

HAYWARD'S TRACK TEAM LANDS CHAMPIONSHIP OF NORTHWEST

OREGON TRACK MEN CHOSEN TO COMPETE IN OLYMPIC MEET

HAWKINS AND McCLURE ARE PLACED ON THE TEAM BY EASTERN JUDGES

MANY COAST ATHLETES WILL MAKE TRIP

Hayward Will Accompany Western Men—Team Will Sail on 15th of June.

Word was received last night from New York that Martin W. Hawkins and Walter M. McClure, of Oregon, have been selected by the National Selection Committee of the A. A. U., as members of the American track team to compete in the world-wide Olympic games in Stockholm, Sweden, in July.

Announcement Was Expected.
This announcement has been expected by Hayward for several days, especially as regards McClure, while the selection of Hawkins has been regarded as a certainty, despite his failure to receive the coast recommendation, since Forrest Smithson has been discredited by the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Other coast athletes who were selected are Sam. Bellah, of the Multnomah Club, pole vaulter; Edmunson, of the Seattle Athletic Club, in the middle distances; Ira Courtney, of the Seattle Athletic Club, in the sprints; Beeson and Kelly, of California, in the hurdles and high jump; Gerhardt, Ralph Rose, Allen, and Donahue, the all around athlete, all of the Olympic Club.

Oregon Represented Before.
At the last Olympic games, held in London, in 1908, the State of Oregon was represented by Smithson, Gilbert, and Kelly. The former two making creditable records in the hurdles and pole vault, respectively.

This year, the varsity makes an even greater showing by having two men on the team, who are the product of Oregon's veteran trainer, Bill Hayward, who developed from raw material two athletes capable of representing the United States in the classic athletic contest.

Hayward Accompanies Team.
It is practically certain that Hayward will accompany the western athletes as their special coach and trainer, his expenses being guaranteed by the athletic clubs on the coast, who are represented.

Both of Oregon's athletes have received official notification of their selection from Secretary Sullivan of the American Amateur Athletic Union, and were instructed to report in New York city to the manager of the Olympic team, not later than June 11th. The team will sail for Sweden on the fifteenth.

Miss Wilma Young is back from Astoria.

The Phi Deltas have returned from Portland.

Miss Jenny Fry returned Monday from Salem.

Tom Word will spend next week-end in Salem.

Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Burness left Sunday for Portland.

DR. SHAFER'S ARTICLE TO APPEAR IN PRINT SHORTLY

The paper that was read by Dr. Shafer on, "Who Should go to College, and Why," in assembly last December, will be published soon in the Review of Reviews.

Dr. Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews, considers it a fine article, and says it is an illustration of the progressive movement in the educational world.

John Black spent last week-end in Drain.

JOURNALISTS EAT EATS

Annual Spread of Emerald Staff Attended by Thirty-three Students.

The members of the Emerald staff met in the Osburn banquet room last night for the annual staff banquet.

In all thirty-three students were present, showing the staff to be the largest in the history of the University.

Editor Powell acted as toastmaster and during the course of the dinner called upon the following for speeches: Manager Wendell Barbour, "How I have made the Emerald pay"; Managing Editor Fen Waite, "How to slash copy"; City Editor Henry Fowler, "How to write a dog story"; New Editor Harold Young, "How to keep a printer smiling"; Leland Hendricks, "How I write stories from nothing"; Bill Cass, "Why is a sage of Podunk"; Anne McMicken, "Co-ed Journalists"; Flora Dunham, "The Oregon Monthly"; George Stanton, "Emerald's rank among western college papers"; Elizabeth Busch, "How I like being a cub," and Allyn Roberts, "Trials of a manager."

After the dinner, which by the way was some feed, as all present agreed, Mr. Tuttle took flashlight pictures of the group to be placed in next year's Oregonian.

Those present were Burns Powell, Fen Waite, Harold Young, Henry Fowler, Colton Meek, Leland Hendricks, George Shantin, William Cass, Howard Zimmerman, Anna McMicken, Elizabeth Busch, William McAllen, Flora Dunham, Bess Cowden, Lila Sengstake, Jessup Strang, Carlyle Geisler, Lutan Ackerson, Otto J. Catherine Carson is back, and will remain until after Commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheehy were down to visit their daughter, Edith, last week-end.

"Brick" Michael and Ed Geary returned Sunday evening from Portland.

Harry Lytle, ex-'15, has been visiting the Kappa Sigmas for a few days.

Miss Mason, who has been a guest at the Gamma Phi house, left Sunday for her home in Portland.

Mr. McMinn, a Sigma Chi from Berkeley, who taught in the summer school here last year, is stopping for a few days at the Sigma Chi house, enroute east.

TWO OREGON SCHOOLS TO INITIATE MILLAGE TAX BILL NEXT FALL

U. OF O. PRESIDENT EXPLAINS NATURE OF PROPOSED MEASURE

LEVY OF .6 OF A MILL CONTEMPLATED

Four-sevenths of Total to Go to O. A. C., Suggested by Author of Bill.

The assembly hour this morning was taken up with an address from President Campbell upon the latest developments in the question of the University of Oregon appropriation. The proposed initiative bill, framed by Judge Bean and Dr. Witherford, which is to be placed upon the ballot for the fall elections, in the event of securing the necessary 9,000 signatures, was read by President Campbell, and explained fully in its every detail.

Both Schools to Share Tax.

The bill proposes to place the maintenance of the University and Agricultural College on a millage tax basis, both schools under a single and active board of regents of six members, appointed by the governor. The bill calls for a tax on the property of the state of Oregon, valued at approximately $900,000,000, of .6 of a mill, amounting to $540,000, of which four-sevenths will go to the Agricultural College and three-sevenths to the University. The amounts according to the above computation will entitle the Corvallis institution to $308,571.43, and the University to $231,428.57 annually. This sum of money is to constitute the entire sum for the operation and maintenance of the two institutions, permitting additional buildings only when the regular expenses are kept down to a figure which will permit a balance of suitable proportion for such an outlay. The plan decided upon to assure a building fund, as the needs of the two schools demand, is to save as much of the money raised each year as possible, which sum, added to the annual appropriation, is expected to meet the additional needs of the University and College.

Petitions to be Started at Once.

Another important matter which is to be taken up under the new governing arrangement, is that of prescribing what courses will fall to each institution, and to avoid as far as possible any duplication of studies.

The campaign of obtaining the necessary signatures to place the new bill upon the ballot, is to be taken up and handled by a committee composed of W. K. Newell, of Gaston, Oregon, chairman, Woodson T. Slater, of Salem, and three other men, whose names were not given by President Campbell. Approximately twenty petition forms will be circulated by students, alumni, and friends of the University, within the next four weeks, in the effort to obtain the required number of signatures before July 5th, which is the latest date for filing an initiative petition. Between nine and ten thousand names are required, but a safe margin of

NOTICE

Tryouts for the Women's Tennis Club will be held the remainder of this week. Each contestant must play off her matches by Friday, or forfeit her place. Girls should arrange with Miss Perkins, or Mildred Bagley, for dates as soon as possible. It is desired that the girls who intend to try out for the Tennis Club, do not sign up for the Beginner's Tournament until after the results of the tryouts have been announced.

UNIVERSITY IS EXTOLLED

Its Handicap Would be a Detriment to the State—Prof. Dunn Speaks for University.

Last Monday evening representatives of the Eugene and Springfield Commercial Clubs gathered in the Hotel Osburn banquet room in honor of Joseph H. Young, president of the Oregon Electric Railway and his business associates.

During the course of the evening speeches were given by representatives of the commercial bodies and city officials, as well as President Young and Judge Carey, chief counsel for the Hill lines in Oregon.

In the course of his address, Judge Carey, himself a college man, spoke of the University case as follows:

"This occasion affords me opportunity to express the hope that the people of Oregon will not permit any interference with the usefulness of the University. No better investment of the public funds could be made, as every student that graduates, helps raise the general level of culture in the state. I think the attempt to curtail by laws either the University or the O. A. C., is a grave mistake."

In the absence of President Campbell, Prof. F. S. Dunn spoke on behalf of the University. He said in part, "There is good reason for the University to welcome you men. We have not forgotten your predecessor, Henry Villard, nor will we ever forget his friendship. You men represent the commercial side of the state's development, while the University represents the cultural side. They should always go hand in hand, and I believe they will."

During the banquet messages were received from prominent men over the state, sending their best wishes to Eugene and the University.

Setting a new precedent the faculty of the University of Washington recently entertained several members of the faculty, who are planning on leaving the institution next year. Among those who will take up other positions are Edward O. Sisson, professor of education, who goes to Reed College, Portland; James E. Gould, associate professor of mathematics, who goes to the University of California; Francis J. Miller, dean of the forestry school, who retires to become president of the Washington Fruit Company; Paul Weithousse, instructor in German, who goes to the University of California; Horace H. Lester, instructor in physics, who goes to Princeton; and David Nyvall, professor of Scandinavian languages, who becomes president of North Park College, Chicago.

TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP EASILY CAPTURED BY TEAM OF SEVEN MEN

BILL'S SPIKE SHOD ATHLETES TAKE CONFERENCE MEET WITH SCORE OF 57.

HAWKINS LEADS AS POINT WINNER

Larger Score Might Have Been Made But for Small Number of Entries Is Opinion.

Winning ten out of fifteen first places, and more than doubling the score of her nearest rival, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon track team established its unqualified and unchallenged claim as the Pacific Northwest track champions for 1912, thus repeating her victory of last year.

The scores made in the meet were as follows: University of Oregon, 57; University of Washington, 23; Whitman College, 21; Oregon Agricultural College, 18; Washington State College, 11; University of Idaho, 5. Thus it will be seen that Oregon's seven athletes, in addition to distancing their nearest opponents better than two to one, with Washington out of it, scored more points than the other four teams combined.

Had the teams not been limited to seven men, the chances of the lemon yellow would have been so much the brighter, for Johns, McGuire, Boylen, and Stuller, would undoubtedly have been able to pick up points in the meet. By a division of Oregon's score by the number of her representatives, it is found that the average for each athlete is eight points. As a matter of fact, no Oregon man who was entered scored less than five points. Hawkins led with 15, McClure secured 11, Captain Kellogg 10, Latourette 6, Huggins 5, Neill 5, Williams 5. Another significant fact is that Oregon secured first place in every event in which she entered.

Hawkins ran both the high and low hurdles in fast time, breasting the tape in 15 2-5 and 25 3-5 seconds, respectively, and thereby forcing the Olympic games committee to reconsider his name for the American team, with the result that his appointment has been announced. McClure, Oregon's other Olympic candidate, again demonstrated his versatility by winning the two-mile run in 10 minutes 9 3-5 seconds, and the half in two minutes flat. In the mile he lay back in third place, while Huggins took the race from Williams of O. A. C. in 4:43 3-5.

Bob Kellogg captured the hammer throw and shot put, but failed to place in the discus. Neill and Williams annexed their specialties, as was expected. Sap Latourette came through with his two seconds to Hawkins in the hurdles.

Among the noteworthy records made by alien athletes was the jump of Bowman, of Washington, when he tied the Northwest record of 6 feet 1-4 inch, Baker's time in the finals of the hundred of 10 seconds flat, and the performance of Bloomquist, of Whitman, when he led Walters, the O. A. C. quartermiler, to the tape in 50 3-5 seconds.
