REX TURNER, AGE 25, GETS MARRIAGE LICENSE—ALMOST

Did you know Rex Turner had taken out a marriage license to marry a fair maiden of Eugene? Well, neither did he, until he had one. This morning Rex went into the county clerk's office and was greeted by the genial clerk with, "Do you want a license?" Yes, sir," said Rex. "Alright," said the clerk, "answer these questions," and he took down a big book off the shelf. "Name, please." "Rex A. Turner," Residence: "Salem." Color: "Er-er white." Age: "25 years." Occupation: "Student." Number of marriage: "Why, I'm yet to be married." Full name of maiden: "Lu—, say, what're you giving me here?" yelled Rex in great wonderment. "Why, didn't you ask for marriage license?" said the clerk. "Naw," grunted Rex. "I want to register."

SH! PROFESSOR HOWE IS WRITING A SOCIAL NOVEL

It has transpired (per Emerald cub) that Professor Howe, head of the English department, is writing a novel. He refuses to say anything on the subject, but it is known that it deals with present social problems and will embody the author's ideas. The first chapter contains reminiscences of his early childhood, but more could not be learned, for just then Prof. Howe came in his room and caught the reporter, took the manuscript from him, and booted him out of the house; threatening to "flunk" him, if he published a story concerning him.

A fund is being raised among the University students and faculty for the starving Chinese. Chas. Koyl, who is the custodian of the fund, has collected over twenty-one dollars in the last few days, while as yet but few houses have handed in their collection. It is the desire of the varsity Y. M. C. A. to raise about $100 here for the national fund.
