the team in his freshman year. This is his second experience against the Aggies, as he figured prominently in the game of 1910.

From the eastern part of the state comes Elmer Hall, Baker City's star fullback for four years. This is Hall's third year on the team, and his second adventure with the Orange and Black.

Robert Bradshaw is the combined product of The Dalles and Eugene High Schools, having played three years on the former and one on the latter. Bradshaw made a wide reputation for himself last year when he outplayed right end Sutton in the Washington game at Portland.

Last year Robert Fariss came down from Pullman and was successful in landing a place on the Varsity. His experience consists of three years on Pullman High School and one year on the Washington State College team.

Of the old college men who are playing for the first season are Wallace Caulfield and Alva Grout. Caulfield played for two years on Lincoln High School, of Portland, but Grout is without any prep enlightenment of the college game.

Johnny Parsons came to Oregon with a variety of teachings, having spent a year each on Salem High, Lincoln High of Seattle, and Washington High of Portland. In both Seattle and Portland he was honored with all star selection for halfback on the all-scholastic teams.

Anson Cornell hails from Washington High School. He played for the East Siders four years, and landed the All-Portland selection for his position for the last three years.

Samuel Cook is a native of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and played fullback on that high school team for two years, this being the total of his football career.

William Holden and Lester Soden are both "All Star" men from Portland. Holden played a year for both Hill's Military Academy and Washington High, while Soden played guard for Portland Academy for four years, being captain of that team last year.

Washington High is again represented by Joe Jones and Fred Anunson, while Paul Briedwell comes from Amity without football experience. William Hausner played fullback for the Casavilla School, of New York, for two years before coming to Oregon.

LOTS OF PIP SHOWN IN LAST NIGHT'S RALLY

that were not ashamed of, and they always fight."

Captain Dean Walker claimed that "we've got to win," and everybody seemed to agree with him. Gordon Moores, Bill Main, George Hug and Eberle Kuykendall exhorted every student to be in Albany tomorrow and to loyally support the team with good, systematic rooting.

A telegram from Manager Geary stated that the winning school at the end of the first half should have the field seven minutes for celebrating. If a tie, to be decided by the flip of a coin.

Abe Blackman, while the cider and doughnuts were being served, outlined the new stunts to be executed between halves. Oregon Agricultural College expects to exhibit some military "tactics." We can't drill, but we can make noise. There is going to be dynamite—lots of it—then the "Siren Yell" and an Indian war dance, ending with a rush to the grand stand.

The costumes in the parade were good. Indians ran riot (almost), but everyone felt safe when Captain Brownell and the men of Company Z appeared. James Donald, in a barrel, won the ticket prize.

In conclusion, the two boxing matches between McConnel and Martzloff, welterweights, and Miller and Dobie, lightweights, were fast. Referee "Ed. Graimey" Roberts declared them both a draw.

CO-EDS EXPRESS DESIRE TO SEE AGGIE GAME

"Indeed I am going," was the answer nearly every girl gave when asked if she was going to the football game at Albany Saturday. "I'd do my own washing for the rest of the year, before I'd stay at home," said one co-ed yesterday. "Going to Albany? Well, I should say. I went to Corvallis two years ago, and had the time of my life, and wouldn't miss this game for anything." These sentiments were expressed, more or less strongly, by a majority of the college women.

The following number from the different houses said that they were going to the game:

Kappa Alpha Theta	10
Delta Delta Delta	14
Gamma Phi Beta	14
Chi Omega	12
Mu Phi Epsilon	3
Lambda Rho	10
Beth Reah	15
Mary Spiller House	6

Miss Florence Cleveland is spending the week end in Portland.

THANKSGIVING WILL BE THEME OF Y. W. MEETING

Miss Mary Perkins will be special speaker at the regular Y. W. C. A. meeting, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Shack.

Thanksgiving will be the theme of the principal talk and of the meeting.

Preparations are rapidly being made for the Annual Bazaar at the Presbyterian Church, December 6. The Advisory Board is co-operating this year with the Association in the effort to swell the Bungalow Fund through the proceeds of the fair.

Miss Fielda McClaine, of Silverton, has been visiting her sister, Eleanor, at Kappa Alpha Theta, for a few days. She will go to Albany to see the game between Oregon and O. A. C.

The engagement of Maude Service, '09, and Arthur Fred Kerr, '09, of Roseburg, has been announced. The wedding will take place next month.

THANKSGIVING IS THEME OF EUTAXIAN MEETING

Thanksgiving will be the theme of the next meeting of the Eutaxian Literary Society, which will be held at the Gamma Phi Beta house next Tuesday evening. The meeting will be social in its nature.

The program will open with a song by Mildred Wilson. Ruth Beach will tell of the Origin of Thanksgiving, while "Thanksgiving as It Is in Other Countries," will be Eleanor McClain's topic. A recitation by Norma Dobie, and a piano solo by Agnes Elliot will conclude the program.

PREJUDICE IS DEFINED BY PROFESSOR CONKLIN

"Prejudice is the characteristic of anyone who does not agree with us" was the keynote of Dr. E. S. Conklin's lecture before the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening.

"The value of prejudice," he said, "is in conserving previous knowledge and in giving us a ready method of

ERIC W. ALLEN GOES TO PORTLAND ON BUSINESS

Professor E. W. Allen left last evening for Portland on business connected with his department.

While in Portland, Professor Allen will arrange with Miss Leone Cass Baer, of the Oregonian, to speak to his first year class in journalism sometime during next month. This is in pursuance of his policy to obtain outside speakers for his work.

Elbert Bede, of the Cottage Grove Sentinel, has already consented to appear before the students in the near future.

While in Portland, Mr. Allen intends to arrange, if possible, to obtain a mail Associated Press service, similar to that of the United Press, upon which is second year class work. It may be possible in addition to arrange for an "A-P" wire service for the Emerald.

Mrs. J. H. Gilbert entertained Miss Bonisteel, Mrs. Cuyler, Mrs. W. Kuykendall and Mrs. Shaver at luncheon Wednesday.
