

STUDENTS BACK PAPER

Washington Daily Suspension Is Upheld—Situation Causes Much Discussion.

Student opinion has been running high at the University of Washington the last few days as the result of the action taken by President Kane in preventing the publication of the Washington Daily.

But not only among the students has the acceptance of the chimes been discussed, but down town organizations have taken up the matter. The Commercial Club, the Presbyterian Brotherhood, and Socialist Club have discussed the action. The Municipal League was reported Wednesday forenoon to have adopted resolutions against the acceptance of the chimes.

The Board of Control of the University recently passed resolutions approving the stand of the editor of the Daily in regard to printing all communications.

The Daily resumed publication again last Wednesday, but refrained from editorializing and printing communications, leaving those two columns of the paper blank.

The Daily had the following to say in regard to the recent trouble:

For two days there has been no Daily. A misunderstanding of the status of the student publication has caused a deadlock which was only broken today on the advice of the board of control. The deadlock resulted from these facts:

A communication was brought The Daily Monday, which recited in more or less detail the record of Colonel Blethen, donor of the chimes. This the editor of The Daily planned to print, just as any communication, no matter what its nature and intent, has been printed this year. By some irregular method, the administration learned of this fact and attempted to have the letter suppressed.

This the editor refused to do, contending that the article was not his to suppress. The presses of the journalism department were then ordered not to print The Daily. A similar ruling was in force yesterday.

The board of control yesterday afternoon met to discuss printing The Daily on some press other than that of the university. The final conclusion of the board was to publish The Daily temporarily, pending a settlement between the board and the university as to the degree of censorship which the university should hold over A. S. U. W. publications. For the present, under these circumstances, The Daily will print no expressions of student opinion.

To such a situation—temporarily though it be—The Daily submits, but submits protestingly. It cannot believe that repression of student opinion can result in aught but resentment and latent disloyalty. It believes that in denying students the right of free discussion, the university is turning its back on what should be its supreme ideal—the discovery of truth.

But the situation is here and must be met. Undoubtedly arrangements will be made by the board of control and the university so that the editor may know what sort of communications he may print and what he may not. Until that time The Daily will play safe and print none at all, no matter what its nature or importance.

BULL MOOSE ORGANIZE

The Bull Moose Club of the University organized yesterday afternoon in Deady Hall and outlined a campaign for the success of Progressive principles in the straw vote Wednesday.

Chairman Andrew Collier urged the necessity of carrying the election for Roosevelt. He said, "the result of the vote will have state-wide circulation through the newspapers. Voters will be influenced by the political leaning of the students. We must win out in the fight tomorrow."

Walter B. Jones, progressive candidate for state senator from Lane county, presented the tenets of the Progressive party, and furnished the members with campaign literature and buttons.

During the meeting, a congratulatory message from A. E. Clark, candidate for United States senator on the progressive ticket, was received and read.

The officers of the club are: President, Andrew Collier, secretary, Murrel Ruch, executive committee, Ralph Cake, M. E. Terpening, Vernon Motschenbacher, Chauncey Casebeer, and Elmer Lane.

EMERALD SUBSCRIBERS MUST PRODUCE COIN

Sam Michael, circulation manager of the Emerald, announced today, that delinquent Emerald subscriptions must be paid before November 5, or the Emerald service would be discontinued to the owing ones.

This measure was determined upon by the management only upon the gradually growing number of ostensible subscribers, who asked for the Emerald, but have not yet shown the proper amount of coin to satisfy the financial end of the publication.
