DRAMATIC CLUB TO STAGE
'CANDIDA' IN TWO WEEKS

Maude Beals and Forrest Dunton take Leading parts Under Prof.
Reddie's Tutelage.

The U. of O. Dramatic Club, under the tutelage of Professor Reddie, have been working steadily for some time past on their spring production and are now able to announce definitely that "Candida," the play chosen for production will appear on the boards at the local theatre on Monday, March 25. The play is one of the realistic productions of Bernard Shaw, and will be particularly appreciated by students registered in the department of English. "Candida" is written in three acts and is thoroughly up to date in every sense.

A few new members of the dramatic clubs will be given parts in the play, but most of the cast is made up of students of well-known histrionic ability. The characters, in their order of entrance are as follows:

Proserpine Garnett, stenographer
Nancy Noon
Rev. James Mavor Morell, Christian Scientist
Forrest Dunton
Rev. Alexander Mill, his curate
Frank Dudley
Mr. Burgess, Candida's father
Alexander Martin
Candida, wife of Morell
Maude Beals
Eugene Marshbanks, a poet
Walter Dimm
Scene: Morell's study. St. Dominic's parsonage, Hackney Road, Victoria Park, London.
Time: The present.

GEARY TO PORTLAND TO ARRANGE FOR ATHLETICS

Manager Arthur Geary left for Portland tonight in order to arrange schedules for spring athletic events.

While in Portland, he will try to interest the Portland merchants in the matter of furnishing trophy cups for the Northwest Conference Track Meet which is to be held in Portland next June.

Manager Geary will also arrange for baseball games to be played between Multnomah and Oregon, and it is rumored that he has high hopes of contracting for a football game with Willamette next fall.

PLANS FOR SPARKLING COUNTY FAIR ON TAP

Beer Garden, Orpheum Circuit and Minstrel Show Among the Star Attractions.

The plans for the Y. W. C. A. County Fair are progressing rapidly. The stunt committee already has a long list of excellent stunts in hand, but has expressed a desire that those who have not already applied, do so immediately. Among the chief amusements will be the Orpheum Circuit Show, under the management of Norton Cowden, who says he has some juicy bits to present to the public in the form of singing and dancing, sleight-of-hand tricks and tight-wire performances. One of the big attractions will be the "Bigger and Better Minstrel Show," which everyone can see for the price of admission. The fact that Glen Storie is to be interloper and Sap Latourette and Mason Roberts end-men, is in itself a guarantee of its success, and they are assembling a chorus of good voices, which will warble "Stop Kickin' My Dog Around," and other up-to-minute ditties.

The partial list of stunts contains promising things as "The Streets of Cairo," "Roulette Wheel," "Living Statues," and "A Kiss for a Nickel," "Dirty Dora," and "Zeno, the Snake Charmer," and "German Beer Garden," a title which ought to tempt the boys from the Springfield nickelodeons.

There will be ice-cream cones, confectionery, candy, and soda pop on tap, so that no one need go hungry or thirsty.

The fair is listed on the calendar for next Saturday evening, in the men's gym and the price of admission is to be twenty-five cents, for children and adults alike, and it all goes for sweet charity's sake in general and the ever present bungalow fund in particular.

OUTLOOK FOR BASEBALL SEASON ENCOURAGING

Coach Jamison Enthusiastic Over Baseball Material—Pitchers, However, Lacking

The 1911 baseball season begins this afternoon, with practice on the campus diamond, under Captain Jamison, who has been elected by the Athletic Council to coach this season. Jamie is willing to devote his time to turning out a good team, but draws the line at picking the men. "Let some one pick the team, and I will coach it," he says. "Competition will be keen, especially for infield positions, so it will be mighty hard to name the right man for each place."

Prospects for a winning club are exceedingly bright. The old men who will report are: Roberts, Chandler, Anundsen, Word, Fenton, Barbur, Mount, Peet, Cobb, Newlands and Van Marter. All we lack is a supply of good pitchers.

"There are four games scheduled with Washington, two with W. S. C., and probably two with Multnomah Club, and a week-end trip to Southern Oregon. We had a trip to California, but the faculty objections rendered it impossible. * * * No, I haven't signed a Coast League contract, and I'm going to be here till June."

During the last week laborers have been busy getting the infield into condition, and if the present June weather continues it will not be long until the aspiring Wagners get into mid-season form.

A $10,000 statue of Benjamin Franklin is to be placed on the campus at the University of Penn
