MUSIC WILL FEATURE
COMMENCEMENT WEEK

Stanford Man Secured to Direct
Choral and Instrumental Work at 1912 Graduation.

The University is considered fortunate in having secured Mr. G. C. Buehrer, an instructor in the musical department of Stanford, as director of music for commencement week. Mr. Buehrer, who will have charge of the choral and orchestral work, is an accomplished pianist, violist and organist, as well as an experienced soloist and orchestra leader.

It is planned by the University authorities to make the music a special feature of the 1912 commencement, and as Mr. Buehrer is an enthusiastic worker, the quality of music will undoubtedly be the best ever heard on the campus.

In addition to the large chorus of almost a hundred students and townspeople, there will be a special orchestra which will play for all occasions. Heretofore the orchestra has been composed of about fifteen members, but it is planned to have double this number for the coming commencement exercises. This will not only include the best talent of Eugene, but several musicians from Portland will be hired.

Burns Powell, who will assist Mr. Buehrer in all the musical work, will have charge of the orchestra organization and early rehearsals.

The program also includes a Faculty concert, in which Miss Mary Morgan, Miss Eva Stinson, and Mr. Buehrer will appear in solo work. Mr. Buehrer will arrive from California about May 1, and will start rehearsals immediately.

The Eutaxian Literary Society held a social meeting at the Mary Spiller Hall last evening. Talks on the skating rink were given by several of the members. The general trend of their remarks being to the effect that the rink was unhealthy because dusty, and would not be beneficial to a girl who cut gym to skate. A current events paper followed, after which the members voted to temporarily increase the membership role from 30 to 38, owing to the large number of desirable girls who wish the privilege of regular attendance.

Gertrude Holmes, '11, will be at the Gamma Phi House over the week-end. She comes to attend the Beta formal.

JACK, THE GRABBER REPORT-
ED ON NIGHTLY ROUNDS

The many outrages which have been committed lately and are popularly laid at the door of "Jack the Grabber," are arousing a furor of excitement among the feminine college population, and a general clamour has arisen for more street lights, and for masculine escorts.

Within the past two weeks, three college women, whose names for obvious reasons are withheld, have been pursued on their way home from the library by this human beast.

In view of these occurrences, it has become necessary for the Varsity girls to provide themselves with some means of defense, and local milliners report a run on abnormally long hats.

A more pointed example of this was noted last Saturday night, when two prominent University men overtook a woman, who, as they passed her, endeavored to hide a hatchet in the folds of her dress.

According to the descriptions which have been turned in from those who have suffered from the attacks of the beast, he is a tall, lean fellow, with slightly sloping shoulders. His face is thin and sallow, and a pair of glassy, expressionless eyes peer from under a low, receding forehead. He wears a black slouch hat, a light grey overcoat and corduroys.

College men are becoming aroused over the affair, and if something is not quickly done by the Eugene authorities, promise to take matters into their own hands, along the line of a vigilance committee.

The Emerald Is Appreciated.

Eugene, Ore., March 12.

The Editor of "Oregon Emerald,"

U. of O.,

Eugene, Ore.

Dear Sir:

I wish it were possible for me to tell how much I appreciate your tribute to St. Patrick's Day in your last issue. Possibly it means more to a poor old Irishman who left the "ould sod" long before you or any of the present students of the University were born, than you can realize.

I thank you, and wish it were in my power to do something for you, and all who took part in the admirable "get up" of the last Oregon Emerald.

All success and happiness to you always.

Yours gratefully,
THOS. ROCHE.
