STANFORD AND OREGON DEBATERS MEET FRIDAY

Forensic Fireworks Also Arranged Between U. of W. and Oregon Co-eds, May 4.

Definite arrangements have been completed to hold the Stanford-Oregon debate in the Central Presbyterian Church next Friday evening. The object in holding this decisive contest down town is to attract the alumni and townspeople, who are interested in the University, forensic contests, but have been unable to attend, because of the inadequate car service to the campus.

In the "good old days," when debate was king at the University, the inter-collegiate contests were held in the Eugene theater and drew full houses. Besides the verbal pyrotechnics, which Coach Johnson has instilled into his proteges on the question at issue, a stellar musical program has been arranged.

Arrangements have also been completed with Washington for the Co-ed debate, to be held May 4, at Seattle. Oregon attempted to have the question changed from a discussion of the "Woman's Suffrage Question," to that of "Inter-Collegiate Athletics," but the Washingtonians refused to acquiesce to this and the suffrage question has been accepted by Oregon. Washington will probably choose the affirmative.

Six varsity women aspire to make the team and are hard at work. A tryout will be held in the near future; those who will participate are: Lucile Davis, Bess Cowden, Norma Dobie, Alice Cowgden, Elizabeth Busch, and Marjorie Cowen.

Last year this Co-ed contest was held in Eugene, when the local team won by a wide margin.
