O. A. C. FIVE YEAR CONTRACT FINDS NO FAVOR IN VARSITY

ALL ARE OPPOSED TO LONG STRING ATTACHED TO THE OFFER

GEARY WANTS A THREE YEAR LIMIT

Umired that Aggies Have Another Proposal for Alternate Choice of Place for Game

There is no possible chance for the ratification of the proposed Oregon Agriculture College contract, which was embodied in a set of resolutions passed by the Student Body at Corvallis last Thursday morning. The offer to play the game this fall in Eugene, and the remaining four games called for in the contract in Portland, will never be accepted by the University faculty, said Registrar Tiffany. The students are opposed to it, as was shown by an investigation among the various fraternity houses and Dormitory this morning. The athletic council does not favor it, according to Professor H. B. Leonard, and Manager Geary will not consent to the contract as proposed, as is shown by the following telegram received from him this morning.

Geary Would Insert Clause. Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 18, The Oregon Emerald:

Although it was unquestionably Oregon's turn to choose the location of the game this fall, under the circumstances the O. A. C. students should be commended for agreeing to play in Eugene. Their proposal to play the four annual succeeding games in Portland, meets with my hearty approval, providing that a clause be placed in the contract, making it possible for either college to secure a change of location at the end of each two year period. This is absolutely necessary, as no one can predict what effect changed conditions will have upon the playing of the games.

ARTHUR A. GEARY. Contract Is Opposed.

Among the reasons given on the campus for the disapproval of the offer, are that a four year contract is unnecessarily tying up the future generations with a contract that incurs a $1,000 forfeiture for its non-fulfillment. The monetary division is not favored by the University authorities, neither is the prospect of playing all the O. A. C. games for four years hence in Portland.

O. A. C. Has Another Offer.

Immediately upon the heels of the first O. A. C. proposition comes the announcement that the Aggie athletic directors have another plan that they will present to the University, should the first be rejected, as it seems that it will be. This proposal was mentioned in this morning's Oregonian by Roscoe Fawcett, and was confirmed by Registrar Tiffany. The plan, which concedes to the University what it has been demanding, provides for the first game to be played in Eugene this fall, with the remaining games played in whatever city the colleges may choose when their turn comes to decide upon the location of the game. This latest proposal is said to include the proposition that each team will take the entire proceeds from the game whenever the location of the game is determined by that institution. This means that each game will be alternated as the colleges desire. Each management can schedule its game in Portland, if it so desires, and thereby

DR. DYOTT ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A. ON CHARACTER

"Thoughts determine deeds, deeds determine habits, habits determine character, and character," said Dr. Dyott, of the First Congregational Church of Portland, in his address before the University Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. "Thus we work out our own destiny and whatever judgment we may expect in eternity, we start on earth."

"Education does not consist so much in the text book material which the student acquires, as the opportunity it gives for finding himself, and no university course is worth much to man, if it does not give him the power to decide right from wrong in a clear, comprehensive way."

Dr. Dyott emphasized the fact that no man has a right to place too low an estimate on himself. "The world always judges us," he said, "by our own estimate, and if that estimate is low, we will never gain the respect that we should have."

A male quartette number concluded the meeting.

SYSTEM AFFECTS ALL

Posting Regulations Now Embrace Every Student Body Activity.

The posting system now in use in the University has been extended to every branch of Student Body activity. It includes all forms of athletics, Glee Club, Debate, and the Emerald staff, from the editor to the cub reporter.

When a student becomes deficient in his college work, a report, recommending his suspension from college organizations, is sent to the office by the instructor. This recommendation automatically removes the delinquent one until the deficiency is made up. If he is a fraternity or club member, the head of the house is informed, so that pressure may be executed and the condition removed as quickly as possible.

The posting system has been extended to include the Emerald staff, because the college paper is purely a Student Body enterprise of secondary importance to class work. It is intended to prevent members of the staff giving their time exclusively to Emerald work.

The first issue of posts was sent out Friday morning by the office. The crop of posts was not extra large, but it is supposed that everyone is satisfied.

Miss Catherine Bridges, '16, has gone home for the week-end.

SKITS ARE SECURED

Director Bowman, of the Glee Club, has given up hope for a skit from Dean Collins and Burns Powell, and has instead commenced practice on several sketches of his own.

One of these is a farce, which will occupy part of the time of the quartette, composed of Stannard, Jerard, Fortmiller and Grady. This will be a musical extravaganza indulged in by the singers.

Earl Fortmiller will appear in a specially prepared bit of comedy, while Jerry Martin is concocting a monologue as his own special vehicle. Burnt cork will be one of the accessories of this act.

Ten more Eastern songs have been imported by the director. These are both of a heavy and light nature, and have not been used in any glee club before. Two of them will be used on the program.

14 TO 0 SCORE DARKENS OREGON'S CHANCES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

SPEEDY WHITMAN BACKS MAKE BIG GAIN THROUGH OREGON LINE

NILES IS EASILY STAR OF GAME

Niles Is Easily Star of Game—Few Details Given Up to Time of Going to Press

With a fourteen to nothing score at the end of the first half, and Archie Hahn's All-Northwest fullback, Niles still in the game, the omens point darkly toward an early season defeat for the lemon yellow eleven.

Few details concerning the game have been received up to the time of going to press, except that Niles is responsible for the first seven tallies chalked up against the Varsity, and that Briedwell, playing half for Oregon, missed a punt in the first quarter. Cook is reported as playing a strong defensive game.

M. A. A. C. 9, O. A. C. 0

Multnomah Athletic Club defeated O. A. C. this afternoon by the score of 9 to 0, thereby putting a crimp in the early season aspirations of that eleven.

The heavy club line was too much for the Aggie lack of beef. Multnomah clearly outplayed the Corvallis aggregation. A larger score being prevented only by aggressive work.

O. A. C. held Multnomah on their three-yard line in the third quarter, but could not prevent Wolf's free kick in the same session, nor his plunging in the last quarter that netted the Club men a touchdown.

EUGENE PILES SCORE

Eugene High walloped Cottage Grove High School this afternoon on Kincaid Field by the score of 100 to 0. The game was played on a muddy field, before a scattering crowd of local prep enthusiasts.

The Eugene team scored at will, running the ends and bucking the line for gains averaging fifteen yards. Bibee, playing end, executed several forward passes, most of which resulted in touchdowns. Ross, playing right half for Eugene, scored repeatedly on straight football.

The team from Cottage Grove never threatened the local goal.

Washington Delays Selection of Debate Question.

Coach Prescott announces that up to the present time, he has heard nothing from Washington University regarding the selection of the debating question, and hence all try outs are held up, awaiting their reply.

Manager Geary has written to Washington University, requesting an immediate reply, and hopes, by the first of next week to call for volunteers for the try outs.

Stanford University has decided to select a new name for their college daily. The Daily Palo Alto does not suit the students, and they are receiving suggestions from all parts of the state. The selection will be made next week.

PORTLAND THEATER MEN WILL AID DRAMATIC CLUB

Alfred Skei returned recently from a trip to Portland, where he has been endeavoring to obtain some original ideas which can be worked out by the Dramatic Club this fall.

He reports that the theatre men seemed much interested in the work that the Dramatic Club is taking up and all were ready to help.

Among the men that Skei visited were Mr. Baker and Mr. Seaman, of the Baker theatre. Mr. Seaman was particularly interested and gave Skei a line on several good casts, and said, that if at any time the club needed scenery painters or make up men, that he could put the Baker men at their service.

Miss Peggy Driver, '16, will spend the next few days in Tacoma; Miss Virginia Peterson, '16, has gone to Astoria for the week-end; Miss Eleanor McClain, '14, has gone home for a short visit, and Miss Mildred Healy, '15, will visit in Albany over the week-end.

DEBATERS SHARE COST

In New Regulations, High School League Equalizes Expenses of Trips.

The list of all officers for the coming year, articles governing membership, questions for debate for the five school districts, and a revision of the constitution and by-laws of the Oregon High School Debating League, are included in the Oregon High School Debate Bulletin that went to press this morning.

Formerly the high schools of Eastern and Southern Oregon have found it difficult to remain in the debating league, owing to the heavy expense incurred. The old constitution required the home team to pay all the expenses of the visiting teams. This proposition fell heavily on some teams and gave no incentive to debate. This inequality has been done away with by the revision of the constitution and now in all tri-angular and dual debates, where each school is represented by affirmative and negative, the expense is pooled. In all contests, where each school is represented by a single team, the competing school must come to an agreement on the division of expenses, before the debate is held. In failure to agree, the matter is left to the District Directors for arbitration.

A canvass is to be made of all the school boards of the state, in the hopes of getting them to support debates.

CLUB HOLDS SOCIAL

One hundred and fifty members of the Oregon Club of the University enjoyed their first reception of the year last evening in Villard Hall. A committee, composed of Russell Calkins, president of the club, Grace Hartley, Minnie Holeman, and Raymond Warner, were in general charge of the entertainment.

A short program, consisting of a vocal solo by Raymond Williams, and an instrumental solo by Ralph Young, opened the social. Ice cream and wafers were served by the girls of the organization. The decorations were of autumn leaves and colored streamers, draped from the center of the hall.

The line of patronesses included Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Miss Ruth Guppy, and Miss Perkins.

This is the first of a series of socials that have been planned by the Oregon Club.

DUDLEY M' COSH WILL DIRECT DESTINIES OF VARSITY BOOLA BAND

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN UNDER EXPERT LEADERSHIP

ORGANIZATION MAY BE MADE PERMANENT

List of Members Numbers Seventeen—Competition In Future Will be Basis.

Dudley Huntington McCosh, leader of the Eugene Military Band, has been secured by the University organization as director for the rest of the year. Mr. McCosh met with the band yesterday afternoon for the first practice, which was attended by a dozen of the Varsity tooters.

The new director expressed himself as pleased with the prospects, for besides the nucleus present, there are several prospective men for the organization.

An endeavor is being made by Bert Jerard and Mr. McCosh to put the band on a more permanent basis than before. This will be done by making the positions competitive after the Washington State College game. Try-outs will be held similar to those conducted by the Glee Club. To put the band on a firmer foundation, the membership will also be limited to fifteen or eighteen players. This move, it is hoped, will make the positions more sought after by the students, and tend to put the organization on a par with the other University activities.

After the football season is completed the band will not disband, as hitherto, but will continue to practice throughout the year. The practice evenings have been decided upon as Tuesday and Thursday, at 7 o'clock, in Villard Hall.

Should the musicians perfect their playing to an extent that would warrant their public appearance, as is hoped by the director, outside engagements will be filled. In the case of University affairs, their service will be rendered gratis.

There has been no agreement made with the newly secured director as to his compensation, the only stipulation being that he shall receive whatever the band can get from the rooster's fund.

The instrumentation of the band is as follows: Cornets, Rolla Ralston, Morris Hyde, Albert Johnson, Clyde Hampton, Fred Dunbar. Clarinets, Vernon Motschenbacher, Harold Grady, William Boone. Horns, Earl Fortmiller, John Watson. Baritone, Harry Moore. Trombones, Bert Jerard, Floyd South. Bass, Frank Lewis. Flute, Clyde Aitcheson. Tenor drum and symphony, Bertie Ruth. Bass drum, Ira Staggs.

OREGON INFANT CLASS PLANS BIG BONFIRE

The Freshman class will entertain with fireworks on the evening of October 25. The function, though somewhat informal, has been elaborately planned, and practically all the invited guests—who include the faculty—have signified their intention of being present.

The occasion for the party is the struggle on the following day between the proteges of Coaches Johnny Bender and Lou Pinkham.

Music will be furnished by the Oregon rooster's band.

Mrs. F. W. Benson and Mrs. W. Kuykendall were dinner guests at the Delta Delta Delta house, Thursday evening.
