The above table is an outline of the Oregon Agriculture College-University of Oregon football history. Since the first game in 1894, the teams have met fifteen times. Oregon has won ten games, tied two and lost three and has scored 185 points to 55 for O. A. C.

Twentieth Century Games Hard Fought

Since 1902, the games have been extremely hard fought and have furnished some of the most dramatic incidents in Western football. The game of 1902, the first for three years, was scoreless. The game in 1903 would have been the same, but Chandler fell on a fumble on Oregon's one yard line and made the touchdown possible.

In 1904, Oregon won by a single point with credit to Joe Templeton for his accurate kicking. The feature of the game was a 105 yard run by Dow Walker. The big center picked up a fumble and raced across the field, saving his team from a shut out.

Oregon Reverses Football Dope

In 1905, O. A. C. brought over a team of husky veterans and it looked like an easy victory for them. The betting was three to one. Early in the first half, Gordon Moores got away for the only touchdown of the day by receiving an on-side kick, winning the game for Oregon.

GRIDIRON CAREERS OF THE VARSITY ELEVEN ARE REVIEWED ON THE EVE OF THEIR GREATEST STRUGGLE

(By Tommie Boylen.)

Oregon's football team is unique in that it is a made-in-Oregon team. Only one of the men, Robert Fariss, has had college experience before coming here, and he is a Eugene boy. The remaining have all received their experience at the hands of Oregon trainers, or perhaps, to a certain extent in Northwest high schools. Portland is far in the lead in Varsity material.

This is Captain Walker's fourth year on the team. Walker played his

BOB FARISS

"I think we will win because Oregon is going to fight to the last ditch."

JOE JONES

"I wouldn't be surprised to see the score break either way. It will be a hard fight."

Kappa Alpha Theta held its annual initiation last evening, which was followed by a banquet at the Osburn Hotel. Those initiated were Marguerite Rankin, '14, Edith Rogers, '15, Helen Hamilton, '15, Charlie Fenton, '16, Margaret Montague, '16, Helen Driver, '16, Katherine Watson, '16, Myrtle Gram, '16, Virginia Peterson, '16, Lora Taylor, '16, Palm Cowden, '16.

HEAD COACH LOUIS PINKHAM

"From watching O. A. C. in former games, I cannot see where they have it over on us. Although they have played one good game, they have played several poor ones. I think that we excel O. A. C. in several departments of the game, and we may spring a surprise on them today. Taking everything into consideration, I will not say we will win, but in all events we will give a good account of ourselves."

TOCSIN OF VICTORY IS SOUNDED BY RIVALS WHO CLASH TODAY IN THE LONG SOUGHT GAME

ALTHOUGH ALL DOPE IS AGAINST OREGON'S TEAM, THE LEMON YELLOW WILL ENTER THE STRUGGLE WITH GRIM DETERMINATION. A DRY FIELD MAY BE THE CAUSE OF VICTORY FOR OREGON

(By Jimmie Roberts.)

Coaches Pinkham and Dolan have applied the finishing touches to their warriors and the despaired of game with O. A. C. is only a few hours distant. The game of the year, as far as Oregon is concerned, has become a reality after months of argument and wrangling. The rival coaches have spent the past week trying to out-Dobie each other with injured men stories, but both have managed to get their first line-up ready for the whistle and the public is not looking forward to a battle of invalids.

The feeling on the Oregon campus is one of hope and determination. The Aggie Student Body sends out waves of enthusiasm and confidence. O. A. C. has the best team they have had in four years, and their showing against Washington and the recent blasting they gave to Whitman's claim to the championship has left them confident of defeating the University today.

According to comparative scores, which do not amount to the paper they are written on, O. A. C. has an advantage of about twenty-five points over Oregon. A comparison of the games of both teams with W. S. C. this fall gives O. A. C. a slight edge and the games with Whitman gives them a lead over the lemon yellow. Both the Whitman and W. S. C. games Oregon played early in the season, before the coaches had time to develop any sort of team work.

The showing of the Aggies against Washington can not be taken as any too reliable an indication of their strength. The best team is generally handicapped greatest on a muddy field. O. A. C. managed to hold Bezdick's team in 1906 on a field that was ankle deep with mud, and there is little doubt that it would have been an Oregon victory by a good margin on a dry field.

One reassuring fact remains. O. A. C. never had an Oregon team beaten until the last whistle blew. The team has a chance to hold them even, and a bare chance of making it fifteen victories against two defeats in the last twenty years. The Varsity, in spite of its crippled condition, is going on the field in Albany today to win, and if history repeats itself we are going to have a joyous evening.

CAPTAIN DEAN WALKER

"All that I ask is that the Oregon men play as well as they are capable of playing, and I will be satisfied."

CARL FENTON

DATES ARE GRANTED BY STUDENT COMMITTEE

The Student Affairs Committee, at their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in Villard Hall, granted several dates for student affairs. The list includes a Dorm Club dance, December 13. The Sophomore dance was scheduled for December 14. Deember 7 was given to Phi Gamma Delta and Lambda Rho for house dances.

The Phi Delta Theta date for the Glee Club dance was re-granted for January 10.

Professor E. S. Conklin and Professor R. H. Dearborn were dinner guests Sunday at the Avava house.

EDWARD BAILEY

"We have won from O. A. C. in former years with the dope against us, and I think we can do it again."

"BOB" BRADSHAW

"The dope is all against us, but I believe that Oregon will have the long end when the score is counted."

Phi Gamma Delta entertained with an informal dance in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. C. Kellogg, of Seattle. Other guests were Edith Slusher, Maude Mastick, Myrtle Gram, Marguerite Sheehy, Grace Bean, Catherine Stanfield, Helen Calk, Florence Bonnell, Ethel Tooze, Mildred Gerig, Arvilla Beckwith, Hazel Tooze, Grace McKenzie and Gretchen Sherwood.

COACH DOLAN, O. A. C.

Coach Dolan is an Albany man. He has lived in this city since a boy and Albany is proud of him as a football coach. The Hub City, to a man, will stand behind O. A. C. largely on this account.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Miss Hazel Foster, ex-14, to Mr. William Cottrell. The wedding will take place in Portland November 27, at the Taylor Street Methodist church. Miss Foster will be attended by her sister and a number of the Delta Delta girls. Faye Ball will play the wedding march, and Ethel Risley will sing. The newlyweds will make their home in Colorado, near Boulder.

Miss Elice Shearer has gone to Portland for a few days.

1500 ROOTERS LEAVE AT 12:40 FOR ALBANY IN BLAZE OF COLOR

OREGON SPIRIT PREDOMINATES AND ENTHUSIASM IS INTENSE

ROOTERS PLAN DEMONSTRATION AT GAME

Blackman's Cohorts Will Give Great War Dance on Field Between Halves.

The special train of twelve coaches, containing 1,500 students and Eugene people leaves the Southern Pacific depot at 12:30 this morning, for Albany. Abe Blackman urges every loyal Oregon student to be aboard. The Southern Pacific train will be gaily decorated with the lemon and yellow color; flags, pennants, and bunting will fly from every window. Even the engine will bear the glorious colors, and the appearance of the whole train will be in perfect harmony with the spirit of the excited student throngs which fill it.

Seniors Will Carry "O." Upon arriving in Albany, Blackman will assemble his rooter cohorts in battle array and, preceded by the famous "Boola" band and the yellow "O," borne by twelve proud Seniors, will march to the scene of action. There they will be joined by the veteran yell leader, Charles W. Robinson, with his following of a hundred law students from Portland, who arrive earlier in the day.

Bleachers Built for 8,000. The center section of the bleachers on the north side of the field, has been reserved for the Eugene rooters. The Aggies will occupy the south bleachers. The Co-eds of the two institutions will be seated in the grandstand. Special boxes have been prepared for Governor West and the several state officials, expected to be present, and for President Campbell, President Kerr, and the two boards of regents. The bleachers that have been erected by the Albany Commercial Club extend down both sides of the field and will seat 8,000 people. There is little danger of lack of accommodation for the crowd. Blackman Will Conduct War Dance. Between halves, each school will have exclusive use of the field for seven minutes to stage the special stunts which both will spring. According to the announcement made by Abe Blackman at last night's rally, the Oregon rooters will "pee-rade" onto the field, form a circle and execute an Indian war dance, to the accompaniment of "tom-tom music" by the band.

The special train will return at 5:15, so it will be necessary for everyone to go immediately to the depot after the game, if they wish to get aboard.

LOTS OF PIP SHOWN AT LAST NIGHT'S RALLY. COACHES AND FRIENDLY PREDICT VICTORY

(By Clarence Ash.)

They came, they ate doughnuts, talked like the dickens, whooped, yelled, and came to the conclusion that Oregon has it over the Agricultural College seven different ways from Sunday.

Last night the band and Yell Leader Abe Blackman led the rooters down town for a serpentine and a short rooting practice. On the return to the Men's Gymnasium the fireworks commenced. Regent Sam Friendly said: "We're with you tomorrow in Albany, and we want you to dig, dig, dig, to win."

"Stand back of your team," said President Campbell, "with the old Oregon spirit that never says die. Keep your temper—there will be many outsiders ready to cause trouble—show the Oregon Agricultural College that we are gentlemen, and may the best team win." (Voice in the rear: "Preferably Oregon.")

Coach Pinkham had plenty of hope for tomorrow, for "we have a team Continued on page 3.
