

VARSITY TENNIS MEN PICKED FOR PRACTICE

Season's Schedule Includes Matches With Multnomah and University of Washington.

With the coming of sunshiny weather the varsity tennis enthusiasts will grasp their trusty cudgels in defense of Oregon's honor on the white-lined court this season.

There will be frays a plenty for local exponents of the game, with meets already scheduled with Washington and Multnomah, beside the varsity tournaments. A meeting was held in the dormitory Monday evening to pick a varsity squad and arouse enthusiasm in this popular branch of college sport.

At this meeting the old varsity men, Newland, Stine, Gray, Prescott, and Bond, were placed on the squad without a try-out, and five other men chosen, from which two are to be picked to compose the varsity squad, to-wit: Shattuck, R. D. Moores, Lytle, Munly, and Yaden.

This quintet will engage in a round robin tournament, meaning that each of the five will play every other man. The two then having the highest percentage will be placed on the varsity squad, which will thus consist of seven men. From this number three or four will be chosen to represent Oregon in the coming tournaments.

The following is the schedule of outside matches for the season:

Saturday, May 11—M. A. A. C., in Eugene.

Saturday, May 18—Washington, in Seattle.

Saturday, May 25—M. A. A. C., in Portland.

WASHINGTON DEAN RENIGS ON WOMEN'S TENNIS MEET

The Co-ed tennis games between Oregon and Washington have been called off by the latter, on account of the action taken by their Dean of Women, Miss Austin. In her report to the Washington faculty forbidding the tournament, she says, in part, that "athletic contests are unlady-like and undignified, that they have become a mere show, and that the policy of the Northern institution is against them."

This action came as a surprise to the Oregon girls, as it was thought that satisfactory arrangements had been made to insure the games. It is reported that games may be arranged with Willamette and Pacific Universities.

BALL GAMES WITH O. A. C. POSTPONED TO MAY 15-16

Owing to a big week-end attraction at O. A. C. in shape of the annual military inspection, Manager Bert Pilkington, of the "Aggies," wanted the two baseball games scheduled for this week, to be played in Corvallis, as a big crowd is expected to be on hand for the annual inspection of the corps at that institution.

As the colleges will divide the receipts evenly, and considering the poor prospects for a crowd here, owing to the miserable weather, Manager Geary has consented and suggested Wednesday and Thursday of the week following Junior week-end.

U. of O. Man Prominent at Leipzig

Mr. Leroy Arthur, '10, one of the few Oregon students at the University of Leipzig, took part in a farce comedy presented by the American students at that institution, which was intended to give the German students an idea of the "minstrel" as played in the United States. Mr. Arthur was the only Oregonian in a cast that included thirty or forty Yankees. Professor Koehler, recently, at the request of the participating students, reviewed the play, which he pronounced an excellent one for German adaptation.

Miss Maude Kenworthy has been spending several weeks at the Beth Reah House.

The Gamma Phi Betas entertained Tuesday from 3 to 5 for Miss Brown, the traveling secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Volunteer Movement.

CHEMISTRY CLUB PROGRAM TO BE OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

A unique demonstration has been arranged for the next meeting of the Chemistry Club. Prof. Stafford will demonstrate the Thermite process of welding. This is a rather spectacular performance. In order that it may be better seen, the demonstration will be made at seven o'clock Monday evening, instead of in the afternoon, as has usually been the custom.

The Thermite process of welding is a new process, and one that is attracting great interest in the mechanical world. It is believed to be of immense practical value. Through it break-downs can be repaired on a steamship at sea, broken wheels on a locomotive or railroad can be repaired, instead of having to be thrown on the scrap heaps, etc.

The meeting of the club on last Monday dealt with the subject of cement. Herbert Van Duyne gave a talk on Coast Deposit of Cement and Other Materials. The details of the manufacture of cement were explained by Charles Fowler.

David Glass and Charles Oleson explained the methods of testing cement and gave a demonstration of the machines used in testing its potential strength.
