Y. M. STAG ENJOYABLE

Diversions Vary From Speeches to Rooster Fights—Cider Cools Hot Hand Victims.

The annual "Stag Mix" was held in the Men's Dormitory last night under the auspices of the college Y. M. C. A., the program given consisting of hot hand, pillow and rooster fights, and speeches from President Campbell and from representatives of the different college activities.

Supplementing President Campbell's address of welcome, Carlton Spencer, president of the Student Body, spoke on student relations, Coach Pinkham talked on football spirit, while Manager Geary seized on the occasion to boost the season ticket plan. Other speeches given were as follows: Carl Onthank, of the Emerald, college publications; Peter Crockett, debate and oratory; Dean Walker, captain of the varsity eleven, football; Burleigh Cash and Vernon Motschenbacher, the Y. M. C. A.

Following the addresses, the annual cock fight was pulled off, Elmer Spencer, '16, being finally announced as winner.

Refreshments, consisting of cider and doughnuts, were served.

SHATTUCK IS BURIED

At the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. Franklin A. Short, of Portland, the funeral of John Wesley Shattuck, Jr., was held Friday afternoon. The Rev. Henry Marcotte, of Westminster Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment was made in the Mount Scott cemetery.

Floral tributes were received from many of Shattuck's associates at the University of Oregon, the institution from which he was graduated last spring. There of the active chapter of Phi Gamma Delta at the University, Ralph Cake, Carl Grayson, and Alva Grout, together with three alumni members of the same chapter, acted as pallbearers.

Old Books in Demand at Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. book exchange has been doing a rushing business this year, and already a clamor is being made for texts now sold out. Those most needed at present are: Nullman's "Speaking Voice"; Angell's Psychology, Newell's Chemistry, Beard's "American Government and Readings," Munroe's "History of Education," Frazer & Squair's French grammar.

The book exchange will handle any of these texts that may be turned in.

WILLAMETTE GAME MAY PROVE HARD STRUGGLE

TWO SCHOOLS DID NOT CLASH LAST YEAR.

Coach Approves of Gridiron Turnout, But Deplores Lack of Football Knowledge Shown.

With the Willamette game but a few weeks off, the football squad under Coach Pinkham is rapidly being rounded into shape for the initial game of the season. It is always with a grievance in their hearts that the capitol city lads face Oregon's athletic teams and the game between these two schools is assured to be one of the fiercest setoffs of the season.

Although the two elevens did not meet last season, in previous years Oregon has proved herself to be the victor only after hard fought battles but with the material that Coach Sweetland has on hand this year, it is evident that if Oregon wins, it will be by a small score. Most of last year's men have returned to Willamette this season. Among them such men as Bill Wesley, McRae, Francis, and Blackstone, are present, and a well balanced team is expected.

Game Will Pick State Champions.

As it now is almost a certainty that Oregon and O. A. C. will not clash this year and also that Willamette and the "Aggies" will not again be gridiron enemies, the game is practically for the state championship.

As far as Oregon is concerned, there is a great deal of coaching yet to be done with the backfield, for the material is rather green, and according to most of the coaches, the game this year depends greatly upon the backs. Captain Dean Walker is the only "old head" back of the line and much is expected of him in giving the new men self assurance. Sam Cook, the Coeur d'Alene star, shows up well in practice, but apparently needs a great deal of seasoning. "Ans" Cornell is coming out well and is running the team in splendid style. Bill Huesner, the plucky half of last year's team, is doing good work, and looks like a sure thing for the backfield position again this year. Several men are being tried out at fullback, and that position seems as much in doubt as the others, though Joe Jones of last year's team, shows promise. Prospects were further brightened Friday, when Bob Bradshaw, star end of last year's team, made his 1912 debut in the moleskins. With most of the line of last year back, it is hoped that the fierce onslaughts of Willamette can be met.

Pinkham Slightly Pessimistic.

An Emerald reporter interviewed Head Coach Pinkham, and judging from his expert testimony, Oregon's chances for the northwest title are at best mediocre. In speaking of the present outlook, Head Coach Louis Pinkham said: "I am satisfied with the wealth of new material turning out each night, but refuse to make a forecast of the chances of a winning team. Of course, there are several gaps in the team that it is almost an impossibility to fill, such as the loss of Captain Bill Main, Kellogg, Kaiser, Chandler, and Sap Latourette. Although many of the new men have the weight and the prep school experience, they display a woeful ignorance of the essentials of college football."

Ross Barred From College.

Following the faculty investigation of the standing of Freshman athletes entering the University, Floyd C. Ross, one time quarterback at Wenatchee High, has been refused entrance on the ground of insufficient matriculation credits, and is now attending classes at the Eugene High School. Since his arrival in Eugene, Ross had turned out regularly for football practice and was generally looked to as a likely man to fill Sap Latourette's shoes.
