EMERALD SPORTING EDITOR REVIEWS WEEK

Baseball and Basketball Notes Show
Season's Activity In Current

The baseball fans about the campus were treated to a surprise this week when Father Tom Kelly and his brother, King Kelly, blew into town to look over the baseball situation. The two old leaguers were out Monday and Tuesday nights looking over the Varsity squad and giving the candidates a few tips on inside baseball.

King Kelly is an old minor league star, having caught for a number of years in the middle West and on the Coast. He has been spending his afternoons in tutoring "Cap" Jamison's aspiring receivers.

Tom Kelly's keen eye saw a chance to improve the infield by switching Cady Roberts to short and putting Dutch Anunson on the difficult corner. Cady's speed enables him to cover a world of territory. Anunson breaks in fast on ground balls and has a good whip across to first.

The regulars and Yannigans have been having daily games since last Saturday. The regulars have been lining up with Jamison, Newland, Roberts and Anunson, infielders, Barber, Mount and Chandler, outfield, and Word and Cobb, catchers.

Capt. Jamison now has Peet, Welch, Grady, Fisher, Dorris, Moore, and Griffin turning out for a pitching job. With such an array of talent on hand, a couple of pitchers ought to be developed.

The regulars and Yannigans both are hitting the ball high, wide and handsome. It looks like a good bunch of stickers on the Varsity this year.

Carl Fenton turned out in a suit Monday to limber up. The big boy looks better than ever this year.

Capt. and Coach Olson, of Washington, picks Jamison and Staatz as forwards, Fenton, center, and Mattson, O. A. C., and Keeler, Washington, guards. The Washington captain is minus a grouch on the question of centers. He picks Fenton because he is Savage's equal on floor work and basket shooting and a better man in dribbling. Bohler, Stewart, and Sweetland, differ with Olson by picking Savage.

Sap Latourette and Erce Kay have deserted the cinders for the diamond. Both are working out for an infield berth.

From early season form it looks like Cady Roberts will have a better year than last. It looks as if he has things pretty much his own way around the difficult corner.

Mrs. Powell entertained several prominent faculty and town women at the Beth Reah House last Saturday. Tea was served after a pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Warner has spent several days with her son Harold and was one of the patronesses at the Beta dance.
