INDOOR MEET SHOWS LIVELY COMPETITION

Small Crowd Turns Out to See Varsity Athletes in Spirited Stunts and Events.

The indoor meet which was pulled off Wednesday night, although attended by only about twenty-five or thirty college people, was a big success from the spectator's point of view.

Most of the events paralleled closely the work that is being done on the outdoor track. In the obstacle race, however, fun in large bunches was dished out to the spectators, and the bantam-weight boxing match between Buford Jones and Woo Sun proved the headline attraction of the evening. The bout was declared a draw by Referee Eddie Graney Roberts.

In the matter of capturing points, Briedwell pulled out on top with two firsts in the 30 yards and 100 yards dashes, and with a tie for first in the broad jump. Benny Williams, premier pole vaulter of the Northwest, set a new indoor record at Oregon, when he topped the bar at 11 feet 2 inches.

Obstacle Race a Feature.

The obstacle race drew more entries than any other one event and was one of the best features of the evening.

The house was brought to its feet, however, when Billikin Hawkins became stuck in his barrel and was released only by the timely bursting of the hoops.

The schedule of events and contestants was as follows:

30 yards dash—Briedwell, first, Hawley, second.

100 yards dash—Briedwell, first, Morton, second.

300 yards dash—Oberteuffer, first, Peffley, second.

600 yards run—Boylen, first, Martzloff, second, Peffley, third.

High dive—Ford and Olson, tied.

High jump—Stuller and Hawkins, tied for first, Benson, third.

Pole vault—Williams, first, Watson, second.

Obstacle race—Neill.

Middleweight wrestling—King and Ingle, no decision.

Boxing, bantamweights—Woo Sun and Buford Jones, draw.

Leightweight—Miller and Young, draw.

Middleweight—Hardesty and Mc-Millen, draw.

Bob Kellogg annexed the shot put with a heave of 41 feet 8 inches.
