DOBIE WITHOUT PEER AMONG TEACHERS OF NORTHWEST FOOTBALL

NEWSPAPER FORECASTS AS TO U. OF W. GAME REVERSED

SEATTLE TIMES BLAMES GRAD. SYSTEM

Coach Moores Disgusted—Bill Main Claims Criticisms Tend to Show Prejudice.

With the Conference Schedule practically closed, Gilmour Dobie has again won the undisputed championship of the Pacific Northwest for the University of Washington. Saturday's games decided without a doubt that Dobie has no equal, as Whitman, the only possible disputant, was eliminated by its defeat at the hands of the Oregon Agriculture College.

The result of the game was a reversal of newspaper forecasts. "The defeat of my team was due to the condition of the field and the luck of O. A. C.," said Coach Archie Hahn, of Whitman. "On a dry field we could defeat O. A. C. without difficulty." Regardless of the fact that the Aggies made two of their touchdowns on intercepted forward passes and the third on a fumble, it is evident that they have a wonderful fighting team, and a team in a class by itself, when it comes to playing in the mud.

Forward Pass Effective.

Washington's victory over Oregon was expected. For three quarters Oregon was outplayed in every department of the game. In the last quarter the weakness of the Gem State team was found and Oregon scored two touchdowns by use of the forward pass, running up a score of fourteen points, which is the largest score that has been tallied against Dobie's team in the last four years.

Oregon Coaches Scored.

The Seattle Times, in commenting upon the game, says: "Give Dobie a bunch of men like Oregon sent here yesterday, and there would be no catching him. The graduate coach system inaugurated at Oregon this year has produced no results worth while, for it is admitted on every hand that Oregon has as fine material this year as that university ever had, yet it has won only one game, defeating Idaho 3 to 0. The excuse was made that the stars were kept out of the fray by injuries and conditions. Well, they were all on the battle line yesterday and showed that they had been coached in the fundamentals of football. Oregon was badly licked yesterday because the coaches did not get the most out of the team."

Three Man Team Beaten.

The Seattle P.-I. also finds fault with the Oregon team. "Washington won the game, and in so doing beat a three man team composed of Bailey, Cornell, and Fenon. The rest of the Oregon outfit was among those present."

In an interview yesterday, Assistant Coach Moores said, "Personally those articles worry me sick. I'm so afraid they will import Eastern coaches next year and spoil our old soldier's home, that I won't be able to sleep nights."

However, Moores was forced to smile before he could turn away. It is well known that Moores does not care to have anything to do with football after this year.

Squad Hurt by Posts.

"I do not doubt but that Dobie could turn out a championship team with our material, for he is a wonderful coach," said Assistant Coach William Main. "But the Seattle papers are prejudiced. I do not think that the graduate system should be judged by the results of a single year. We

OWNERSHIP OF BASKETBALL CUP STILL UNDETERMINED

Kappa Alpha Theta Team Heads List —Beth Reah Also Possesses Clean Slate.

The tabulated score for the inter-sorority basketball series so far this season gives the standings as follows:

Team.	Won.	Lost.
Kappa Alpha Theta.....	2	0
Beth Reah.....	1	0
Lambda Rho.....	1	1
Oregon Club.....	0	1
Gamma Phi Beta.....	0	1
Gamma Phi Beta.....	0	2

The Hayward cup, which is the trophy for this series, is awarded to the team winning the largest number of games, two defeats eliminating a team from further play. The Gamma Delta Gamma team is the only one which has not yet played any games. Chi Omega and Delta Delta Delta have not entered the league this year.

"CLOUDS" PROCEEDS AMOUNT TO $87.55

Production Will Not Be Taken to Portland—460 See the Performance.

According to the report of Manager Walter Dimm, of the "Clouds," the Associated Student Body Treasury has been enriched to the extent of $87.55, which was the financial outcome of the student production.

There was some talk of taking the play to Portland during the Thanksgiving vacation, but it was thought best to take a more modern play production than this Greek comedy.

Following is a complete financial statement prepared by Manager Dimm:

"CHRISTIANITY NOT A CREED" SAYS DR. E. S. CONKLIN

"Christianity is a character rather than a creed," said Dr. E. S. Conklin in his lecture Monday to the members of the Y. W. C. A. at their regular meeting at the Shack.

Our characters are nothing more or less than the sum of our habits. Neither become a slave to them nor so disregard them that they will not carry you through a decision. The most important thing to be gained from our college life is thought habits based on some ideal sufficiently high, which we have in the Founder of all Christianity.

The meeting was led by Miss Ruth Beach. Miss Mildred Wilson began the program with a vocal solo.

General Secretary Charles Koyl, of the University Y. M. C. A., will go to Albany Thursday in conference with the student secretaries of Oregon colleges.

have had a poor schedule this year. The Whitman game should have been played at a later date. Besides, the posts have hit us hard."

Head Coach Louis Pinkham said, "It is not my place to defend this system. It is up to the students of the University."

ARRANGEMENTS DEFINITELY MADE FOR GAME WITH AGRICULTURAL TEAM IN ALBANY

AGGIE STUDENTS RATIFY ATHLETIC THE BOARD'S TENTATIVE AGREEMENT—CONTRACT SIGNED BY COLLEGE REPRESENTATIVES LAST NIGHT IS FIRST IN TWO YEARS

ALBANY, Ore., Nov. 19.—(Special to the Emerald.)—The contract for the Oregon-O. A. C. football game, to be played in Albany on Saturday, was signed last night by Oregon's manager, Arthur Geary, and the Agricultural college student manager, Bert Pilkington, after a conference in the Hotel Revere between the managers, Albert Tiffany, Oregon's student treasurer, E. J. Stewart, O. A. C. athletic director, Coach Dolan of Corvallis, and William Eagles, representing the Albany merchants. The contract makes no reference to any future games and merely makes positive the playing of the game in Albany this week. The Albany merchants agree to build without cost to either team bleachers to seat 10,000 persons. The total gate receipts will be divided equally between Oregon and Corvallis. The admission to this game has been fixed at $1.50, including a seat in the bleachers, and 75 cents for students of either college.

Albany will be the scene of the Oregon-O. A. C. football game to be played on Saturday, November 23. This fact was decided yesterday when the Athletic Councils of both colleges gave their respective consent. This game will definitely settle the football championship of Oregon.

Several weeks ago, Albany business men, represented by William Eagles of that city, sought to break the deadlock existing between the two colleges over the selection of a location. Last Saturday the Corvallis authorities intimated that they would consent to a game on November 23, if Oregon would agree to play at Albany.

Consequently, to make possible an acceptance of any formal proposition from Corvallis, the Oregon Athletic Council yesterday hurriedly called a session in the office of President Campbell, and put itself upon record as favoring the campus game and offered to play the Agricultural College either in Eugene or Corvallis. Realizing, however, the importance of establishing friendly relations between the State Colleges, they decided to permit the staging of the game in Albany as a last resort.

A meeting of the O. A. C. student body was called in the morning to take place at noon, but when this did not materialize, the athletic council of that institution met and formally made the proposition to Oregon to play the game. This was immediately made known to Oregon by long distance phone and accepted by Manager Geary. The Corvallis Athletic Council however placed a string upon their proposition, declaring that the Student Body Association, which met in the afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The students voted unanimously for the resolution. Dr. E. J. Stewart at once notified Eugene, saying: "Everything is satisfactory here and we expect to go right ahead. We will meet Mr. Geary in Albany this evening and make final arrangements."

Oregon's Stand Consistent.

Oregon's position in regard to this game is purely from a standpoint which looks to friendly relations between the two state colleges. During the past two months Oregon has made every concession within its power to secure this game. In the face of a generally predicted defeat has Oregon been willing to play the Agricultural College. But these concessions have been ignored, and each time Corvallis has asked for more, until at last all hopes of the game were given up. The work of Gordon Moores and others from the University, who were in Corvallis Saturday, is largely responsible for this final proposition.

Great Crowd Expected.

This game will undoubtedly draw one of the largest football crowds ever assembled in Oregon outside of Portland. Rates will be given from all parts of the state on all railroads and the long continued quarrel between the colleges give added interest to the event.

And again, in spite of the comparative scores, many believe that this game will be very close.

Coach Dobie stated Saturday, that there can be no comparison between the Corvallis and Eugene teams over the respective scores with Washington because, as he declares, the game in Portland was more water polo than football. The defeat of Whitman by the Aggies last Saturday is declared by many to have been due largely to the muddy condition of one side of the field.

MISS GUPPY DISLIKES USE OF WORD CO-ED AT OREGON

Derivation of Term Gives Savor of Disrespect, Says Dean of Women.

The term "co-ed," so widely used at the University of Oregon, has incurred the displeasure of Miss Ruth Guppy, who finds in the original use of the word, a disrespect and lack of courtesy toward the college women, incompatible with the harmonious relations existing at present between the men and women at Oregon.

Miss Guppy gives the following information on the subject: "The word 'co-ed,' when first used in the Universities of the Middle West, was given as a term of derision. A 'co-ed' was a girl very pronounced in style. She adopted masculine customs and ways and was regarded, generally, by her associates as harmful to the best interests of the women students." Miss Guppy also stated that she would call college women, "college women."

EMERALD EXTRA MEETS WITH GENERAL FAVOR

Professors and Students Like Idea— Manager Collier Discovers Four Bit Deficit.

For the first time in the history of the University the college paper, the Emerald, got out an extra edition yesterday afternoon on account of the O. A. C. game. Although it was not until 2:30 in the afternoon that the editors decided that developments were far enough along to warrant the publication, the edition reached the fraternity houses before 6 o'clock.

The extra caused favorable comment on the campus this morning. "Well, I declare," said Professor Allen, "this is pretty good." "It shows a lot of enterprise," said Professor Joseph Schafer, as he picked up an issue of the Emerald extra. "It is a bear," said Mason Roberts, sporting editor of the Emerald, and Charles Koyl, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., expressed his feelings with "Pretty good, pretty good."

"I tell you, I was pretty proud of the staff," said Co-ed Sporting Editor Nellie Hemenway, "I should say I was." "Yes, I bought one down town last evening," said Mrs. Parsons, of the English department. "It was good, and it certainly showed enterprise."

"That's fine, that is the real thing," said Woo Sun, and he expressed the general sentiment in regard to the first Emerald extra.

However, Manager Collier thought differently. "That was the first one that we have lost money on," he said, "and I hate to break the record. We went behind fifty cents on the issue."

SOPHS PLAN NEW LIGHTING EFFECTS FOR ANNUAL DANCE

The Sophomore dance committee, consisting of Jessup Strang, Hazel Barta, Amy Rothechild, Helen Hamilton, Hazel Tooze, Clark Hawley, and Ben Dorris, met Wednesday morning in Professor Schmidt's room, and set December 14 as the date for their annual hop.

The Sophomores have decided to get out of the regular rut and routine of class dances and present something new along all lines.

The feature of the dance is going to be the new and original lighting effects. There has been nothing definitely decided so far, except that the moonlights will be the specialties.

Amy Rothchild will leave for Portland Friday, where she will make arrangements with the florists for the decorations. Mr. Arthur Hendershott has sent East for some new music, which he has promised to save for this occasion.

COACHES AND PLAYERS DESIRE GAME DESPITE BATTERED CONDITION

WALKER SAYS GAME WILL SHOW UNIVERSITY'S GOOD FAITH

BILL HAS NO HOPES FOR VICTORY

Hall, Bradshaw, and Bailey Are Laid Up With Injuries Received at Seattle.

"Our chances are good," says Coach Pinkham. "The team is rather badly battered after the hard Washington game, but if we have a dry field, I think we can hold them down."

Captain Dean Walker expressed the real spirit on the campus when he said: "If I knew we should be beaten, I should say 'play the game.' The team has travelled 2,300 miles this season and has just played a hard game. Three men are out with injuries. The odds are against us. But we have beaten O. A. C. against odds before this and I believe that we can do it again."

Hayward Pessimistic.

Bill Hayward, Oregon's veteran trainer, was less hopeful, but just as positive, that the Oregon men will fight the game to the last ditch. Said Bill, "I don't say that we can beat them, but I do say, that whether we beat them or whether we don't, we should play the game. I should rather see the game played at Corvallis or at Eugene than at Albany, but much rather at Albany than not at all."

"The team is badly battered after the hard Washington game. Bailey is crippled with a charley horse and a badly sprained ankle. Bradshaw has a cracked rib and will probably be out. Hall's shoulder is out of commission again. The hard ground of Denny field played havoc with the team."

Team at Great Disadvantage.

"The fact, that we have been up in the air so long in regard to the game, has also counted against us. The team was trained up to play the Washington game as the climax of the season. Now, at the last minute, we get this game. It means that we shall have to build up the team all over again within a week."

"But you may say that we will play that game, if we have to put in the second team to do it."

TIFFANY EXPECTS BIG REGISTRATION

The prospects for a substantial enrollment increase next semester are good according to Registrar Tiffany. He says that there is nothing definite to be ascertained, but the average second semester registration is expected, which ranges from 30 to 50 students. There have been a number of letters received, enclosing credentials which indicates an expected attendance of students.

Engineer's Dance Is Arranged.

The Engineering Club dance committee reports that the plans for the dance in the Gymnasium on December 7, are well under way. A number of features are to be introduced to vary the usual dancing program.

Engineer's Meet.

The Engineering Club holds its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, in Professor Dunn's room, Deady Hall. Mr. Harding, who has charge of the Oregon Electric works in Eugene, will address the club.

EDGAR M. PIPER IS ASSEMBLY SPEAKER

Appearance of Oregonian Editor Signals Formal Opening of Journal- ism Courses.

Edgar M. Piper, managing editor of the Morning Oregonian, will address the University students at the regular assembly hour Wednesday morning, at the formal opening of the journalism department at the University. He will be the first of a number of speakers, who will appear before the news students this year, and will address not only the general assembly, but will give a separate talk to those registered in Professor Allen's courses.

Accompanying Mr. Piper on his trip to Eugene are Mrs. Piper, Erastus Brainard, formerly managing editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and Miss Mary Brainard, daughter of the ex-editor.

The party will stop at the Osborne during their stay in town, and Mr. Piper will attend a dinner given by the Eugene Commercial Club Wednesday night.

SENIORS WILL STAGE LIVE COLLEGE PLAY

April 5, Date Secured at Eugene Theatre—Dramatic Club now Plans "Dombey and Son."

April 5 has been engaged at the Eugene Opera house by the Seniors for their play. The committee has not decided upon the exact production to be put on the boards, but will have a meeting Monday and think it can be definitely decided then. Earnest Lamb, who is in charge of the preparations, says, "Although we do not know just what the play will be, it is going to be a good live one, of the college variety, ranking with the 'College Widow' and 'Just Out of College.'"

The Dramatic Club will hold first practice Wednesday for "Dombey and Son," which is to be presented in the Eugene Theatre December 6.

The Daily Californian states that a fossil skull 100,000 years old has been uncovered by the University of California excavators at La Brea.
