

M'CLURE IS CHOSEN

Oregon Runner Picked by Committee For Problematic Olympic Team.

Walter McClure, '13, was the unanimous choice of the Pacific Coast Selection Committee for a place on the Olympic team. He was one of the ten candidates named from the Coast and submitted to the National Selection Committee, headed by James E. Sullivan, president of the American Amateur Athletic Union.

This recommendation accorded McClure practically cinches for him a place on the American team, which sails June 18, for Stockholm.

Hawkins was the choice of but two of the Committee, Smithson and Kelly both being named over him. Although defeating Smithson, the latter's record bracking proclivities and wonderful form displayed, entitled him to a place. However, Goldsmith, of the Seattle Athletic Club, and T. Morris Dunn, of M. A. A. C., are determined to place Hawkins on the team, and at the same time object to the practice of holding a tryout and then not abiding by the decision.

DORMITORY DEFEATED BY SIGMA CHI 17-5

In one of the most spectacular of the season's games, the Sigma Chi team overcame the Dormitory by the score of 17-5, placing two games to the Sigs' credit and putting the Dorm out of the running for the 1912 season. Michael tossed for the Dormitory, but the opposing batters soon solved his delivery, and numerous errors rapidly raised the score. Bush Brown, who heaved for the Sigs, showed even less control over the actions of the horsehide than Michael, but better support in the field and on the bases proved the deciding factor in the outcome of the seven inning contest.

Batteries: For Sigma Chi, Brown and Watson; for Dormitory, Michael and Stastney.
Umpire: Cobb.

WASHINGTON PROF'S STORIES SHOCK FEMININE EARS

During the recent freshman cap-burning exercises, held in connection with the Annual Moving-Up ceremonies at the University of Washington, Assistant Professor Herbsman delivered the funeral oration.

It happens that Herbsman is much in demand as a speaker, having a fund of stories and humor, and in the absence of any ladies at the ceremony which was held at night on the A-Y-P wharf, the professor began telling stories, each one less decorous than the preceding one, if we are to believe the reports.

As a result, the Tole Club, composed of influential women of the institution, condemned his conduct in no uncertain terms. Since any action of this kind by that organization usually gives rise to a faculty investigation, the outcome of the affair is uncertain.

Mr. Frank Dudley is in Portland for the week end.

HOW ABOUT IT BILL?

Infected Sophomore, Suffering From Hungarian Itch, Vents Spleen on Gym Showers.

What's the reason, pray tell, for all that stuff we learn in Prof. Sweetser's "Swat the Fly" course, about personal hygiene and general all-around sanitation? The University has installed numerous baths toward the promotion of that second best bet to godliness as a personal attribute, wherefore we are duly grateful. But let one just casually wander into that very shower room in the men's gymnasium and he will forthwith determine that regarding odoriferous qualifications a slaughterhouse hasn't got anything on that particular chamber. As far as we are able to ascertain, no effort has been made to keep the place in a healthy condition. In frequent visits at various hours of the clock we have seen no sign of a recent or even an ancient scrubbing on the floors. We opine that a cake of Ivory, an old-fashioned scrubbin' brush, and a cordial application of energy over a couple of hours' time, would rob many a naughty germ of his domestic happiness and result in a solubrious improvement. At present that shower room is a menace to our health and a disgrace to the University.

Every visiting athletic team uses the shower baths in the men's gymnasium. (Dramatic finale.)

SINGLE TAX SYSTEM ELABORATED BY SPEAKERS

he asserted that Oregon until a few years ago had not built a good road.

"The State Supreme Court," he continued, "has taken a consistent attitude in opposition to the good roads interests."

Taking up the discussion, C. E. Spence, president of the State Grange, declared the farmers want good roads and realize, too, the difficulty in securing satisfactory legislation.

Hon. J. H. Albert, of Salem, opened his discussion, by taking exception to some of Mr. Putnam's figures as to the cost of transportation. "If every farmer could be reached by a railroad, the question of transportation would be settled."

The next paper read was that of W. K. Newell, of Gaston, president of the Oregon State Board of Horticulture, on "Improvement of the Economic Organization in Oregon for Securing to the Producers a Full Share of the Values Created."

Producers Co-Operation Next. Mr. Newell and Mr. K. S. Miller, of the Medford Fruit Grower's Association, spoke of different ways to secure to the farmer his full share of values created through means of co-operative associations. That this form of marketing is the only one, and that its future was only a matter of development, was the opinion of those who discussed the question.

The evening session of the convention was opened by a talk by Hon. F. E. Beach of Portland, on "The Problem of Transforming Oregon from a Merely Geographic to an Organic and Spiritual Entity." The great problems of the State should be discussed and solved in "Our State University," the noblest of all schools.

University Held Important. Dr. J. R. Wilson, principal of the Portland Academy, speaking on the same subject, emphasized the fact that the University should be and he believed the University of Oregon was the clearing house for free and all-sided discussion of all the great problems of this State.

Conference Well Advertised. New features of the Conference this year are the digest of all papers and discussions sent out to the newspapers of the state. All papers and discussions will be published verbatim in a special number of the University Bulletin.
