

INTER-FRATERNITY BASKETBALL WILL BEGIN NEXT MONTH

TWELVE CLUBS AND FRATERNITIES FORM PLANS FOR ENSUING YEAR

SAP LATOURETTE ELECTED PRESIDENT

Schedule As Arranged Will Be Run On Elimination and Percentage Basis.

Twelve representatives of the different clubs and fraternities met in Trainer Hayward's office Tuesday afternoon to formulate plans for the reorganization of the Inter-Fraternity Basketball League, which will renew activity immediately after the holidays.

Hal Bean, president of last year's league, retired, and Earl Latourette was chosen to preside over the destinies for the ensuing year. Evans Houston was elected secretary and treasurer. The officers, together with Hal Bean, Loyd Barzee and Carl Onthank make up the executive council of the league that will decide upon all questions which may arise, and also choose officials for the coming season. Bill Hayward will act as referee for the games and Evans Houston will be official scorer. The magnates decided that only last year's "O" men and men who had taken part in some one of last year's conference games, should be ineligible to play on the house teams. The varsity squad will not be picked until after the inter-frat series is decided.

The Hayward cup was won by Beta Theta Pi last year, but must be won twice before it will become the property of any club, therefore it will be up again this year. The series will not be as long this season as last, and the elimination process will begin as soon as the second round is played off. The fifteen games will narrow the contestants down to three teams, who will play a series of games for the cup. The final series will be decided on a percentage basis, and the winner will receive the Hayward cup amid the applause of the brass polishers. The first two rounds will run as follows, and the losers of the second will drop out of the race.

First Round.

Kappa Sigma vs. Delta Sigma, Sigma Nu vs. Avava. Dorm vs. Sigma Chi, Acacia vs. Oregon Club, Tawah vs. Beta Theta Phi, and Alpha Tau Omega vs. Phi Gamma Delta.

Second Round.

Phi Gamma Delta vs. Kappa Sigma, Delta Sigma vs. Sigma Nu, Avava vs. Dorm, Sigma Chi vs. Acacia, Oregon Club vs. Tawah, and Beta Theta Phi vs. Alpha Tau Omega.

Ruth Finnell is a guest of Florence Cleveland at the Gamma Phi House.

The Delta Sigman's had Alfred Dunn, of Vermont, as a week-end guest.

Fred Holmes and Malcolm McCurren are expected at the Kappa Sig House over Sunday.

The Tri Delta House are having Claire Gibbony, Rita Steiner and Lois Parks as week-end guests.

Week-end guests at the Gamma Phi Beta House are: Misses Sophie Catlin, Jennie Perry, Helen Beach, Marie Zimmerman, and Susan Steiwer.

Floyd C. Ranys, '08, expounded Socialism this summer from the proverbial soap box in the interest of the State Socialistic Organization.

THE "GIRL QUESTION" IS DISCUSSED BY Y. W. C. A.

The last Y. W. C. A. meeting before the holidays will be held Monday at 4 P. M. in the usual place. This meeting promises to be very interesting. Diss Watson, Miss Nellie Hemenway and Miss Birdie Wise will be the speakers, each taking a phase of the Association Girl Buestion, that is, her relation to her professor, to other college girls, to college publications and other college activities. An instrumental solo will be given by Miss Lena Newton.

TROUBLE WITH STUDIES DISTURBS U. OF W. DEBATE

Debate at Washington took quite a shake up when Weltz, Bovington, and Clifford, three men who were picked for the team, withdrew. Clifford and Weltz will leave during the holidays for a fraternity convention in the East, and find that they have not the time to prepare for debate, while Bovington found himself unable to keep up his studies and participate in debate at the time. The trouble will be remedied either by a new try-out, or by making one team debate both in the Coast and Washington tri-angular contest.

Miss Elizabeth Woods, '05, who formerly taught in the Cottage Grove High School, is now a graduate student in Clark University.

Louis A. Henderson, '07, who composed "Hail to Oregon," has hung out his shingle as a civil engineer in Hood River.

Wistar Johnson, '07, Rhodes Scholar, is putting the finishing touches on his education at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

CROSS COUNTRY TODAY

Four Classes Will Compete In Four Mile Relay On Kincaid Field.

At the crack of Starter Hayward's colt, at 3:30 this afternoon, four long-winded sprinters, representing their respective classes, will dig up the dirt for the first half mile of the four mile interclass relay race, and twenty-eight others in a nondescript array of robes and sweaters will await their turn along the course to win cinder path fame.

The Sophomores have an evenly balanced bunch on paper; the freshmen are always dark horses,—the Juniors under Captain McClure are looking for wagers; and the Seniors say, "We always have won before," so the winner is as yet very much undetermined. Chet Huggins will captain the Sophomore team, McGuire will lead the Seniors and Boylen will head the Freshmen aggregation. The lineups subject to change without notice are as follows:

Seniors—McGuire, Johnston, Jones, McDaniels, Johns, Walls, Huggins, and Kelly.

Juniors—McClure, Calkins, Smith, Martsloff, Zimemrman, Stoehr, Reynolds, and Myers, with O. Walker and Thad Wentworth as subs.

Sophomores—Huggins, King, Skai, Miller, Crenshaw, Burris, Epperly, and Cass; Meek, sub.

Freshmen—Boylen, Andersen, Hardisty, Hawley, Rader, Blockabie, Watson, and Dudley. Hill and Geisler, substitutes.

The officials are: Starter, Hayward. Judges of touch, Main, Jamison, Ward, Latourette. Judges of turns, Martin, Neil, E. Jones, Van Marter, Newland, Williams, L. Ray, W. Bachour. Judges of finish, Walker, Bailey, Chet Moores, and Kellogg.

The race will be run entirely on the track and will not be taken over the cross-country course, as first advertised.

EX-FOOTBALL STAR WANTS OPPORTUNITY TO BEAT GIL DOBIE

CORNELL MAN APPEARS ON CAMPUS WITH OFFER TO COACH OREGON TEAM

DEMONSTRATES HIS ABILITY TO PLAYERS

Consensus of Opinion With Players and Students Is to Give New-comer Chance.

Mr. C. F. Perkins, '01, Cornell, two years varsity fullback in that institution and now head of one of the largest electrical supply houses in the Northwest, appeared in Eugene Thursday and asked for the privilege of turning out a team for Oregon that would beat Gil Dobie's four time champions. Mr. Perkins' proposition reads like a story book. He asks for no salary and merely asks to tutor the Oregon team in the gridiron sport for the love of the game. In an interview last night Mr. Perkins said, "I have followed football as a spectator ever since leaving Cornell, but for financial and business reasons I have been unable to follow it as a coach. Now that I am in shape financially, I would like to spend my time in pursuit of my favorite hobby. After following the career of Dobie's Washington machine for four seasons, I think I can develop a team that will beat him, provided, I am given eleven able-bodied men."

Mr. Perkins went out yesterday afternoon with some of the varsity's players to show the men that he meant business, and the old Cornell star, after an absence of eight years from the gridiron, certainly made good in as far as showing off his knowledge of the game was concerned.

The skepticism that existed when the news of Mr. Perkins' offer was first made known, rapidly faded when the demonstration on Kincaid Field was held. Stars and rooters left the field fairly well convinced that the Cornell man knew what he was talking about.

Besides his playing ability, Mr. Perkins has had the benefit of coaching experience with the Cascadilla Prep Institution to Cornell. Under his tutelage the Ithica players were undefeated.

The consensus of opinion on the campus is to give Mr. Perkins the

SENIORS RULE CLASS PINS UNNECESSARY LUXURY

The Senior class held a short meeting Wednesday and decided that they did not desire any such personal embellishments as class pins.

Manager Barbour, of the 1912 Oregon, made his final report which showed the book had been financially successful, yielding about $100 above expenses.

A committee was appointed to select a memorial for the class to be left at the University.

New Athletic Director at O. A. C.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Dec. 9.—A new professor of physical education and director of athletics has just been named by Pres. W. J. Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural College. Dr. E. J. Stewart, a graduate of the medical department of Western Reserve University and for three years past physical director at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., succeeds Dr. E. D. Angell, resigned July, 1910.

Kate Kelly, Chi Omega, has gone to Portland. She will not be back this year.

Claiborne M. Hill, '81, holds the presidency of the Pacific Coast Baptist Theological Seminary.

Mrs. Maude Wilkins Condon, '96, is at home in Seattle.

Miss Ida Noffsinger, '97, formerly a teacher in the Eugene schools, is a business woman in Portland.

Lee Travis, '97, practices law in Eugene.

Miss Harriet Patterson, '03, conducts an extensive florist business in Eugene.

George W. Eyre, '03, a former Glee Club star, is teaching history in the Boise High School.

BAZAAR GREAT SUCCESS

Sale of All Sorts of Home-Made Articles Bungalow Fund Up to $1,700.

The second annual Y. W. C. A. Bazaar, which was held in the Central Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon and evening, for the purpose of swelling the association bungalow fund, is voted a success in every way. Financially, it left nothing to be desired, as one hundred and thirty dollars, clear, is a conservative estimate. The patronage was large and the generous contributions which were made to the Bazaar by members and friends of the association were sold out to the boards when the bazaar closed in the evening.

The market booth, which dispensed all sorts of home-made goodies, from self-rising bread and baked beans to plum-pudding and angel-cake, was sold out first and cleared about $30. The fancy-work and art booths were the sources of many dainty Christmas gifts and useful household accessories, such as laundry bags and big gingham aprons.

Tea, which was served in a pretty yellow and green bower at dainty little tables lighted by shaded candles, received a liberal patronage. The candy booth, with its home-made confections, was a center of attraction.

The money received from this source brings the "bungalow fund" up to about seventeen hundred dollars, so that the bungalow does not seem so very far away, as the whole sum required is but two thousand dollars.

John A. McQuinn, '79, of the second graduating class, is a civil engineer in Portland.

During his short stay in Eugene, he has won a host of friends and admirers, and should the Athletic Council accept his proposition, he will have believers in him among the squad who turned out and watched him work.

BRIGHT, SPARKLING OREGON GLEE CLUB READY FOR CONCERT

PREPARATIONS GONE OVER FOR APPEARANCE AT THEATRE MONDAY NIGHT

CLUB HAS THE BEST PROGRAM IN YEARS

Three Vaudeville Sketches Will Bring Varsity Hitchcocks Before Spotlight.

All preparations have been completed and final rehearsals are being conducted for the sixteenth annual Glee Club concert at the Eugene Theatre next Monday night.

This year's entertainment promises to be the cleverest ever attempted by the organization.

The program, which was published in full in the last issue of the Emerald, contains a number of features which are expected to score heavily. The greater part of these will, of course, be furnished by the Glee Club in the regular selections, which are of a high order. Stunts and specialties, however, have not been neglected, for this side of the entertainment has received special attention from Director Ogden this year.

The musical numbers to be furnished by David Campbell, Kenneth Frazier, and Harry Ding, will be of unusual merit. Campbell's reputation as a pianist needs no rehearsal in Eugene, while Frazier has been successfully featured as a soloist by the Glee Club during the past two seasons. Ding will sing in native Chinese costume, providing a unique and enjoyable deviation from the usual program.

There will be three vaudeville sketches. The longest is the concluding act, entitled, "Mr. Crane Visits Oregon," in which the entire club will participate. It was written by Dean Collins, '11, the original "Nescius" Nitts, in collaboration with Director Melvin Ogden. Collins is responsible for the plot and part of the dialogue, while Ogden supplied most of the lines and adapted the sketch for presentation. Numerous musical numbers will be introduced during this act, including the singing of the popular "Gee, But It's Great to Meet a Friend From Your Home Town," by Glen Storie, who portrays a Freshman with remarkable fidelity to nature, going so far as to submit to an actual "bath-tubbing."

A ten-minute farce, entitled, "Maid for a Night," will serve as a vehicle for the histrionic talents of Norton Cowden and Vernon Vawter. The mere announcement that these two stars were to appear in one and the same caste was sufficient to cause a stampede on all the vegetable and fruit dispensaries of this city. In this skit Cowden appears in female disguise, and his make-up is said to be one which will block the stage entrance with taxicabs at the more bizarre towns.

The third sketch to be presented is entitled, "Birds of a Feather," with Burns Powell, Melvin Ogden, and Vernon Vawter as the co-stars. It was written by Burns Powell, and deals with the efforts of two thespians who wish to put on a vaudeville sketch to secure a third member for their troupe, Vawter being the applicant for the position. Burns Powell has a song, entitled, "We Certainly Have Our Troubles," the words and music of which he himself wrote. The native talent in the University is also
