DRAMATIC ART AT OREGON

The staging of "The Clouds" by the class in Dramatic Interpretation is an effort well befitting the State's highest institution of learning. It is the expression of the best to be obtained in dramatic art. The public justly looks to the University for work of this type and in nowise is it to be disappointed. The works of Aristophanes have held an important place in the world's classical literature, through their appeal to human instincts, the criterion of all art.

The director is preeminently qualified through years of training and experience to produce a play in every way representative of a great University.

It remains only for the students and the townspeople to lend their support to this undertaking. With consistent backing the production of such plays as "As You Like It," and "The Clouds," can be made a regular part of the University's achievements.

SPORTING SQUIBS
By Slivers.

Securing tickets for the big Stanford-California rugby game to be played November 9, is almost impossible for the general public without friends at either college. A week before the game all tickets have been disposed of to the alumni, undergraduates and faculty of the two institutions.

As a result of the Jefferson-Washington squabble, the interscholastic athletic board, composed of the principals of the six Portland prep schools, has ruled that any player using profane language, shall be thrown out of the game, and any player disqualified on account of rowdy playing, shall be barred for the rest of the season.

Multnomah is expecting a hard game today, when they play the soldiers from Vancouver Barracks. The soldiers ought to give the club eleven a good game, as they have had several scrimmages this fall, while the winged "M" men have played but the one game, in which they defeated O. A. C.

Washington High School will play McMinnville High today as a preliminary to the Multnomah-Vancouver struggle.

The first big Eastern game of the season is scheduled for today, when Princeton meets Harvard at Cambridge. The betting yesterday was 10 to 9 in favor of Harvard, and if the Crimson should win, the victory will make the first Harvard success over the Tigers in a quarter of a century.

John Rast, '12, has been visiting at the Dorm the past week.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Laurean—The regular meeting announced for November 5, has been postponed until the following week on account of elections.

Eutaxian—Program announced for Tuesday evening will be postponed until the following week.

Track and baseball workouts are being conducted by Clarence Edmunson, a former member of the Idaho track and baseball teams.

Football—Eugene High School vs. Astoria High School, Kincaid Field, Tuesday, November 5.

Y. W. C. A.—The regular Y. W. C. A. meeting will be held at The Shack next Monday afternoon.

Eutaxian—The regular meeting will be held in Dr. Schaefer's room, Tuesday evening.

Y. M. C. A.—Regular meeting will be held in the usual meeting place, Thursday evening. Rev. Spangler, of the local Congregational Church. The last of the "Best Things in College Series."

Health Lecture—The last of the series of Health Lectures will be given by Professor Bovard, Wednesday evening. Professor Sweetser's room.

PAPER MEN MEET

District Convention of Journalists Will be Held Here—Students Must Attend.

A convention of Willamette Valley newspaper editors from all towns between Albany and Roseburg will meet in this city on Friday, November 15. Colonel Hofer, of Salem, president of the State Press Association, will preside at the meeting, which is the first of a series to be held in the various districts of the State.

The morning session of the local convention will be devoted to the business of the organization. Col. Hofer will address the afternoon session, upon the educational phase of journalism, and relate experiences from his own career as a journalist. All members of the journalism class will be required to be present at the afternoon meeting.

Friday evening, Professor Phil S. Bates, secretary of the association, will give a "Good Roads" talk at the Commercial Club, to which all visiting editors are invited. They will also have the opportunity to witness Professor Reddie's production of "The Clouds."

The visitors will be entertained at the various fraternities.

Supper served from 6 to 8 at The Shack.

Roast chicken at The Shack on Sunday evening.

Cloyd L. Dawson, ex-'15, is employed in a bank at Tillamook.

Dr. Bertha Stuart, Miss Mary Perkins, and Miss Harriet Thompson are giving a hallowe'en party at the Women's Gymnasium tonight, to faculty friends.

The 10 to 9 defeat of O. A. C. by Pullman yesterday puts a crimp in the Aggie's championship hopes. Their only chance to land the title lies in a decisive victory over the University of Washington next Saturday.

AGGIE PLAYER BARRED

Indian Half Back Withdraws When Proof is Found that he is a Professional.

PULLMAN, Wash., Nov. 1.—Emil Hauser, the big ex-Haskell and ex-Carlisle Indian football player, also ex-Harrisburg tri-state professional baseball player, has been withdrawn from further participation in Northwestern conference football upon the presentation of evidence by John R. Bender, coach of Washington State College.

Bender produced signed telegrams from George S. Heckert, manager of the Harrisburg team then, of New Now, and from Er. J. Coyle, sporting editor of the Reading league, which showed that Hauser caught several games for Harrisburg in the season of 1910. They distinctly specified that the player's first name was Emil and not Pete. O. A. C. had contended that Bender had been confusing Pete with Emil all the time.

CO-ED MARKS EXCEL

The marks received by the co-eds in the class in principles of economics average higher than those received by the men of that class, according to Professor Gilbert.

Although there are more men than women in the class, yet this fact does not lessen the credit going to the minority, as their marks have been higher than any received by the masculine element.

The stars in this aggregation are Miss Amy Rothschild, who received the only perfect mark in the last quiz, and Miss Helen Hamilton, who has the distinction of taking a course to prepare herself for a lawyer's career. Both are Sophomores in the University.

Smart Long Coats

It will be your loss, if you do not see these elegant new garments. You will find them just a little smarter in style, of better materials, and a better assortment than found elsewhere. Diagonals, boucles, cheviots, chin-chillas, and double-faced rough mixtures, also a special line of sealettes, caraculs, and broad-cloths.

...The best style authorities in America have given their decision in favor of the long coats. We are receiving new shipments of long coats almost daily, replenishing our stock as the needs demand.

Do not purchase a coat until you have at least looked over our assortment. Always glad to show you.
