DAVID CAMPBELL TO GIVE RECITAL FRIDAY

Public Cordially Invited to Hear
Young Artist in Concert of Classic Music.

The first piano recital of Mr. David Campbell, since his return from Europe, will be given in Villard Hall, Friday, November 24, at 8 o'clock. All students, faculty members and friends of the University are cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

Mr. Campbell is a pianist worth hearing. When but a boy of nine, he showed unusual talent and frequently gave public recitals in his home town, Monmouth.

When but sixteen years of age, he went to Walla Walla and won the scholarship in piano at Whitman College, outclassing every other candidate who competed for the honor. Mr. Campbell studied the following year in the Whitman Conservatory of Music and showed such marked improvement, that he went to Europe the following year to study, at the advice of his teachers, who deemed him ready for the finish the German schools afford. Two years were spent in Germany, under the tutelage of some of the greatest masters of that country, and Mr. Campbell returned to America last fall with the stamp of a finished artist upon his playing. He is at present assistant instructor of piano in the Oregon University School of Music.

ANNUAL Y. W. C. A. BAZAAR
TO BE HELD DECEMBER 12

The University Y. W. C. A. and the Ladies Auxiliary are beginning to make their plans for their annual Christmas bazaar, to be held December 12, at the Central Presbyterian Church. There will be market, tea, fancy-work, candy, and other booths, which will offer all manner of dainty bits of finery and all sorts of toothsome dainties.

The girls hope to make the affair the most successful so far and are working hard already to insure the success of the venture.

OREGANA STAFF WORKS FOR A GREAT ANNUAL

Printing and Engraving Contracts to be Let in the Near Future.

Carl Onthank, editor of the Oregana, reports that work on the annual is progressing favorably and says the printing and engraving contracts will be definitely settled soon. While in Portland last Saturday, he obtained bids for the engraving from Hicks Chatten Printing Co. and The Oregon Engraving Co.; and although nothing was definitely decided, he says one of these firms will probably do the engraving. Yoran's Printing House is making a strong bid for the printing and there is a possibility that this local firm will get the printing contract.

It is planned to make this next issue of the Oregana the best yet published. Colored plates of various school activities will be a feature, the Wit and Humor section will be well illustrated, and the editor assures the students that the paper will be out by Junior week end, for the printing contracts will call for delivery a week earlier than that date.

Ouch! Ouch! Ouch!

The following editorial appears in the last edition of the Willamette Collegian:

"Since writing the above article we have come across another editorial in Oregon U's verdant publication that will bear a passing comment.

"Under the caption, 'Another Championship Lost,' the Emerald starts another controversy, attempting to belittle the Willamette University football team. This paper seems especially pleased because our eleven lost to the Multnomah Athletic Club team in an early-season game. Judging from the trend of his remarks, the Oregon prophet—even to this day—appears to be about as badly frightened of our last season's team as his team was a year ago.

"We believe that it shows mighty poor taste for the Eugene university to assail Willamette, when those high in athletic circles at Oregon had just about harmonized matters so that the two institutions would meet again athletically. We also believe that it would show pusillanimity in the extreme to 'lay down' to an institution whose official publication voices sentiment of this nature.

"We would suggest to the Eugene writer that it might be well to be a little more sympathetic and charitably inclined with his 'dope.' Since Oregon's most miserable showing last Saturday against Whitman, one might think that the great State University team is in need of all the solace it can get, from whatever source obtainable.

"This year the Willamette football team is in no way to be compared with that of a year ago. Roscoe Fawcett, sporting editor of the Oregonian, recently stated that 'if an institution the size of Willamette can turn out a strong team once in four or five years, it is doing very well.'

"Then again, it might be well for the Oregon scribe to wait until after November the 18th, and the game with Washington is over before rejoicing at the downfall of others. Oregon should win, but even if she does it will fail to bring up much of an average for her 'joke' team of the last three years.

"Three years ago: Washington 15, Oregon 0. Two years ago: Washington 22, Oregon 6. Last year Oregon artfully dodged Washington and thereby escaped a third defeat; meeting but two conference teams and losing to Multnomah. Now this season when Washington is the weakest in four years, Oregon bravely consents to play her.

"The great distinction between Willamette's and Oregon's football teams in recent years is, that Willamette has won games out of her class, while Oregon loses continually to teams that it should defeat.

"We wonder if the author of this attack upon Willamette wrote 'The System of Posting Grades,' in the Emerald of October 28, and which

Y. W. C. A. WILL MEET ON THURSDAY EVENING

Dr. Conklin Will Speak On Psychology and Religion at Next Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. has been changed from Friday evening to Thursday evening, and hereafter all meetings will be on Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock, in the Women's Gym. This change has been made after a thorough canvass of the opinions of the different clubs, fraternities and the leading men outside of these organizations. It was found that there is a large number of men in the University, who are anxious to attend the meetings, but find themselves so tied up with engagements on Friday night, that it is impossible to attend.

The meeting of next Thursday evening will be addressed by Dr. Conklin of the Psychology Department of the University. Ever since Dr. Conklin spoke to the Y. W. C. A. on the subject, "Psychology and Religion," there have been repeated requests from all sides to have him give the same address before the men. He finally consented to speak, and an address, which will be worthy of a large turnout, is anticipated.

A course in ophthalmology has been opened at the University of Washington under the direction of Prof. Frederick A. Osborn, head of the Department of Physics.

was replied to by a solemn editorial in the Oregonian of November 1. The Oregonian editorial must have claimed the earnest attention of thousands of its readers. Was not the tenor of this article sufficiently scathing to cool the Emerald's burning ardor? Or is its only object in continuing to exist, the petty business of stirring up strife and dissension? We wonder.
"Meanwhile that 1910 score stands the same: Willamette 29, Multnomah 0; Multnomah 6, Oregon 0."
