IDAHO BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY OREGON MONDAY AND TUESDAY

FAST NORTHERN TEAM COMES TO EUGENE DETERMINED TO BREAK EVEN

OREGON TEAM CRIPPLED BY LOSS OF MEN

Seat Sale to Commence Saturday With Special Rate of 75 Cents for Both Games.

The University of Idaho quintet which threw a scare into Oregon's five in the recent Inland Empire tour will be on hand Monday and Tuesday of next week to try conclusions with the lemon yellow in the varsity gym.

Though Idaho lost both games to Oregon on the trip, they have profited by their experience and reports from the U. of O. camp state that the invaders from the far east intend to break even at least on the series. They will have a number of men in their lineup who were out on account of injuries.

The fifth man on the Oregon team has not yet been named, but will make his debut on Monday night. Rader, who played guard on the trip, will be out of the game.

Bradshaw is a prominent second team candidate for varsity honors and Vosper, a former Jefferson High School star, who entered the second semester, is also making a strong bid for the team.

The Idaho lineup will be Loux, center Kinnison and Saulen, forwards, and Buffington and Nuffer, guards.

The seat sale will open Saturday morning, at 9:30, with sections both at Linn's drug store and the Obal cigar store. The price of admission to a single game will be fifty cents, but Manager Geary has a bargain rate of seventy-five cents for both games.

This will be Idaho's first game at Oregon for two years, as they did not make the valley trip last year. Jaimson may not be back in the game, unless his injured knee improves.

FRESHMEN SCORE HIT

Formal Party Has Minimum Blunders, Beautiful Decorations, and Huge Crowd.

On last Saturday night one of the big formal dances of the year was pulled off when the class of 1915 entertained the college folk as well as many out of town guests. According to the majority of opinions heard since then it was one of the most successful affairs of the kind held for several years.

The men's gym, in which the dance was held, was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Fraternity and sorority crests were suspended from the balcony, while a large fishnet, covering all four walls of the gym was completely filled with evergreens and was a most convincing testimonial to the untiring energy of the fresh decorators.

As usual, Berry presided over the punch bowl and although nothing else in the line of refreshments was offered, enough of the one beverage was offered, to satisfy the cravings of the five hundred odd couples present.

For the most part the dance was exceedingly successful and at the close, the lights were left on long enough for the crowd to escape from the building without necessitating the use of the traditional pocket search-light.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE WILL DECIDE UPON CO-ED DEBATE

It's up to the executive committee whether or not Oregon's co-eds meet the University of Washington co-eds in a tennis tournament this spring.

Manager Geary has recommended the scheme to the committee, which has not taken action upon his recommendation so far. If it carries, the Oregon team, consisting of two, will journey to Seattle, in accordance with Washington's offer submitted to Manager Geary recently.

Who will represent Oregon is undecided until the weather will permit consistent playing. As soon as the ground has sufficiently dried out, the three girls' courts will be prepared, and the announcement comes from an authoritative source that a fourth court will be constructed for the exclusive use of the girls.

Dr. Stewart has not yet arranged her girl's tennis schedule, which is substituted for the indoor gym work, but says that it will be out as soon as the weather permits of any playing.

George Washington, '00, was born on the 22d of February.

ANNUAL INCLUDES DEPTS.

Onthank Makes Final Arrangements For Law and Pre-Medic Schools in Year Book.

Carl Onthank, editor of the Oregonian, will go to Portland at the end of the week to make final arrangements for representing the Law and Medical departments of the University in the year book.

It is the intention of the staff to give the faculty and upperclassmen of the Portland departments representation uniform with the University at Eugene, an innovation which will be an improvement over previous years. An editor will be selected for each department, who will secure the photographs and whiteups necessary. "Beauty" Robinson is busy among the law students, collecting subscriptions and doing some general boosting.

Individual cuts will be used to a large extent throughout this year's Oregonian, eliminating the prep. school style of groups. The photographs of seniors and juniors are practically all in, and the fraternities are nearly complete. Still a few of the senior summaries are not yet in, which must be handed this week to Ed. Bailey or left at the Book Exchange. A large number of students have not yet taken advantage of the special subscription rate, which will soon be withdrawn.

GERMAN CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING TUESDAY EVENING

The German Club holds its first meeting of the new semester next Tuesday evening, February 27, at the Lambda Rho house.

Elizabeth Busch, the club's new president, announces an interesting outline for the Spring semester work.

The club intends to study by means of poems, songs, and the different phases of German life, as will be portrayed by the following program:

1. "Rural Life and Labor"—Edna Messenger.
2. Recitation—Miss Struck.
3. Peasant Life—Dorothy Campbell.
4. Solo—Rose Basler.
5. Tramp Through the Southern Black Forest—George Schantin.
6. Recitation—Rachel Applegate.

This coming meeting will be an important one, as new rulings and plans are to be decided and the President urges that all members be present next Tuesday evening at the Lambda Rho House.

MERE MAN WILL BE PUT TO SHAME BY CO-EDS IN DANCE

NELLIE HEMENWAY, BIRDIE WISE, AND FLORA DUNHAM PLAN UNIQUE DANCE

SPECTATORS WILL CROWD TO GALLERY

Patrons Are Chosen From Among the Faculty Male Members, But No Cabs Will Be Furnished.

Under the leadership of a committee composed of Nellie Hemenway, Birdie Wise, and Flora Dunham, the past performances of mere man at the dances of the University of Oregon are to be put to shame by the co-eds in the leap year dance which will follow the Utah-Oregon debate, next Friday evening. The patrons of the dance will be led down the gymnasium floor to their stations of honor properly escorted and will be given the most courteous attention throughout the evening. Although some of the men who have been rather neglectful in the past, will not have their programs filled by their partners, and one or two noted "cutters" will be allowed to adorn the wall, on the whole, the women are planning to be considerate of their partners as well as of the patrons.

In the meeting of the committee last night, Earl Fortmiller and Louis Bond were selected to hand out the programs in place of the two girls who usually perform this duty. Brook Dixon was chosen to stand at the head of the stairs and direct the men and their escorts where to place their wraps, and the following list of patrons were agreed upon: Pres. P. L. Campbell, Prof. Edgar Ezekiel DeCou, Dr. H. B. Leonard, Prof. John Straub, Prof. Albert Raddie Sweetser, Prof. John Freeman Bovard, and Prof. Richard Harold Dearborne.

The plan, proposed by Nellie Hemenway and Cecil Miller, to have a leap

INDOOR MEET IN MARCH

Big Affair Will Be Held In Gym With Special Features Besides Regular Events.

A monster indoor meet will be pulled off in Trainer Hayward's athletic stronghold in March, with the probable date set for the 23. The purpose of the affair being to stimulate general athletic interest and to bring out track material.

Besides having the usual features of an indoor meet, there will be pulled off something novel as a sixty-five yard obstacle race, high dive, and a string of wrestling bouts for all classes. The best men in each weight division will be chosen to represent his class in the final tournament. Entries for wrestling may be made one week before the meet is pulled off.

The following is the list of events: 30 yards run; 100 yards run; 300 yards run; 600 yards run; 1000 yards run; 2500 yards run; 60 yards obstacle pace; high jump; high jump spring board; broad jump; pole vault; shot put; high dive.

Interclass wrestling: 115 lbs. and under feather weight; 135 lbs. and under light weight; 145 lbs. and under welter weight; 158 lbs. and under middleweight; 175 lbs and under light heavyweight; 175 and over heavyweight.

CANOE CLUB MAY HAVE BOATHOUSE AND QUARTERS

With its limit of thirty members practically secured, the Canoe Club is formulating plans for the erection of a boat house to be used as a headquarters for the boating enthusiasts of the varsity.

Steps have been taken to secure a lease on the level strip of land lying by the curve in the race just opposite the civil engineering building. Should this be secured, some local capitalist, probably Mr. Chambers, who owns the land adjacent to the race, will be approached with the plan of erecting a simple, yet suitable boathouse, which will yield a rent through the charge for boat stalls. Plans for this structure have been drawn by Charles Olsen, and should this scheme be carried out, it will give to those interested in canoeing unrivaled facilities for the sport.

The dues of the club, one dollar a year, and fifty cents for new members, will soon be collected, giving the organization ample funds for their occasional social affairs. The next meeting will be held Friday afternoon, at four.

CO-EDS ASK SUFFRAGE

Varsity Women Plan for Strenuous Campaign During Semester—Officers Are Elected.

The University organization of the Women's Suffrage League will hold its next meeting on Wednesday evening in Dr. Schafer's room. A constitution will be adopted and plans made for the work of the semester.

The purpose of the club is purely educational. Miss Wise, in speaking of the organization, said that since the problem of equal suffrage is a live one, the question will arise, "What do college women know about the issue?"

The club is also to serve as a means for the women to get acquainted with the different phases of the subject and get an intelligent knowledge of all the problems which might be involved. The plans are to get good local speakers and prominent lawyers and business men from Portland to address the Oregon association from time to time. At present, it comprises twenty-four of the prominent women in college and it is expected that many more will join. The officers of the club are: President, Birdie Wise; vice-president, Emma Waterman; secretary, Esther Grissem; treasurer, Merle McKelvey.

VARSITY SENIOR SENTENCED TO SEMESTER'S HARD LABOR

Despite counter attractions in town and on the campus, the annual Mock Trial of the Laurean Literary Society drew an attendance of upwards of fifty last Saturday evening.

The case on trial was "State versus Buford Jones, '12—Grand Larceny." Jones was accused of purloining the carboniferous specimen known as a "chip diamond" from the chemistry lecture room, and though ably defended by Attorneys Kimmel and Terpening, was finally convicted and sentenced to a semester of hard labor in the department he had allegedly wronged. Ben Williams, '10, ex-president of the society, presided as judge. State's Counsel Collier and Special Attorney King conducted the prosecution.

The program for this week's meeting, next Saturday evening, will include monologues by E. L. Anderson and Bill Cass, the "Sage of Podunk." The regular debate will be on the subject of "Woman Suffrage," which is at present a question of considerable localized interest.

OREGON IS PREPARED FOR BIG UTAH DEBATE NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

JONES AND CROCKETT READY FOR KICK OFF IN HARD FOUGHT WORDLY BATTLE

LEAP YEAR DANCE INSURES ATTENDANCE

History of Oregon-Utah Debates Shows Two Colleges Have Equal Records.

The stage is set for the fourth annual debate with University of Utah, which will be held in Villard Hall, Saturday, at 7:30 P. M.

This debate will be the first leap-year forensic contest ever held at Oregon. Manager Geary's ticket dispensers are meeting with excellent success and the indications are that the Leap Year Debate and Dance will be one of the most enjoyable of the year, as well as a financial success.

The question at issue is the "Recall of Judges." The Oregon stalwarts, J. Earl Jones and Peter C. Crockett, will uphold the affirmative, while Messrs. Hamilton and Gardiner will represent the Mormon University. Earl Jones, leader of the Oregon team, enjoys the unique distinction of being the first student of the Engineering Department to represent the University in debate.

Coach Johnson has placed all his cohorts under strict training rules, including a guaranteed brain stimulating diet.

The men have been rehearsing their material twice a day for the last two weeks and are prepared to meet any kind of attack.

Peter Crockett injured his knee last week in the gym and it was feared that he would not be able to debate, but "Bill" Hayward, who has taken him in charge, assures his recovery.

An investigation of the history of the Oregon-Utah contest reveals the fact that each school has won two de-

LAI SCORES A BIG HIT

Ex-Oregon Student Under Professor Glen Calls Down Washington Applause.

Before an audience of 1200 at the University of Washington auditorium last Wednesday, William Lai, member of last year's Oregon Glee Club, made a decided hit as tenor soloist in the cantata "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast." Speaking of the former Oregon singer, the Washington Daily says:

"The remarkable fullness, sweetness and clarity of Lai's tones, coupled with excellent enunciation, stormed the student audience, whose applause could not be silenced until he repeated a part of his solo, "Onaway! Awake, Beloved."

Professor Irving M. Glen, who formerly directed the Oregon Glee Club, had charge of the concert at the northern institution, and the warmth with which it was received by the large audience, firmly established his position as a leader in music circles at the University of Washington.

In regard to Professor Glen's ability, the Daily said: "Professor Glen's success in directing the University music department merits commendation. During one semester the former Eugene leader has rallied around him the campus musical talent, and by his pleasing personality and indubitable ability has obtained excellent results."
