CHAMPIONS OF EQUAL SUFFRAGE IN ASSEMBLY

Advocates of Women's Rights Talk
Before University Students in Villard Hall.

At the regular assembly in Villard this morning, two short but instructive addresses were given by representatives of the Women Suffrage Movement of Oregon.

The first address was given by Miss Greely, of New York City. She traced the evolutionary movement for the advancement of women in the past and showed how the women who seventy-five years ago had no civil rights, such as property rights, contract rights, heritage rights, or percentage rights, had finally, in 1848, rebelled and started a movement for the emancipation of women whose ultimate object was equal suffrage. Next she showed how all the minor rights had been gradually obtained, having only the right of equal suffrage ungranted. She then stated that if a calamity should overtake the state at the present time which would result in the overthrow of the existing government, women would demand and probably obtain an equal voice in order to safeguard her interests. In conclusion she showed how the whole question was incidental in this evolutionary movement of the race which is going on at the present time.

The second address was delivered by Miss Whitney, the National College Secretary of this movement. She showed the advance which the subject was making in the various states and showed the necessity of having the colleges and educated communities of the country behind the movement to guide it the right course. She then showed in what part of the government and from what standpoint women's interest would lay and in a few words clearly showed that while man's interests lay in corporate and business government, woman's interests would be the correction of evils which surrounded the children.

LINCOLN HIGH MINSTRELS TO SHOW IN EUGENE FRIDAY

For the performance Friday night at the Eugene Theater of the famous Lincoln High School Minstrels every indication points to a record gathering of University students. By telegraph, telephone and letter, members of the troupe of 31 declare that their performance will be away superior to those given in Portland.

Jokes will be localized on both the college and Eugene High School, from which latter institution six young women will be selected to sell candy between the acts.

Announcement of the proposed visit of the Minstrels was made this morning by President Campbell and "Sap" Latourette, a Lincoln alumnus, delivered an address in which he urged the students to attend and pointed out that the reception given to the visitors would in large measure influence them when they came to choose their colleges.

Popular prices have been selected for the offering, the best figure being 75 cents.

The minstrels played to three crowded houses at the Bungalow Theatre, Portland, and their press notices were flattering in the extreme, the local papers devoting in the aggregate two and one-half columns to criticisms.

The curtain will rise at 9 o'clock, this hour being selected by arrangement with the High School, which plays Albany at basketball earlier in the evening.

Calvin Casteel, B. S. 1903, is an engineer on the United States reclamation service, stationed at Zillah, Wash.

Thomas M. Roberts, M. A. 1896, is an electrical engineer, with offices in Boston, Mass.

Lester L. Lewis, B. A. 1902, is sales manager for the Booth-Kelly Lumber Co. in Eugene.

Carrie Matlock Roudebush, B. L. 1897, is at home in San Francisco, California.
