wealthy planter of Riverside, California, has offered a prize of $100 to the student of Stanford or Berkeley who offers the best presentation of some phase of the international peace problem. Competition for the prize between the two institutions will probably take place some time in December.

The University of Washington Daily published a twelve page Centennial edition last Friday, in behalf of the centennial celebration which is in progress this week. A review is given of the history of the University and of student activities at the University since its foundation in 1861.

Garce La Brie, '10, is taking a course in Domestic Science at Simmons College.

Chester Downs, '10, is a sophomore at Johns Hopkins.

FRIARS CLUB ELECTS

The Friars Club announces the election of two brother Friars:

CARLETON SPENCER
DEAN WALKER

OLD GUARD BACK TO HELP WARNER WIN FOR OREGON

TEAM SPEEDS UP UNDER IMPE-TUS OF NEW FORCE—LINE UP NOT GIVEN OUT

OREGON ENDS WILL GET SPECIAL DRILL

Dobie On Side Lines With "Every Little Movement a Meaning All
Its Own."

(Jimmie Roberts.)

With Moulten, Hug, Pinkham, Jamison and "Brick" Michael helping Head Coach Warner rejuvenate the Oregon team, the Varsity has improved a hundred per cent and still has a week to go before the big shaking up. The line seems to be a fixture, but the coaches are not satisfied as yet with the ends and the backfield. Gordon Moores is also expected to join the coaching staff the first of the week and the former captain and star will work with Jamison and Michael to put out a pair of ends that will be able to cope with Grimm and Sutton of Washington. Only two men, Capt. Main and Latourette, look like permanent fixtures for the first lineup of the backfield. The other two places will be filled by Walker, Heusner, Cobb, Jones, or Kaiser. Latourette's foot will probably be in shape to do the punting and without Sap doing the kicking, the Varsity will be greatly handicapped. One of the features of the big game will be the struggle between Latourette and Capt. Coyle of Washington for honors, as all-Northwest quarterback will probably be decided on the showing made in the game.

Great gobs of silence emanate from the canny Scots camp where the wily Dobie is teaching Bill Coyle what to do when he takes his cigar between the right thumb and forefinger and buttons the third button of his new gray overcoat.

The team will be the guest of Manager G. W. Smith of the Eugene Theatre on next Tuesday evening, when Billy Clifford appears at the local theatre. The team, coaches, trainer and manager will occupy boxes.

FRESHMAN WILL HAVE IMPORTANT MEETING MONDAY

The most important meeting of the season will be held by the Freshman class Monday evening at 4 o'clock, in Villard. The purpose of this conclave is to make final arrangements for the monster bonfire which the Frosh will furnish for Thursday night's rally. Every "wearer of the green" is tearfully implored by President Finch, to attend Monday's meeting and get behind the propositions which will be initiated.

Maude Miller, '10, is teaching in the Albany High School this year.

Mr. M. Moore, '07, is principal of the Ashland High School.

George H. Merritt, '06, is attending the Columbia Law School.

Nellie Banfield is in Portland over the week-end.

ROOTERS' FUND MADE UP OF STUDENT SUBSCRIPTIONS

The attempt to secure contributions for the rooters fund from the Merchants' Association of Eugene has been abandoned and the management will be content with the money which has been raised among the students. The contributions which the sororities have made to the fund, are especially appreciated.

On account of the team leaving Friday morning, the date of the rally has been set for Thursday evening, instead of Friday. All the events which have been announced, will be pulled off and "Oregon Spirit" will reign supreme.

INCREASE IN SCHOOL OF CORRESPONDENCE

Department in Sad Need of Funds to Enlarge School to Meet Demand.

"With an increased enrollment of one hundred over last year, with an efficient staff of instructors and readers," and with an additional scope of work and influence, the department has never been in better condition," says Dr. Leonard, "except for the scarcity of funds with which to conduct the work."

The plan of the head of this department of the University is to obtain an expert in this line of work, who can devote all his time to the growing department. But this cannot be done, neither can any more courses be added until additional readers can be employed, which increase is dependent upon the state appropriation.

As it is, however, one hundred new students have been enrolled, making a total of four hundred and eighty that are corresponding with the University from all parts of the Northwest. But as each must enroll for two years, the total enrollment does not remain stable throughout the entire year.

The department maintains its standard through using as "readers" only students who are perfectly familiar with the courses. A new field of usefulness has been acquired through the preparation of outline courses of study which are used by teachers who have to complete a certain course of study.

PRESIDENT OF COLORADO U. SPEAKS IN ASSEMBLY

Classes were adjourned yesterday morning at 10:30 to enable the Oregon students to attend a special assembly held in honor of President Baker of the University of Colorado. President Baker is a strong advocate of "culture for culture's sake," and in his address he deplored the lack of real culture in America.

European countries, he said, far exceed the United States in the scholarly attainments of their educated classes, and he contended that the American college course is to blame for this deficiency.

Harold Broughton registered in college last Thursday.

Mildred Wilson is a guest at the Lambda Rho House.

The University of Washington will open a short course in mining engineering on January 4. With the addition of $4,000 worth of new machinery, the course is to be as complete as can be obtained at any institution. Prof. Joseph Daniels, S. B., of the Massachusetts institute of technology, M. S., of Lehigh, will conduct the course.

OREGON LAW SCHOOL DISPLAYS SPIRIT IN SUCCESSFUL RALLY

PLEA OF CHAS. ROBISON FOR FUNDS ANSWERED TO EX-TENT OF FIFTY DOLLARS

LAW STUDENTS LOYAL TO UNIVERSITY

No Man Must be Able to Talk Above
Whisper After Game Say
Orators

"The Oregon Law School in Portland is showing spirit over the coming Oregon-Washington game that would put to shame the present spirit displayed on the campus in Eugene," says Manager Geary, who returned from Portland this morning, where he has been acting in the capacity of football manager.

The Law students held a rally and smoker last night, for the purpose of arousing spirit for the University, the success of which is phenomenal. Chas. W. Robison, the old Oregon yell leader and orator, who is responsible for the present college spirit among the "Laws," led off with a plea for money to advertise the Law Department at the Game, so earnest was this speech that at its close, money from all parts of the room was thrown at the speaker. The sum of fifty dollars is said to have been raised from that small body of men.

Robison was followed by other men, who spoke on the importance of support for the Oregon team. "Why," said one man, "if after the game a single student can talk above a whisper, I don't want to see him. I shall be ashamed of my fellow law student who does not support, with all the enthusiasm of his nature, those eleven men, who for the good of their University and with little personal glory to themselves, train every day for two months and run the risk of personal injury."

Friday, Manager Geary and Chas. Robison, in Aaron Meier's automobile, were hauled to the High Schools, and at special assemblies spoke in behalf of the University and the coming game. Indications point to hearty support on behalf of the "Prep" schools. This week Robison will make daily visits to the preparatory schools and drill their rooting bodies on Oregon yells. The High School band has promised to march in the parade, and the "prep" visiting sections will give one or two of their own yells between halves.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS TO HOLD RECOGNITION BANQUET

The Annual Recognition Service and Banquet for the new members of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the gymnasium. After the service, the meeting will adjourn to the Congregational Church, where the banquet is to be held. The old members will be charged twenty-five cents for the banquet. Everyone intending to attend, is requested to sign one of the lists posted on the different bulletin boards, so that definite arrangements can be made.

GORD QUILTS ALFALFA TRADE— PINK COMES OUT OF BRUSH

Gordon Moores, '08, whose deeds of prowess on the football field need no recounting, has forsaken the seclusion of his alfalfa farm and returned to assist in the coaching of the team for their championship struggle.

Louis Pinkham has also returned wearing a dainty hirsute appendage.

The musical department report that they don't think so much of whiskers, as they interfere with a clear tone.
