OREGANA IS RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION

Individual Cuts to Be Used in Place of Group Pictures.

Work on the 1913 Oregonian is progressing rapidly. Unless unforeseen delays are encountered, about one hundred pages of the Junior Year Book, composed of material from the Law and Medic Departments, will go to press about March 15th.

Not only will the book be out on time, before Junior Week-End, it will also be a little different in that individual cuts are used almost exclusively, including the Varsity men, in five branches of athletics. All cuts of the faculty, to be arranged three on a page, and of the Seniors, which are twice the size formerly used, are in the hands of the engraver, while all fraternities, clubs and miscellaneous organizations are complete and will go to the engravers at once. This much done, Editor Onthank has made the first rough outline of the annual, which shows that most all the material is in, with the exception of the joke department.

Subscriptions are coming in rapidly, with a force of Juniors engaged in taking subscriptions on a one dollar down, one dollar on delivery plan, which closes March 15th.

Y. M. C. A. WILL HOLD ANNUAL NOMINATIONS THIS WEEK

The nominations for the Y. M. C. A. officers for next year will be made at the regular meeting on next Thursday evening. The terms of the present officers will expire on March 28. A nominating committee has been appointed, consisting of the president of the advisory board, Prof. DeCou as chairman, President J. Earle Jones, and one representative from each class, Ed Himes, senior, Karl Onthank, junior, Don Rice, sophomore, and Mervin Irish, freshman.

The meeting last Thursday was addressed by Mr. Jefferson Irish of Eugene, who took the place of Prof. Dunn. Prof. Dunn was unable to fill his appointment on account of ill health.

Co-ed Basketball Returns.

Gamma Delta Gamma won their second game when they defeated the Beth Rheas by a score of 14 to 3. Lambda Rho defeated the Beth Rheas by a score of 14 to 9, thereby eliminating the Beth Rheas.

The semi-finals and finals will be played off next week, when the Hayward cup will be awarded.

Standing of the teams:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Kappa Alpha Theta	2	0	1.000
Gamma Delta Gamma	2	0	1.000

Freshmen	0	1	.000

Lingefelter Leaves College.

C. H. Lingefelter, Jr., of Boise, Ida., left for his home on the 2:05, Friday afternoon. Lingefelter is credited with the a perfect Seager quiz paper, the introduction of the "serpentine glide" in to local terpsicorean circles, and the revival of the national Scotch game, as well as being an authority on men's attire.

He intends to work on his father's ranch until fall, when he enters the University of Utah.

Crockett's Knee Is Worse.

Word was received today from "Pete" Crockett, '14, who is at present with relatives in Athena, saying that his injured knee is still badly infected, with little hope of immediate recovery. As a consequence, Peter's Scotch brogue will not be heard on the campus this semester.

Monthly Appears.

Appearing this afternoon, the February "Oregon Monthly" upheld predictions made for the "all story" number. From the first hit to the "Lost, Strayed and Stolen" section, the paper bristles with clever poems, and articles of interest.

Whoever wrote the "Scraps from the Diary of a Frosh," and you can't imagine who it was, was evidently of an observing nature. Not only was the author "next" to all the college cases, but he took off some local conditions cleverly.

Articles were contributed by Ralph Moores, Evans Huston, while Prof. Howe, Ruth Stone, Everett Stannard, and Miss Turney, contributed poetry. Birdie Wise explained the objects of the Woman's Suffrage Association.

Haugen furnished an appropriate cover design.

The University of Washington will open its baseball schedule today in a game with the Olympia High School.

The battery of the University of Ottawa baseball team is Gunn and Gunn.

The basketball season at the University of Idaho closed with a deficit of $19.70.

Harvey E. Lounsbury, '94, is still climbing in the service of the S. P. R. R. Co. He is general agent for the company with offices in the Mohawk Building in Portland.

Virgil D. Earl, '06, one of Oregon's peerless athletes, has had phenomenal success with the athletic teams of Washington High School, Portland, where he is a teacher.

CHEMISTRY CLUB PLANS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Chemistry Club has arranged an interesting program for their meeting next Monday afternoon. Carroll Wagner will discuss the electrical precipitation of suspended particles, demonstrating it by the action of high potential currents on acid fumes. Harold Cockerline will put up the apparatus for the experiment and also explain the Hentzian waves. Lyle Brown will explain the electrical precipitation as applied to smelter gases. The meeting will be held in the chemistry lecture room, at 4 P. M.

Ohio State University will give a course in camp cookery next term, consisting of lectures, laboratory and actual field work.
