SPORTING SQUIBS

Abel Kiviati, the Irish American Athletic Club runner, who defeated Melvin Shepard last Saturday in a 1500-meter race, in the world's record time of 3:59 1-5, or four seconds faster than McClure's recent time, began his athletic career in the public schools of New York.

In the third lap of the relay race at Seattle last Saturday, Courtney overcame a handicap of fifteen yards in his race with Boylen, but the latter, when reaching the last straightaway, nearly overhauled the Washington man, who beat Boylen but two feet.

Pete Gerhardt, the Olympic Club's standby in short dashes, who ran second to Courtney in the Olympic tryouts, is 37 years old, and has two children.

By clever jockeying and team work, Oregon's trio in the two mile event at Seattle, ran McClelland, the U. of W. two miler off his feet, and finished as they pleased.

During the O. A. C. senior picnic at Newport, Dr. Stewart, athletic instructor of the Aggies, held a track meet on the beach.

Windnagle again ran a half mile in less than two minutes during the inter-scholastic meet in Portland recently. His record of 1:56 4-5 is not a world's record for prep schools, a former student at Mercerburgs Academy having a record of 1:55 for the distance.

Again a negro comes to the front in the quarter mile. An Olympic Club representative having won the race in the recent Olympic tryouts. Taylor, a former negro student at the University of Pennsylvania, holds the inter-collegiate record.

The pole vaulting record is being vigorously assailed in the East by Babcock, of Columbia, and Wright, of Dartmouth. Both are vaulting around the 12 feet 7 inches mark. However, Bellah's recent vault of 12 feet 9 7-8 inches, is the top notch so far this year.

Neill is now ten feet eight inches from the world's javelin record, held by Hunning of Sweden. His toss at Seattle put him within a foot and a half of Snedigar's American record, but as that was made on the Coast, Neill gets credit for only a Northwest record.

Eutaxians Elect.

The Eutaxian Literary Society elected its officers for next year at its meeting Tuesday evening. Lucille Davis was unanimously elected president, Hilda Brant, treasurer, Lyle Steiwer, editor, Nell Hemenway, critic, Margaret Rankin, sergeant-at-arms, and Janet Young received the majority of votes for the office of secretary.

Miss Eleanor McLaine was elected vice president.

The Sigma Nus had as their week end guest Mr. Hopkins, of Gamma Nu chapter.

Arthur Geary has been in Portland. Miss Lila Sengstake returned Tuesday from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenton, who have been visiting their son Boyce at the Beta house, returned to their home in McMinnville.
