MAY SUTTON GIVES ADVICE ON TENNIS PLAYING

In a recent number of American Lawn Tennis there appeared an article entitled "Woman's Play and How to Improve It," by May Sutton of Los Angeles, the former woman champion of the United States and England.

Miss Sutton says in part:
 "If you really enjoy playing you should with constant practice improve your game and eventually become a good player. In practice games always try to win, of course, but above all thing essay new strokes, with the fixed idea of perfecting them. For example, if your back hand is weak, never get out of position in order to make a stroke with your fore arm, when the proper return is one with your back hand. By doing so you get out of position and you are thus at the mercy of your opponent, especially if the next return is a speedy one."

"A girl just learning to play should practice with some one not much better than herself. If her opponent is much better her superiority will cause discouragement and the new player will come to think that she does not know anything about the game. Some self-confidence is needed if one is to make real progress."

PIT WARRIORS FIGHT SANGUINARY BATTLE

On Decoration Day, about ten o'clock in the morning, the Avavas staged one of the most successful interfraternity canine encounters that has been pulled off at Oregon for some time. The principals were Mick, Sigma Nu, who by way turned out to be the better warrior, and Prokos, Beta Theta Pi.

The combat was started by the Sigma Nu hope, who assumed the aggressive by seizing Prok by a foreleg, snaking him off the Avava veranda.

From this time on, both dogs mixed it, with Mick showing up better in aggressiveness and infighting. The rock-chewing propensities of the latter animal, however, made it impossible for him to secure any permanent holds, and honors were even as to actual damage inflicted. A decision on this score was impossible, and Referee Van Marter gave the fight to the Sigma Nu representative on points.

Jesse Bond Writes Thesis.

Jesse H. Bond, '09, who has taught in the Condon school during the past year, is writing a thesis on "The Genesis of Jesus' Doctrine of Fatherhood," for his master's degree under Prof. Young. The article has been highly complimented by Schmidt, of Cornell, and Giddings, of Columbia University.

While in college, Jesse Bond distinguished himself in both debate and oratory—winning the interstate oratorical contest in 1908, second place in the state oratorical contest in 1909 and acting as leader on interstate debating teams for two years. He was always known as a man who followed tenaciously his carefully thought out moral principles and because of this trait, at times, stirred up strenuous opposition among those who disagreed with him, however, no one doubted that he was a man who had the courage of his convictions.

CURRENT EVENTS ABSORB EUTAXIAN INTERESTS

The Eutaxian Literary Society will give a program next Tuesday evening on current topics.

1. Teddy and the Trusts, Flora Dunham.

2. The Lawrence Strike—Its Lesson, Lucile McQuinn.

3. Current Events Abroad, Mildred Healy.

4. Impromptu Debate: Resolved, That women should be given the right to vote.

Immediately following the program will be the installation of officers.

The Washington State College defeated the University of Idaho by a score of 82 to 58 and won the undisputed championship of Washington and Idaho, May 25th, in a meet pulled off in a driving rain, in which no records were made nor old records equaled.
